

BURGLAR BEATS GIRL INSENSIBLE

Uses a 16 Pound Weight on Her Head When He Enters Room in Early Morning.

(New York Times)
Dorothy Nichols, 18 years old, who lives with her parents on the ground floor of 51 Hamilton Place, in Knickerbocker Hospital, recovering from concussion of the brain and a jagged scalp wound she received when struck on the head with a 16-pound weight by a man who entered her room at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, an hour or so after she had returned from a masquerade party.

This intruder entered the room through a window which opens on the sidewalk. After he had felled the awakened girl with a powerful blow, he left without taking any of the articles of jewelry which lay on a dressing table near at hand. A description of the man was furnished the police by a milkman who saw him walk rapidly away from the apartment house.

Miss Nichols, who had been unconscious on the floor beside her bed for probably half an hour, was unable to tell detectives a coherent story of what had happened. The window weights found on the floor, was the only clue the police thought Miss Nichols's assailant was bent upon criminal assault, but they revised this theory later, after reaching the conclusion that he was a common burglar who was frightened away.

The girl returned home from the masquerade party, which was at the home of Mrs. Katherine Henkel, 272 West Twenty-third street, shortly after 2 o'clock, accompanied by William Boyer, of 640 Riverside Drive. Before retiring Miss Nichols raised the front window as has been her custom. According to the police, she next remembers being awakened by the entrance of the prowler, but before she could scream he had struck her violently.

Mrs. Frank J. Nichols, her mother, heard groans a little later, and found her daughter lying beside her bed. It was not until after Dr. Benjamin Lieber of 61 Hamilton Place had been called that an ambulance was summoned from Knickerbocker Hospital. Lenned of the West 152d street station.

Detectives Duggan and Kraus, after hearing the girl's story, questioned Boyer and found that he had no knowledge of the assault. Miss Nichols had not barked when the supposed burglar entered. Paul Henkel, proprietor of Keen's Chop House, said that at his home that the masquerade party was held. He said Miss Nichols was one of the guests, and that the guests left about midnight.

MONTRÉAL BUTTER PRICES.
Montréal Gazette:—The receipts of butter Monday were 47,000 lbs., as compared with 72 for the same day last week, and 469 for the corresponding date a year ago. A feature of the trade was the announcement made by the whole-sale jobbing trade of an advance of 1c per lb. in their prices, and were selling Canadian finest pasteurized creamery at 88c per lb. in solid packages, and at 87c per lb. in 1-lb. blocks, and finest New Zealand creamery at 87c per lb. in solid packages, and at 86c per lb. in 1-lb. blocks. There were no new developments in the wholesale market, the feeling being firm, with a fair amount of business passing in this creamery at 86c to 87c per lb.

NOTICES OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS, 50 cents.

BIRTHS
BROMLEY—On Feb. 12, 1922, to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bromley, Montreal, a son.

DEATHS
HUMPHREYS—At French Village, Kings county, on February 28, 1922, after a short illness, James Humphreys, aged seventy-six, leaving his wife, four daughters, five sons, and one sister.
Funeral Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

HARGROVE—Suddenly, at Partridge Island, on Tuesday, February 28, Mrs. Phoebe Hargrove, wife of James Hargrove, leaving her husband, parents, two brothers and two sisters to mourn their sad loss.
Notice of funeral later.

RICHER—At his residence of his uncle, Lewis P. Logan, 55 Kennedy Place on March 1, 1922, L. Archibald Richer, aged 26 years, leaving his uncle and three aunts to mourn.
Funeral notice later.

LASHER—After a short illness, at his residence, 23 British street on February 28, 1922, Floyd B. Lasher, leaving a loving wife, two sons, two daughters and one sister to mourn.
Funeral on Thursday from his late residence. Service at 2:30 o'clock.
Friends invited to attend.

WILLIS—At her residence, 117 Thorne avenue, on March 1, Rebecca, widow of William Willis, in the ninety-fourth year of her age, leaving three sons to mourn.
Funeral from St. Mary's church on Friday afternoon, March 3, at 2:30 o'clock.

