Passenger Agent in England Said to be Working It

THE KING'S OATH OTHERS AGREE

General Favorable Reception is Reported—Winnipeg Crew Criticized by Guy Nickalls, the English Oarsman—Some Cricket Results—The Hague Argument

London, June 29.—Callers at the British Columbia agents office in connection with the reported gold discovery number scores and there are indications that passenger agents are using the sensational reports as a means of attracting passengers. Guy Nickalls, the English oarsman writes that the Winnipeg men are the most criticized crew at Henley. Every one is asking how they had the legs on the Thames four at Walton. He thinks the latter are not in the same class as past crews, and he adds: "In our ideal of rowing, the Winnipeg men commit all the faults possible for oarsmen to have. Their rhythm is uneven. They row forward, go slowly back. They do not swing even to perpendicular. They are not used to more than sixteen inches. They are not even together, yet it is said they can go very fast. If they were supposed to be a crew that would copy their style. Heaven forbid. But this contingency I consider very unlikely. The Winnipeg men were out last night in a strong breeze. They went down stream very fast to Regatta Island, returned back, steering in erratic manner but striking a rock to the minute. Few seconds, time being lost in consequence of the wind. They reached the winning post in 8 minutes and 15 seconds. Speaking at the Women's National Liberal Federation today, Mrs. Byles, of Bradford, said that Mrs. Bryce, recently gave her details of work done by Ambassador Bryce, in Washington in hastening peace between Canada and the United States. Mrs. Bryce said: "The fallacy to Canadians like themselves, is to believe that Americans are not one else say. Consequently, said Mrs. Byles, the clouds are disappearing. Cricket results yesterday were—Nottinghamshire, 403; Lancashire, 130, and 148; Yorkshire, 184; Worcester, 100 for 9 and declared; 157 for 9 and declared; Derby, 222 and 165. The reception of the declaration bill in the whole favorable though the bill goes further than many anticipated. Speaking in nonconformity, interviewed, gave it their support. Sir Edward Grey watched the debate in the commons. At The Hague The Hague, June 29.—Senator Turner continuing his argument for the United States, concluded from the absence of any restrictive clauses in the treaty, that the American right to fish was really unlimited. This, he said, was confirmed by the tenor of the British law of 1818, framed for enforcement of the treaty, and by instructions issued by the British government to the governor of Newfoundland, and by the conclusion of the treaty of 1818 and that of 1822 Newfoundland had never taken upon herself to limit the American right to fish by regulations or by laws respecting the fisheries. Such laws do not exist. The Newfoundland law of 1818, those of Nova Scotia in 1788 and those of New Brunswick in 1783 concerned the fisheries, had no bearing on the present matter. The American right to fish granted in the treaty of 1818 did not extend to the coasts of these colonies. Up to 1822 Canadian law had over restricted the American right. Mr. Turner proceeded to explain rights conceded to foreigners by treaties of friendship and commerce, to establish themselves in any country to carry on industry and commerce, and said these were not "servitudes." The president pointed out that such foreigners were subject to the legislation of the country where they are living. He asked if Mr. Turner considered the rights of such foreigners as only "a shadow of right." (Continued on page 3, sixth column.)

Toronto, June 29.—Fifteen leather manufacturing firms will be consolidated in a $20,000,000 merger whose organization will be announced soon. The new corporation, which will probably be known as the Canadian Leather Company, Limited, is expected to control 75 per cent. of the output of leather used in the Canadian boot, shoe, and bag and trunk trades. It will have a capital of $15,000,000 in stock and $5,000,000 in six per cent. bonds, maturing in 1940. There will be $5,000,000 in seven per cent. cumulative preference stock, of which $7,000,000 will be issued immediately. Of the $5,000,000 common stock, $6,000,000 will be placed on the market at once. Of the $5,000,000 first mortgage bonds, $4,000,000 will be floated soon. The eight large firms which will be included in the merger are as follows: Robson, Leather Company, Limited, Ottawa and Montreal; C. Gallier, Son and Company, Montreal; Pion and Company, Quebec; Ducloux and Pagan, St. Hyacinthe and Montreal; Paul Gallier, Montreal. Seven smaller concerns in Ontario and Quebec will also become part of the Canadian Leather Company, which will take over the fifteen companies and partner with the specialists in the various plants, which will follow the merger, will be the specialization of the common stock of the company. BETTING NICE TODAY BECOMES MORE BRISK IN SOLDIER LADS' CAMP

Jeffries Favorite in Nearly All Wagers Announced

AUSTRALIANS ARRIVE THE FIRST REVELLE

McIntosh and Lang, With Tommy Burns, Reach Frisco—They're Divided in Their Opinions—Wolgang Putting His Money on the White Man

Chicago, June 29.—Betting on the Jeffries-Johnson fight has become brisk here. Yesterday one bookmaker accepted $18,000, the prevailing odds being 5 to 5, with Jeffries at the long end. One prominent New Yorker placed a bet of $6,000 on Jeffries at 3 to 3. Numerous other wagers that reach into the thousands were also made.

Renno, June 25.—Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgang, who is planning a return match between Wolgang and Battling Nelson here on Labor Day, is reported to be placing large bets on Jeffries, the wagers being as follows:—$2,200 at odds of 2 to 1; $1,700 at 10 to 7; $800 at 10 to 6, and $100 at one to five that Johnson will not last five rounds.

An announcement that Tex Rickard would retire from the fight after the Jeffries-Johnson battle, proves to have been erroneous. Rickard says that he has secured a lease for the arena for Labor Day and is planning to have a big double bill, Wolgang vs. Nelson and Tommy Burns vs. Sam Langford.

Burns Picks Jeffries San Francisco, June 29.—Tommy Burns, whom Jack Johnson defeated, arrived from Australia yesterday and will go to Reno today. Burns thinks Jeffries will win. He never has a good word for Johnson since the negro whipped him. Billy Lang and Hugh McIntosh, who came with Burns, say they think Johnson is a sure winner.

Lang believes that Johnson will win with terrific stomach punches. McIntosh says Johnson is the favorite in Australia at 10 to 8. He added: "Bill Lang comes to America for a crack at Stanley Ketchel or Sam Langford. I will bet $5,000 on Lang's chances and if we get into a fight here, I will put it off in Australia or England."

FIGURES THAT TELL STORIES PURE FOOD INSPECTION

EVERYONE agrees that articles of food offered for sale should be pure and wholesome; but it is not everyone who realizes the extent to which adulteration of food prevails. The food inspection branch of the Department of Inland Revenue is rendering valuable public service in detecting by chemical analysis, foods that are adulterated. A staff of inspectors is employed, who operate all over Canada, buying samples principally from the regular stocks of retail dealers and sending them to the laboratory for analysis. In the year ending March, 1909, 2,522 such samples were collected, and 4,373 analyses were made. The articles tested are various, including maple syrup and maple products, fertilizers, olive oil, ice cream, pickles, canned meats, ground pepper, butter, cheese, ground coffee, ground cloves, baking powders, mustard, table syrups, oysters, besides various drugs and liquors. From March, 1905, to May, 1905, 466 samples of maple syrup were tested, and 93 of these were found to be adulterated; in the same period, out of 827 samples of maple syrup, 254 were adulterated. In the year ending March, 1909, the department reports show these among other tests: Olive oil, 15 samples impure out of 12 tests; ground pepper, 49 impure, 15 doubtful, out of 238 samples; tests of ground coffee yielded 45 adulterated and 13 doubtful out of 449; and ground cloves showed up seven, 74 samples being genuine and 68 doubtful. The illustrations represent the increase in number of analyses made.
