The Best Rubber Heel Costs Only 10c More

The ten cents extra charge upon Goodyear Wingfoot Air Heels makes all the difference between the better rubber heel and the ordinary rubber heels.

If Goodyear were to make---as Goodyear might---a heel which would sell at the standard price of ordinary heels, the heel would be full value for your 50c. But it would not be the best heel that Goodyear could produce---would not truly represent Goodyear standards of excellence.

In Wingfoot Air Heels you get better heels. It is worth while investing 10c extra to receive bigger returns in wear and comfort.

There's more wear, more springiness in Wingfoots because they are made from purer, better rubber. There's more comfort and more life, because Wingfoots have air cushions with raised edges that lift the foot up, give gaiety to the step, and combat slipping.

WEST IS JUBILANT OVER CROP OUTLOOK

Sir Donald Mann Says Conditions Never Looked Better Than Now.

today, and their operating expenses were about one-half as much as they are today. They put on "hog fat," which hog pretty well stayed by them, but the people in the northwest were not getting fat by any means in those days. The rate for grain was 28 cents from Winnipeg to Port Arthur; today it is 10 cents from Winnipeg or Brandon and only about 25 cents from Edmonton or Calgary."

Unrolled Map of Canada.

"What made the change?"

"The Canadian Northern went in, built lines opened up the country and brought down freight rates. Manitoba was then the west. We unrolled the map of Canada north and west until Edmonton is as close to the head of navigation today as Winnipeg was a few years ago. When we projected our Dauphin line there was practically no settlement in the northern portions of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, nothing was grown, of any consequence. Yet during the first ten months of the present crop year 50,000 cars passed thru Dauphin or say 60,000,000 bushels and there are 10,000,000 more to follow."

Railways the Key.

"You will understand," Sir Donald continued "that only by railway construction can a country be opened up. No matter how rich the soil may be people will not settle upon it unless they can get what they grow to market at reasonable rates. We have a low grade line with curvatures largely eliminated; we have unusual facilities for gathering up grain in the west and we can ship it cheaply east of Lake Superior to tide water, and across the mountains to the Pacific coast. No government and no railway commission can make cheap rates, nothing can do it but up-to-date railway construction. We can take wheat almost as cheaply to Vancouver as to Port Arthur, altho, of course, our capitalization is higher on the mountain section. Just now there is no ocean tonnage available at the Pacific ports.

"Will the Canadian Northern do any construction work this year?"

"Only at terminals. We will have a good deal of that sort of work to do and especially at Montreal, Vancouver and Victoria."

"How did you find business in the west?"

"Good, and getting every day better. We have passed the apex of our hard times in Canada. Things are looking considerably better in British Columbia, and they never looked brighter than they do today in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta."

Influx After War.

"Has American immigration fallen off?"

"To some extent, but it will come with a rush after the war, and there will be tremendous immigration from the old country. We will need every mile of railway we have in Canada. We will need the Canadian Northern and, indeed, we need it now. The big crop of 1915 could never have been gotten out without the Canadian Northern and for that matter it would not have been produced except for the work of the Canadian Northern. We are proud of our part in making a greater Canada, and a real granary for the empire. When the war came this country was ready to feed the motherland and her allies.

"I would like to say something to you about the cost of our road and the exceptional circumstances under which it was built," said Sir Donald in conclusion. "But that must wait for some other time. Let me say here and now, however, that it does not matter who owns the Canadian Northern, who are the stockholders or anything of that kind. The system is there, the great work it has accomplished speaks for itself and the Canadian Northern will be a great national and imperial asset for all time to come."

Legal Notices

TO ALICE CHRISTIE, DAVID T. SYmons and Florence Emma Dalton, Executors and Trustees of Emma Wilson, Louis Tohn, Allis Hedderson, Chaiza Tohn, Elizabeth Hedderson and Violet Christie :

Leaside Munitions Company, Limited.