IN MEMORIAM
McBRIDE—In loving memory of John McBride, aged one year and three months, who died on March 1, 1921. Never forgotten by his sorrowing parents.
"And Jesus called unto Him a little child."

CARD OF THANKS
Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Savary wish to thank their many friends for kindness and sympathy in their recent bereavement.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

SEAT SALE WILL OPEN TOMORROW

For the Bright Soldier Show, "Mademoiselle of Armentieres."—Here Next Monday.
At ten o'clock tomorrow the sale of reserved seats for the four-act soldier comedy-drama "Mademoiselle of Armentieres" will commence in Imperial Theatre. The play is to be put on Monday and Tuesday of next week with a matinee on the second day. It concluded a very successful engagement in His Majesty's Theatre, Montreal, last week and is now travelling eastward. The story is practically a chain of facts growing out of the Canadian occupancy of the Lens sector in the battle line during the late war and is filled with laughs and thrills. There are twenty people in the cast, two of whom are ladies. The show was a sensational hit in the west, especially among the soldiers and their families. The price scale is graded to suit all tastes, as per the advt. in this issue.

TONIGHT AT THE GARDENS
Patrons of the Gardens will be interested in the announcement that the Fox Trot contest will close this evening. Prize of ten dollars in gold will be awarded the winners.

FIND 11-YEAR-OLD GIRL KIDNAPPED TWO YEARS AGO
Syracuse Police Seek Man Said to Have Taken Her to Train Her as a Dancer.

Syracuse, N. Y., Mar. 1.—Addie Comfort, the eleven-year-old child who was kidnapped in Hawley, Pa., two years ago, has been found in this city and is now in the custody of the Syracuse Children's Society. Under surveillance in St. Joseph's Hospital is Mrs. Margaret Greenwood, 29 years old, who has been posing as the mother of the child. She is suspected of being one of the kidnapers.
Chief of Police Gadin has been asked by William Meisick, Superintendent of the Children's Society, to send out a general alarm for the arrest of Frank Henry of Fulton, who said he had taken the child to train her as a dancer in a traveling show and then abandoned her.

Walter Greenwood, husband of Mrs. Greenwood, employed as a driver by a local ice cream company, also is under surveillance. It is said that Greenwood believed until today that Addie Comfort was his own daughter. According to the police, Mrs. Greenwood has made a full confession, and her arrest will be asked by Mr. Meisick.

Mrs. Jacob H. Kyser of Hawley, Pa., an aunt of the girl, is now on her way here to claim her niece. The child has been identified by her grandfather, William Harrigan, of Johnson City, as the one who was kidnapped and for whom a continuous search has been made throughout the country.

The case first came to the attention of the authorities here through complaints of neighbors of the Greenwoods that the girl, who was known as Addie Greenwood, was in a situation endangering her morals. Investigation regarding the arrangement of two girls in Children's Court on a charge of improper guardianship, which charges were later dropped, led to the case. A warrant has been issued for a storekeeper in whose place the Comfort girl and her companion were frequently seen, but he disappeared and no trace of him has been found.

You Would Fly Out of Your Skin
Eczema Makes You Wish You Could.
Your disease, which is sometimes called salt rheum, not only itches but also burns, oozes, dries and scales over and over again. Sometimes it covers the whole body and causes intense suffering. You have found that local applications have no lasting effect, and you want permanent relief.

You must thoroughly purify your blood or the eruption will continue to annoy, perhaps agonize you. Take Hood's Sarsaparil, which cures the blood, and your skin will be successfully under control in thousands of cases.

To make and keep the bowels normally active, take Hood's Pills. They are gentle and thorough.

BUSINESS NEWS OF PROVINCE
Fredericton, March 1.—Harry E. Marmon and George W. Larlee, electricians, of Edmundston, doing business as Marmon & Larlee, have dissolved partnership.

Joseph William Zinck of Moncton has given notice of his intention of carrying on business under the name of Handy Hat Ring Company.

George D. Nixon and Harold P. Fleming of Moncton have entered partnership to carry on a drug business in Moncton.

The town of St. Leonards is to promote legislation to validate the entry of its employees upon certain lands.

