Gilmour's Annual Discount Sale

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING.

It is the yearly winter clean-up sale that straightens out our stock and makes it possible for us to start each new season with a fresh showing of clothes for men. This year the most of winter is still ahead. This year, too, presents the biggest values in our history. Every business suit in stock, except a few staple blues and blacks, and all trousers, are reduced in price. Every overcoat in stock, without any exceptions, and every raincoat, is reduced.

This Discount Sale concerns every man in St. John and vicinity. Twenty per cent, off the regular marked prices is the discount we are allowing, except on several broken lots of overcoats, which are reduced to less than Half Price.

Every garment fitted to your figure by our expert tailors.

SALVATION ARMY ASKS
CITY TO MAKE A GRANT

They Desire to Enlarge the Army Maternity Home and Ask
$1,000 Toward the Cost—City Physicians Support Application, Which Will Go to County Council.

A deputation from the Salvation Army and the medical men in the city was heard before the treasury board yesterday with reference to a grant of $1,000 towards enlarging the facilities in the Evangelical Home for maternity cases. The matter was laid over until the meeting of the municipal council in May. A resolution was unanimously passed giving the chamberlain similar powers to those conferred on the directors of the other boards. Bullock occupied the chair and Ald. Baxter, Frink, Tully, McArthur and MacRae were present with the chamberlain and common clerk. The deputation consisted of Col. Sharp and Staff Captain Turpin, of the Salvation Army, and Doctors Thomas Walker, T. D. Walker, J. H. Seemell and J. W. Daniel, M. P. were heard with reference to the grant. Col. Sharp, in explaining the existing conditions, said the board were doubtful as to the Salvation Army with the local physicians and for the past fifteen years maintained a maternity hospital and rescue home in the city. The work was increasing and he believed had given satisfaction and was generally appreciated. On account of no maternity cases being admitted to the Public Hospital the army had agreed that their doctors should give the names in instruction in obstetrics at the Evangelical Home.

It would, however, Col. Sharp continued, be necessary in order to accommodate the number of cases and provide nursing facilities to finish the upper part of the building and use it as a children's home, and devote the whole of the second floor to maternity work. The cost of the necessary alterations would amount to about $6,000, and the army now asked for a grant from the city of $1,000 towards that sum. An application had been made to the provincial government for $1,500 and they hoped to raise the balance through subscriptions. Col. Sharp added that seventy-two maternity cases had been admitted to the home during the past three years, fourteen of whom were Catholics and the remainder Protestants. They would drive and for any minister a patient desired.

Dr. Thomas Walker said he was in the hospital to make any statement as the matter had yet to come before them, but speaking for himself he was a strong supporter of the application. By a regulation which would go into force in New York next April trained nurses would be required to be registered and in order to comply with this provision, the hospital, where a nurse was trained, must be recognized as providing a certain standard of instruction. To provide for maternity cases in a separate building, Dr. Walker estimated would cost at least $5,000, and the present suggestion, if carried out, would provide for the training of their nurses in obstetrics at small expense. It was, he thought, an important matter that the hospital should be recognized as a standard to the standard. Many of their nurses were in New York. They were proud of the institution and he believed the hospital should be recognized that they might not be troubled with examinations. He thought the scheme suggested was the cheapest way to enable their nurses to take the necessary course.

The chamberlain then it was a matter which must be referred to the municipal council. Ald. Frink was in favor of affixing the home with the hospital. He thought a grant would be more favorably considered if the work were under the control of the commissioners.

Dr. Walker said they would prefer to leave the matter in the hands of Col. Sharp. Ald. MacRae mentioned that all hospital business went through the municipal council. He had no desire, he said, to check the application and personally believed it was worthy of support. Ald. Frink drew attention to the possibility of claims from other institutions arising if the application were granted. He believed if the hospital as a municipal institution took control and administered the funds, no difficulty would arise. Dr. Daniel, after briefly reviewing the situation, said there was no other institution in the city except the Salvation

OBITUARY

Mrs. John Collins

The death of Mrs. Collins, wife of John Collins, assistant engineer at Point Lepreau, fog whistle station, took place at the hospital last evening. Mrs. Collins met with an accident at the east side ferry float a fortnight ago from which her family believe she was badly shaken up. Coupled with the time and shortly after her return home she was advised to come to the city and enter the hospital. Her husband who is here at present will have the sympathy of a large number of friends.

Miss Kathleen P. Peake

Miss Kathleen P. Peake, youngest daughter of Mrs. James Peake, died at her home, Oakwood (Wm.), on January 23, after an illness of several weeks of typhoid fever. She leaves beside a mother, two brothers, Dr. J. P. Peake, of Oromocto (N. B.), Dr. E. P. Peake, of Wisconsin, and two sisters, Misses Ellen and Marion Peake, of Wisconsin. Mrs. Peake moved from England some years ago with her family and for some years resided at Fredericton where they had a large number of warm friends who will be sorry to hear of her loss.

Paul Dresser

New York, Jan. 30.—Paul Dresser, some writer, died of heart trouble this afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Nelson, 203 West 106th street. He was 47 years old. He was the author of "The Love of the Webbs," and also "The Letter That Never Came," which first brought him name into public notice. He had been slightly indisposed for nearly six months, but on Saturday he was taken with pain in his heart and did not rally.

Mr. Dresser was born in Terre Haute, (Ind.), and the town of Dresser in that state is named after him. When a young man he studied for the priesthood. He went to Chicago, where he wrote his first big song, "The Letter That Never Came," and "I Believe It for My Mother Told Me So." About twenty years ago he came to New York. Besides the song mentioned he wrote "The Blue and the Gray," "Just Tell Them That You Saw Me," "The Partisan Came Too Late" and many others. "My Gal Sal" was his latest. Mr. Dresser was an actor and played the role of the comedian in Horie's "A Tin Soldier" a character in the "Two Johns." He was also the author of the plays "Lost Straps," "The Green Man," and "The Green Man." Louise Dresser, who is appearing at the Theatre, is a sister. She was about to go on the stage this evening when notified of her brother's death. She was so overcome by the news that she was unable to appear.

Mrs. George C. Moore

Hopewell Hill, Jan. 31.—The death occurred on behalf of St. John's Protestant church D. I. Welch secured a release of $7,000 mortgage resting on the church for many years, thus practically freeing it from debt. The mortgage was held by I. W. Blaney. The congregation will hold a jubilation meeting about the middle of February to burn the mortgage.