Public notice is hereby given that under the first part of chapter 79 of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906, known as The Companies Act, letters patent have been issued under the seal of the Secretary of State of Canada, bearing date the 27th day of June, 1916, incorporating William Alfred James Case, solicitor, James Broadbent Taylor, accountant, Charles Lawford Valens and William Abney Smith, students, and Leo Francis Schuler, secretary, all of the City of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, for the following purposes, viz.:—

(a) To carry on the business of mechanical, electrical and chemical engineers, foundrymen and manufacturers; to construct, erect, acquire, operate and maintain machine shops, blacksmith shops, foundries, smelters, refineries, concentrating works and chemical works; to manufacture, purchase, sell and deal in all the products or by-products thereof, and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to manufacture, import, export, buy, sell, assemble, load and deal in shells, bombs, time-fuses and parts thereof and munitions generally, together with guns, mortars, howitzers and cannon of all calibres, gun carriages, turrets, limbers and mountings of every description, ammunition wagons, armored cars, motor and other vehicles and artillery generally;

(b) To manufacture, either wholly or in part, any goods, substances, machines, tools, articles, apparatus or things in or for the manufacture, or any process of the manufacture of which the plant, machinery or property of the company may from time to time be available or suitable;

(c) To manufacture, either wholly or in part, purchase, lease or otherwise acquire machinery and any and all apparatus necessary or useful in connection with the business of the company, and to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the same;

(d) To purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire, own and operate foundries and machine shops, and to acquire any plant, machinery, stock in trade, and all property, real and personal, movable or immovable, and rights and privileges that the company may deem necessary for the purposes of its undertakings or any part thereof, and to pay for the same, wholly or in part, in the stock and bonds of the company;

(e) To furnish aid to any business or undertaking similar in whole or in part to that of the company with which the company may have business relations, by way of loans, bonus, endorsement, agreement, guarantee, management, or other service, and to manage, supervise and control the same in whole or in part and to act as agent or attorney for the same;

(f) To purchase or otherwise acquire the shares, bonds, debentures or other securities of any other company or corporation, notwithstanding the provisions of section 44 of "The Companies Act" and to pay for the same in the shares, bonds, debentures or other securities of this company, and to hold, sell, vote or otherwise deal in the shares, bonds, debentures or other securities so purchased, and to guarantee payment of the principal of or dividends and interest on said shares, bonds, debentures or other securities, and to promote any company or corporation having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this company or carrying on any business capable of being carried on so as directly or indirectly to benefit this company;

(g) To sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the property, rights, franchises and undertakings of the company, the assets thereof or any part thereof, for such consideration as the company may think fit, and in particular for shares, debentures, bonds or other securities of any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of the company;

(h) To carry on any other business which may seem capable of being conveniently or advantageously carried on in connection with the business of the company or calculated directly or indirectly to enhance the value of, to facilitate the realization of or to render more profitable any of the company's businesses, properties or rights;

(i) To apply for, purchase or otherwise acquire, and to protect, prolong and renew patents, patent rights, trade marks, formulae licenses, protections, concessions and the like conferring or relating to any exclusive or non-exclusive or limited right to use, or any secret or other information as to any invention which may seem capable of being used for any of the purposes of the company, or the acquisition of which may seem calculated directly or indirectly to benefit the company, and to use, exercise and improve, develop or grant licenses in respect of or otherwise turn to account the property rights or information acquired;

(j) To enter into any arrangement with the governments or authorities, supreme, provincial, civic, municipal, local or otherwise, that may seem conducive to the company's objects or any of them, and to apply for, promote, and to obtain from any such government or authority, any statutes, ordinances, licenses, contracts, orders, regulations, decrees, rights, powers, franchises, privileges and concessions or other authorizations which the company may think desirable to obtain, and to carry out, exercise and to comply with the terms of the same;

(k) To enter into any arrangement for sharing profits, union of interests, cooperation, joint adventure, reciprocal concession or otherwise with any person, firm or corporation carrying on or engaged in, or about to carry on or engage in any business or transaction capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit this company, and to take or otherwise acquire shares and securities of any such company, and to sell, hold, issue or re-issue the same, with or without guarantee of principal or interest, and otherwise to deal in the same;

(l) To consolidate or amalgamate with any other company having objects similar in whole or in part to those of this company;

(m) To make cash advances to customers and others having dealing with the company and to guarantee the performance of contracts by any such persons;

(n) To distribute in specie or otherwise, as may be resolved, any assets of the company among its members, and particularly the shares, bonds, debentures, or other securities of any other company that may take over the whole or any part of the assets or liabilities of this company;

(o) To do all such things as may seem directly or indirectly to be incidental to or conducive to or convenient or proper for the accomplishment of the purposes or the attainment of the objects of the company, or any of them, or expedient for the protection or benefit of the company;

(p) Any power granted in any paragraph hereof shall not be limited or restricted by reference to or inference from the terms of any other paragraph or to or from the name of the company.