The S. R. Gaudet Company, Ltd., with head office in Memramcook, Westmorland county, has been incorporated to operate the mercantile and manufacturing business carried on under the name of S. R. Gaudet, in the Parish of Dorchester.

Sigfried D. Gaudet, Edouard A. Gaudet and Ernest G. Gaudet, all of the Parish of Dorchester. The company is to carry on a general lumbering and milling business.

LOCAL NEWS

THE RITZ, 30 Charlotte street, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Marie Furlong Coleman. Confetti dance Thursday, March 2. Usual prices.

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

Always ask for G. B. Taylor's sausage. They are the best! 21840-9-15

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

THE RITZ, 30 Charlotte street, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Marie Furlong Coleman. Confetti dance Thursday, March 2. Usual prices.

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

Always ask for G. B. Taylor's sausage. They are the best! 21840-9-15

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

THE RITZ, 30 Charlotte street, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Marie Furlong Coleman. Confetti dance Thursday, March 2. Usual prices.

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

Always ask for G. B. Taylor's sausage. They are the best! 21840-9-15

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

THE RITZ, 30 Charlotte street, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Marie Furlong Coleman. Confetti dance Thursday, March 2. Usual prices.

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

Always ask for G. B. Taylor's sausage. They are the best! 21840-9-15

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

THE RITZ, 30 Charlotte street, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Marie Furlong Coleman. Confetti dance Thursday, March 2. Usual prices.

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

Always ask for G. B. Taylor's sausage. They are the best! 21840-9-15

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

THE RITZ, 30 Charlotte street, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Marie Furlong Coleman. Confetti dance Thursday, March 2. Usual prices.

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

Always ask for G. B. Taylor's sausage. They are the best! 21840-9-15

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

THE RITZ, 30 Charlotte street, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Marie Furlong Coleman. Confetti dance Thursday, March 2. Usual prices.

Moccasin dance tonight, also skating. Portion has been set aside and fenced in. Special music, Carleton rink tonight.

ST. JOHN MAN GETS $100, AND MORE TO COME

Letter at Post Office Tells of Bequest of £1,000 for John Jackson.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

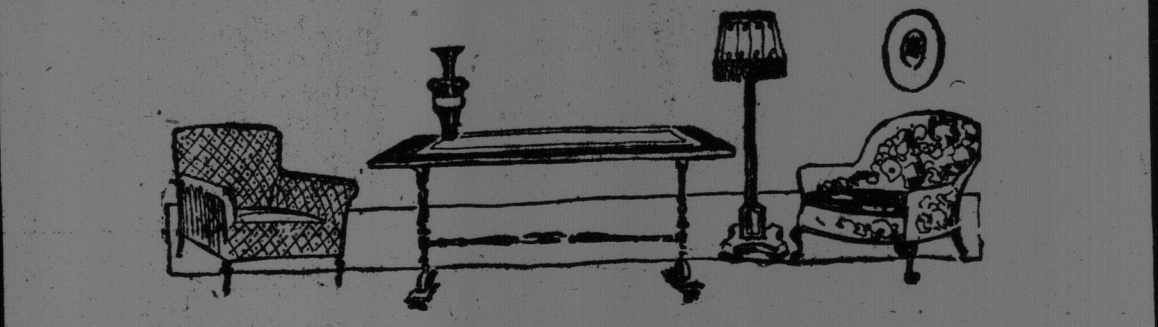

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

The letter arrived in the city some time ago addressed to John Jackson, 32 Carleton street. The man was reported not known at that address and it was delivered to John Jackson, 30 Dorchester street, just across the corner from the other address. On realizing that it was not for him, the latter returned the letter to the postmaster. It was destined for the dead letter office when Mr. Flagg decided to try to reach the addressee through the press with satisfactory results. Mr. Jackson was at the post office before the arrival of the postmaster, established his identity and received his letter.

It was a piece of welcome news that was handed to John Jackson when he presented himself to the office of the postmaster, J. S. Flagg, here this morning in response to a letter published in yesterday's Times, telling him to call. Mr. Flagg handed him a letter containing a draft for £100 and acquainting him with the fact that this was the first instalment on a bequest of £1,000 left him by relatives in England.

