HE LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

Young Szelescki, Protégé of Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Editor of Commonwealth, Turned Out to be a Burglar.

Boston, March 22.—A Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde episode in real life has come to light through the capture of Chas. Szelescki, a protégé of the Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale. He also has wealthy relatives in New York.

While writing book reviews and editorial articles for the Commonwealth, Dr. Hale's publication, he has, in the last few days, committed burglaries in more than 50 flats and residences in the fashionable Back Bay.

He was caught last night just as he was leaving the pawnshop of Louis Einstein, 21 Pleasant-street, where he went to dispose of stolen silverware. At the station house he confessed.

The amount of his plunder reaches well into the thousands. Some of it has been recovered. He has done all the stealing in two months. He came from Poland when a mere boy, was educated in New York, where he attended college, and came from there to this city a year ago.

It was not long before he wandered into Dr. Hale's office at 3 Hamilton-place, in search of a new place to work. He took a fancy to him at once and set him to work in the office.

He gradually worked along into higher positions. He could write very well. He had gained the friendship of the literary editor of the Commonwealth, and soon had some books to review. He did the work, and several of his reviews had appeared in the Commonwealth under his signature.

He remained there until three months ago, when Dr. Hale secured for him another position, because he could not increase his salary, as requested. He remained in the new place six weeks, and has had no regular work since, although he continued to write for the Commonwealth.

For the last two months the Back Bay district has been systematically worked by an unknown burglar. The police could not discover the slightest clue until ten days ago, when they found some of the plunder in a inside shop. They stamped there for ten days, and last night Szelescki came in with a package and was arrested with his signature attached.

HOW GEN. BOOTH VIEWS IT

HE THINKS BALLINGTON IS NOT QUITE HIMSELF.

Army Headquarters in London Certain That the Dispute Will be Arranged—The Defection of Very Painful—Changing the Name of the Volunteers—The Dress Episode.

New York, March 22.—The World's London special says: Branwell Booth did not sail Saturday for New York, and had been stated it was his intention to do; nor has General Booth any present purpose of going.

The Salvation Army headquarters at the general secretary that they are anxiously awaiting the result of the reconciliation with Ballington Booth, the secretary said: "Oh, dear, yes, we are certain that the dispute will be arranged. In fact, there's a great deal of mystery about Ballington Booth's action. His family and friends cannot understand it, as hitherto he has been most affectionate and obedient to the behests of the General. We are beginning to think that he has been overworked, and that, suffering from the effects of the strain, he, perhaps, has not been strictly accountable for his actions. We feel sure that on reflection he will return to the ranks of the Salvation Army."

Is Ballington Off in His Head? Much amused comment is excited here by the report cabled from New York of the discussion between General Booth and Ballington Booth, the secretary said: "Oh, dear, yes, we are certain that the dispute will be arranged. In fact, there's a great deal of mystery about Ballington Booth's action. His family and friends cannot understand it, as hitherto he has been most affectionate and obedient to the behests of the General. We are beginning to think that he has been overworked, and that, suffering from the effects of the strain, he, perhaps, has not been strictly accountable for his actions. We feel sure that on reflection he will return to the ranks of the Salvation Army."

Is not your simple costume," was asked, "one of the distinctive marks of the Army, to symbolize its unworldly character?" "Yes," the secretary answered, "that is so, and if the cabled statement be true that a change in that respect has been resolved by Ballington, it is quite inexplicable to us."

The World's representative gathered from the secretary's manner that Ballington Booth's defection is a very painful subject with the Army chiefs. There was an evident determination to say nothing that could lessen the chance of reconciliation.

Ballington's New Army. New York, March 22.—There has been a change in the name of Ballington Booth's new army. "God" and "America" have been eliminated from the title.

This happened between two days. On Thursday night upon the various doors which are invariably "closed," and upon the one by which visitors may enter the room in which Major Fetsch Glen guards the approach to the offices of Mr. and Mrs. Booth, was emblazoned in the intricate legend, "God's American Volunteers." These same doors yesterday showed only this label, "The Volunteers." The sign painter had been there, like the Scriptures "like in the night," and with his brush had caused patriotism and providence to vanish from those portals. Like the morning cloud and the early dew.

The women's dress. Another change in the plans is also announced. It concerns the women's dress. Two days ago all arrangements were made for the Salvationists to go clad in brown garb, like sober little "Jennie Wrens." But a newspaper suggestion that the new uniform would be becoming to the blondes, set the dark-haired ones thinking very seriously that the one opportunity of their lives to secure a becoming frock was being let slip. The result is that Mrs. Booth has been appealed to, and has "reconsidered," and the fair Commanders yesterday recalled the order for brown gowns and bonnets, and the rolls of russet cloth back to the wardrobe, and pretty nearly decided to order from a set of samples of "cadet blue." This color will set off both dark and fair complexion admirably.

If it is finally settled upon, the bonnets will have to be of white straw for summer, which will lend the uniformly pleasing air of lightness and coolness entirely unknown to their former black coalsuit headpieces.

Salvationists in Australia always wear white pokes, as more suited to the warm climate," said an officer in reference to the matter; "and in Canada in the cold season they wear furbats. I see no reason why there should be a modification to suit the temperate zone and tastes in this section. Naming the paper seems to be the only thing in the way of getting the new uniform adopted on its feet very shortly. Ballington Booth cannot decide what to call it, and yesterday implored his visitors to give him suggestions."

A SERIOUS LABOR RIOT. Unionists and Non-Unionists Came Into Fatal Collision at Indianapolis. Indianapolis, March 21.—A serious labor riot between unionists and non-unionists who had taken their places in the Indianapolis, Ind., street, was broken up by police. The riot was broken up by police. The riot was broken up by police.

Monte Cristo Brunnen. The baths at the Hotel del Monte, Preston Springs, are open to guests the year round. No drug yet known to man is capable of so soon exciting a favorable change on the human system, or of giving one and vigor as results from the use of the water from Monte Cristo, Brunnen, which comes clear and sparkling fresh from the laboratory of Him who does all things well, and is now used entirely at the Hotel del Monte.

DERIVISHES ARE WELL ARMED.

They are Now Able to Deliver a Deadly Fire and Use European Tactics.

London, March 21.—A correspondent of The Army and Navy Gazette states that the Derivishes are now able to deliver a deadly rifle fire. They will combine European tactics with the formidable onsets of cavalry and spearmen in the old style. The correspondent declares that the British tactics of forming squares and awaiting the shock of battle is not to now in fighting the Derivishes and if they are followed it will result in rout and ruin.

The consensus of military opinion is that if a reconquest of the Sudan is intended a picked force of British and Indian troops 20,000 strong will be necessary.

It is no wonder that the British Government is reticent regarding the details and ultimate aim of the expedition. Even with a solid Parliamentary majority the Cabinet does not dare in the meantime to avow the opinion of the country on the great enterprise, which is certain to ultimately involve large expenditures and heavy taxation. Until Parliament rises in August Lord Salisbury will not disclose the game that the Government is playing.

The Belgian Congo Free State expedition under the command of Baron D'Amberg attacks the opinion of the Upper Nile simultaneously with the Anglo-Egyptian attack upon those of the Lower Nile. The French press depicts such an expedition, but the semi-official Ettoile Belge confirms the report made by the United Press last Saturday that such an expedition had been formed and that with the consent of the British Government a force of Hussars had been recruited for it at Lagos.

General Leopold will shortly come to London to conclude the arrangements for the advance of this expedition to the Nile. Baron D'Amberg, a force of 10,000 men, is now near Bahr-el-Ghazal. He has with him a number of Maxim and Krupp guns.