The operations of the company to be carried on throughout the Dominion of Canada and elsewhere by the name of "Leaside Munitions Company, Limited," with a capital stock of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, divided into 2500 shares of one hundred dollars each, and the chief place of business of the said company to be at the City of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario.

Dated at the office of the Secretary of State of Canada, this 28th day of June, 1916.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

DESERONTO, July 18.—While Chief and Mrs. J. J. Hill, residents of the Mohawk Indian Reserve, were in Deseronto last evening, their two sons, aged 11 and 14 years, began cleaning a gun preparatory to shooting crows. While the weapon was in the hands of the older boy it was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his brother's temple and inflicting a wound from the effects of which the unfortunate boy died at midnight.

WOUNDED AND PRISONER.

BRANTFORD, July 18.—Word has been received by Mrs. H. B. Yake that her brother, Trooper George H. Fuller, 4th C.M.R., reported missing on June 2, when the Canadian trenches were overwhelmed, is prisoner of war in a German hospital, his leg having been badly injured. Mrs. Yake's other brother, William Fuller, who was recently sent to hospital with shell shock, has returned to the trenches.

FORESTRY UNIT SECURED SEVEN

Came Highest Out of Thirty Recruits Attested Yesterday.

Recruiting yesterday maintained the record of the past few weeks, when thirty recruits, out of fifty-six who presented themselves to the recruiting sergeants, were found to be physically fit and became attached to the various units at present recruiting. The 238th Forestry Battalion managed to secure the largest number of recruits, 7; the Canadian Army Service Corps being next with 5. The other units increased their strength as follows: 198th, 4; 204th, 2; 216th, 1; No. 1 Construction Battalion, 4; 67th and 69th Batteries, 1 each; 70th Battery, 2; 213th Battalion, 1.

The 238th Forestry Battalion has secured the use of Sarboro Beach Park for next Sunday afternoon and evening. Band concerts will be given, the music to be furnished by the Queen's Own band. Addresses will be given by Judge Riddell, ex-Mayor Hocken and others. These addresses will not be of a recruiting nature, but will be for the purpose of explaining conditions behind the lines, and also the duties of the non-combatant Forestry Battalion. A. E. Donovan will be the chairman. There will be no recruiting on the grounds.

Henry Hewlett, who for twelve years has been a constable of York County, has joined the Forestry Battalion. He had previously joined the 134th Battalion, but was discharged because of a minor ailment.

Capt. G. B. Brown, who was formerly paying teller at the Northern Crown Bank, King street, has been appointed paymaster of the Forestry Battalion. He had previous military experience with the R. C. H. A., at Kingston and the 47th Regiment.

The Royal Naval Auxiliary Motor Boat Service Committee will visit Toronto this week for the last time for the purpose of interviewing candidates for the motor boat service, at the office of Aemilius Jarvis, 103 Bay street. Candidates who have sent in their applications will be invited to attend there on Thursday and Friday next.

Gunner Walsh, 69th Battery, is a veteran of the present war. He was present at the battle of Neuve Chapelle with the 119th Heavy Battery, R. F. A., which was part of a brigade that ripped German wire entanglements, allowing the Highland division to penetrate far into the German territory. A number of interesting souvenirs of the battle which he brought home are on exhibit at the 69th Battery recruiting depot, 65 Queen street.

LIEUT. ANDERSON KILLED WHEN LEADING HIS MEN

A letter has been received by the mother of Lieut. David Stewart Anderson, who was killed in action on June 28 last, from Lieut. Lionel D. Heron, telling the manner in which he met death. Lieut. Anderson was leading his men in a raid on the German trenches, which proved unsuccessful, and was killed in "No man's Land." One of his men, tho wounded, brought his body back part of the way and later on it was recovered. It was buried in a quiet spot behind the lines and beyond the shelled area.