Marcus' Furnishings are of the finest quality, and always in good taste. Costly furniture and elaborate decorations are not necessarily essential to a well furnished home. Good taste rather is the keynote of most attractive homes, and the nicest furniture can be purchased here on a scale to meet your family budget. A trial will more than convince you, and make you another of our many satisfied patrons.

Any assistance toward helping you furnish that room or house complete will be cheerfully given you.

We have just received another shipment of Tennessee Red Cedar Chests.

J. MARCUS, 30-36 Dock St.

FOUR ARE PUT TO DEATH FOR MURDER

Nashville, Tenn., March 1.—Chas. Petre, Tom Christmas, Otto Stevens and John McLane were electrocuted at the state prison this morning, all in the space of twenty-five minutes, for the murder of George Lomis of Knoxville, on May 30, 1921. They went to death with prayers on their lips and all except Petre met death calmly. An hour before the execution Petre became ill.

PERSONALS
Friends of Cadet Myrtle Steves, youngest daughter of Mrs. R. Steves, 188 Prince Edward street, who is attending the Salvation Army Training college at Toronto, will be pleased to learn that she is recovering nicely after a serious operation which she underwent some time ago in Wesley Hospital, Toronto.

Saskatoon Post: Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Tingley left yesterday for Boston. The Tingleys will probably visit Florida before returning.

FREIGHT EXCHANGE RATE.
Ottawa, Ont., March 1.—(Canadian Press)—In accordance with the judgment and order of the Board of Railway Commissioners, dated January 14, 1921, the rate of exchange in connection with shipments of freight between points in Canada and the United States from March 1 to 14 inclusive will be two and three sixteenths per cent and surcharge on the said traffic will be one per cent. The rate of surcharge on international passenger business will be based on two per cent exchange.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.
The report of the St. John Unemployment Office for February showed 202 registrations, of which 144 were men and 58 women. Applications for work to all 168 positions were received, of which eighty-four were for men and eighty-four for women. Sixty-four positions were filled as follows: thirty-two temporary, eleven permanent; women, eleven temporary and twelve permanent. An application was received from Hamilton, Ontario, for a six paper hanger, but has not yet been filled. One stenographer was sent to Fredericton.

THE DOG DERBY.
Saskatoon, Sask., March 1.—A despatch from The Pas to the Star states:—"Morgan winner dog derby. No other team in sight."

SALE OF THE "SUNBEAM."
Sir Walter Runciman has purchased the yacht "Sunbeam," originally the property of the late Lord Brassey, who sailed her on her historic voyage, covering 40,000 miles. The "Sunbeam," which has lately been in the hands of the government, was built in 1874.

ONTARIO MAN VICTIM OF SLEEPING SICKNESS.
Ottawa, March 1.—(Canadian Press)—Dr. Harris Graham, of Carleton Place, Ont., professor of medicine in the American College at St. John's, has died of sleeping sickness. He was sixty years of age.

IN WALL STREET.
New York, March 1.—(10:40)—The short interest in the stock market hurriedly covered its contracts at the opening of today's market as many popular issues made early gains for the day. The market was stimulated by the further rise of British exchange, included Gulf States Steel, prominent in the list of P. A. Sugars and foods specialties extended yesterday's gains. National Biscuit refined three points. Market Street Railway prior preferred was the only reactionary issues, falling 1 1/2 points.

New York, March 1.—(Noon).—Fears of an early money flurry, due to March 1 payments, were groundless, call loans opening at 4 3/4 per cent. Equipments, independent steels and motors and their subsidiaries continued to move forward with shipments. Gains of one to three points were made by Kelsey Wheel, Crucible, Republic, Vanadium, New York Airbrake, Pierce-Arrow preferred, Stewart-Warner, Stromberg, United States Rubber and Kelly-Springfield. Mexican Oil of New Jersey featured the stronger oils. Except for Texas and Pacific and Canadian Pacific, with gains of one point and 1 1/2 points, rails were apathetic.

Montreal, Mar. 1.—(10:30)—The market was only moderately active during the early trading today. Prices were steady. Atlantic Sugar sold a quarter point up at 23, while Brazilian sold a quarter down at 20 1/2. Laurentide sold unchanged at 79, as did also National Breweries at 69 1/2. Spanish River was strong and registered a point gain to 70.

