BEATTY-GOODERHAM.

Cathedral Yesterday That Set Torontonians All Agog.

over any bar in the world We have blaying a most important part in the day's drama.

Besides the large number of invitations sent out to attend the Beatty-Gooderham wedding in St. James' Cathedral yesterday, hundreds of tickets were issued to admit to the church ceremony merely. Those thus supplied attended early, and the half hour which otherwise would have been a tedious time was beguiled with organ music.

Dr. Stocks Hammond, the organist and choirmaster of St. James', rendered the following varied program, charming those who listened: Offertoire in F, Wely; "With Verdure Clad" (Creation), Haydn; march, Nuptiale, A. Guilmant; Benediction Nuptiale, Mailly; "A Royal Procession," Spinney; march, "Triomphale," Stocks Hammond, and a new organ suite in F by Oliver King.

The organ numbers, rendered by a master, were followed by the familiar processional hymn, "The voice that breathed o'er Eden."

As the bride appeared, leaning upon the arm of her father, Mr. George Gooderham, the bridal chorus, "Faithful and True," from Wagner's opera, 30 "Lohengrin," greeted the bridal procession. The chorus, given for the first time in Toronto, was grandly sung by the large choir, making the old arches ring. The responses were sung to Tallis in G.

The bride's attendants were: Misses Violet and Alleen Gooderham, Miss Maude Beatty and Miss Lillian Philips.

Mr. W. H. Beatty, the groom, was assisted by Mr. Louis McMurey as assisted by Mr. Louis McMurey and cannot be attended arity and dangerous wound.

To Amalgamate I.O.G.T. Lodges. It has long been considered desirable in LO.G.T. circles to further the interests of the order by amalgamating a number of the subordinate lodges. Fifty Years Ago.

This is the cradle in which there grew That thought of a philanthropic brain; A remedy that would make life new For the multitudes that were racked with pain. Twas sarsaparilla, as made, you know By Ayer, some 50 years ago.

was in its infancy half a century ago. To-day it doth "bestride the narrow world like a colossus." What is the secret of its power? Its cures! The number of them! The wonder of them! Imitators have followed it from the beginning of its success. They are still behind it. Wearing the only medal granted to sarsaparilla in the World's Fair of 1893, it points proudly to its record. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record:

50 Years of Cures.

It could hardly have been expected that in little more than six months after taking occupation of this, the most attractively constructed retail store in Canada, it would be found necessary to provide increased accommodation for shoppers.

But this is the store news of to-day. The popular floral department has been removed to more convenient quarters, just as you enter the Queen-street doors-a step made compulsory, too, for the reason that contractors are busy at work placing two additional passenger elevators, that will be located where the floral department had its home for many months.

This will make six large elevators now in use in the building. The two new ones are being constructed by the Fensom Elevator Works, at a cost of about $12,000. Each will be twenty horse power, embracing all the improvements that have come to the building of electric elevators at the present time.

And this is not all, Daily this store news will unfold further evidences of progress.
