Whitney Mockridge.

The return to Toronto of Mr. Whitney Mockridge, the famous actor, after several years' absence, will interest a great many lovers of music, with whom his name is indicative of a dramatic local enterprise and perfect articulation. Good actors are very rare, and Mr. Mockridge is now at his best. A well-known critic says of his voice: "It is large and mellow, alternately massive and ethereal, reminding one of the great tenor of a former era."

He will bring his own English company, composed of Miss Gertrude Martel, soprano; Mr. Gerald Walton, violinist; Mrs. M. Mockridge, pianist; and Miss M. Mockridge, accompanist. He will appear at Massey Hall on Friday evening.

GERMANY TO UNITED STATES.

Chancellor Says He Desires to Keep Traditional Good Relations.

Berlin, Jan. 22.—During the course of the debate on the estimates of the Chancellor's department in the Reichstag, the Imperial Chancellor, Count Von Bülow, referred to the relations between Germany and the United States.

"I can only repeat," said he, "what I said three years ago in the Reichstag, that we are filled with an earnest desire to maintain, on the basis of perfect reciprocity and mutual appreciation, the traditional good relations which have always existed between ourselves and the United States. The voice of Prince Henry to America is an expression of those good relations, and I am convinced his reception will be in accordance with the friendly feeling the two great nations have for one another."

The Chancellor's statement was greeted with prolonged cheers.

There is no need of soiling the hands in using the Diamond Dyes. While the goods are in the dye bath, just lift one strip from two dyes, and see how easy it is to dye with Diamond Dyes, and how there is no need of soiling the hands in the dyeing operation. Diamond Dyes are all the latest and fashionable colors, and one package will dye as much material as three packages of any other material dye. Diamond Dyes give the richest colors to fabrics heavy and fine; you get the results when dyeing with the heaviest cloths and blankets or the finest lawns and muslins.

The Belle To-Night.

"The Belle of New York," with its beautiful music, its lyrical lyrics, its pretty girls, gorgeous costumes and clever comedians, is making its third annual triumphal tour of America, and comes to the Princess Theatre to-night for a limited engagement of three nights. The music of "The Belle of New York" has supplied in this Casino masterpiece of a higher quality than is usually found in productions of its class. It has lived longer after its first hearing here, and will be remembered long after the "Belle of New York" has ceased being produced. It has been stated that the real reason for its single song and a single character. This character was the Salvation Army lassie, which was so extremely original, so delightfully coy and demure, that it fascinated the audience of New York and London. While successes are often attained through a single original feature, it is safe to say that "The Belle of New York" contains aside from its original background an unusual amount of bright and meritorious material, which Hugh Morton has contributed to it in splendid throat, and such songs as "Follow On" and "When We Are Married" are of exceptional merit. The locale of the piece lends itself to elaborate stage settings, and the large and shapely pieces can be dressed in scintillating fiery. Altogether, "The Belle of New York" provides an entertainment which is unequalled, and the long and prosperous career is not to be wondered at. The company this season includes the old favorites of last year, and with an entirely new dress and scenery equipment it is said to be even better than ever, and is headed by Edward J. Connelly, Miss Beulah Dodge, Arthur Deacon, Mae Saffor, James Darling, Joseph Kane, Gertrude Rutledge, Laura Witt and Virginia Ross.

DIED IN IRELAND.

Rev. Samuel Houston, M.A., of Canada, Passes Away.

The Ballymena Telegraph (Ireland) of Saturday, 11th inst., has the following: "The death of the Rev. Samuel Houston, M.A., occurred at the house of Mrs. John Hyndman, Killybegs, on 3rd inst. A widespread sensation was caused through the village neighborhood by the sudden and unexpected death of this gentleman, who had been in usual good health up to the time of his decease. He had been suffering from a severe chill, which resulted in acute rheumatic pain, and ended in a form of cardiac ailment. The circumstances attending his death were peculiarly sad. He had been only a few weeks to this country on a visit. About to return to Belfast, he was suddenly seized with illness, and was obliged to abandon his journey. The attack lasted only about a week, during which time all the help that medical skill and kind attention could bestow was unavailingly expended.