New Haven, Conn., March 1.—The St. Patrick's hockey team of Ottawa, defeated the New Haven amateur team last night, 4 to 3, in a hard fought game. The Canadian team will play the Yale hockey squad here tonight.

Moos Jaw, Sask., Mar. 1.—Regina Victorias won the senior amateur hockey championship of Saskatchewan here last night by defeating Indian Head 7 to 2. They will play the winners of the Calgary-Vancouver series.

D. BOYANER
OPTOMETRISTS
111 CHARLOTTE STREET

The eyes, like other parts of the body, change as we grow older. If the glasses that were a source of comfort and satisfaction two years ago are now unsatisfactory, consult us and we will demonstrate to your satisfaction why it is to your advantage to have the lenses changed.

ATHLONE BARRACKS IN IRISH HANDS
Belfast, March 1.—Commandant Gen. McKewen, at the head of 500 men of the Irish Republican army, took over the Athlone military barracks in the name of the provisional government. Some 10,000 people cheered enthusiastically.

HAD PLANT FOR MAKING COUNTERFEIT BILLS
New York, March 1.—A press for printing counterfeit $20 bills in a building at Forty-second street and Broadway, the heart of Manhattan's uptown business district, five men and sixty-five thousand dollars in spurious currency were seized last night by federal agents. The five prisoners are alleged to have flooded the metropolitan area with counterfeit $20 bills in the last few days.

WOMAN LOSES PRIZE BY DELAY IN MAIL
Letter Posted Nov. 28 Last is Delivered Feb. 17, Too Late for Contest.

Evidence that a letter mailed in the Hudson Terminal Branch of the U. S. Post office on Nov. 28 of last year was held for nearly three months before it was delivered was offered by Mrs. James E. Teale of Clifton, N. J., who said that as a result of the delay she had lost a $200 prize offered by Life in a contest. Mrs. Teale sent the envelope, bearing two date stamps of the Terminal Branch, together with a letter to her from the publishers of Life, to The New York Times for inspection.

Under date of Feb. 17 Life wrote to Mrs. Teale in part: "In this afternoon's mail we received enclosed envelope which is post marked 'Hudson Terminal, New York, N. Y., Nov. 28, 1921' on its face, but on its back is stamped 'Hudson Terminal, Feb. 16, 1922' and has evidently been held in the post office for nearly two months before they delivered it. The title enclosed, 'Domestic Finish,' is a duplicate of the one selected for the third prize in our recent contest, but inasmuch as it did not reach us until today, it never had an opportunity to appear in the contest as a competing title for the contest closed Dec. 6, and nothing received after that date could be entered."

"It seems only proper to make this explanation, as you seemed to have been unfortunate, but it was the fault of the post office, and not due to delay on our part."

In commenting on "the fish that got away," Mrs. Teale said: "I can smile but I can't laugh out loud, as this fish was worth $200."

Officers of the Hudson Terminal Branch offer no satisfactory explanation of the delay.

GERMAN PASSENGER LINER REACHES N. Y.
North German Lloyd Line Resumes After a Lapse of Eight Years.

After a lapse of nearly eight years, the North German Lloyd house flag, a blue anchor and key entwined, on a white field, appeared in New York harbor on Sunday last at the mainmast head of the steamship Seydlitz, which brought 76 cabin and 55 third-class passengers and 438 bags of mail from Bremen after 15 days at sea.

A large crowd waiting outside Pier 5, Hoboken, was admitted to the outer end beyond the custom lines. Captain Frederick Rahm, master of the Seydlitz, was welcomed with a floral piece and an address. Captain Rahm said he was greatly pleased to return to New York and hoped the North German Lloyd passenger service would soon regain the position it held in the Atlantic trade before the war.

He was in Bremen in August, 1914, and was put in charge of the hospital ship Godesburg, which carried troops along the coast during the war. The captain said hundreds of masters, mates and engineers were walking about Bremen waiting for ships.

The Seydlitz is a twin-screw ship of 9,800 tons gross, with accommodations for 207 cabin and 350 third-class passengers. The cabin