PELKY CASE IN JURY HANDS

Calgary, June 23—The case of Arthur Pelky, Luther McCarty's antagonist in the ring where McCarty was killed, and who is on trial for manslaughter, was expected to be in the jury's hands about noon today. At the conclusion of the taking of evidence for the crown on Saturday, Pelky's counsel moved that the charge be dismissed on the ground that the crown had not introduced any evidence showing that the fatal blow had been a prize fight or that Pelky was responsible for the death of McCarty.

The king's counsel resisted the motion. He contended that the bout had been advertised as an exhibition to decide the heavyweight championship of the world. His Lordship denied the motion. The defense had little to offer. Several medical men were brought into controversy to the evidence of the medical experts for the crown.

Chicago, Ills., June 23—An appeal from the verdict which sentenced him to a year in prison for violation of the Mann White Slave Act was granted to Jack Johnson, negro pugilist today.

ST. JOHN AUTO TAKES FIRE

G. H. Lounsbury is Stalled on Hill at Lower Coverdale; Car is Destroyed

Moncton, N. B., June 23—A car belonging to the N. B. Motor Co. of St. John, and driven by G. H. Lounsbury, formerly of Chatham, but now of St. John, was burned this morning at Lower Coverdale, a few miles from Moncton. It became stalled on a hill and when Mr. Lounsbury got out of the car and lifted up the hood, a sheet of flame shot out. The car was soon destroyed. Mr. Lounsbury had not even time to save his clothing from the car. The automobile was valued at upwards of $1,000, and was insured for $500.

Miss Ethelind B. Haven of Searport, Maine, who has been engaged as First Baptist pastor's assistant, will arrive in Moncton tomorrow to commence her duties.

G. McL. BROWN HEAD OF CANADA MASONIC LODGE IN MONCTON

London, June 23—Tomorrow, Lord Ampthill, pro-grand master of the Masonic fraternity in England, will install George McLaren Brown, European manager of the C. P. R., as master of the Canada lodge. The lodge comprises 125 Canadians and Anglo-Canadians.

Representatives of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, as well as British Masons, will share in the gathering in Canada's honor.

MASONIC CHANGES

Toronto, June 23—At the next annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Ontario on July 16 and 17, important matters will come up for consideration.

One of the amendments proposed to make a lodge of instruction compulsory once a year in each Masonic district, and that at these lodges of instruction the district deputy grand masters shall be elected, instead of being elected by the delegates from the Masonic districts, in attendance at grand lodge, as at present.

It is proposed that these lodges of instruction shall be held at the direction of the district deputy grand masters, and shall fix the date. In case it is the master of a lodge who is elected a D.G.M., he has no right to appoint a past master residing in Algoma district to represent three or four lodges at the annual communication of the grand lodge.

There is to be a keen competition for the position of deputy grand master. The names most associated with this are Abraham Shaw of Kingston and A. A. Lake of Ottawa.

MAY ADD PINE WOOD TO THE VATICAN GARDENS

Rome, June 23—Owing to the precarious health of the Pontiff after his recent illness, it is understood that negotiations are now going on between the Holy See and Prince Torlonia for the purchase of a pine-wood owned by the prince which lies close to the Vatican gardens. This wood can be reached either by means of an underground passage or on a railway, and would enable the Pope to enjoy a very much larger area for his walks.

WHERE C. P. R. STOCK IS HELD

(Montreal Star)

Much speculation has been indulged in as to where the stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway is at present held.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy this week informed the Monetary Times that the total number of Canadian Pacific common stock shareholders at the present time is about 27,000, the number of Canadian holders being 8,400.

Of the common stockholders in Great Britain have approximately 60 per cent. About 15 per cent. is held in Germany and France; 25 per cent. is divided about equally between Canada and the United States, and the remaining 2 per cent. scattered in the colonies and other countries.

Nearly all the 4 per cent. consolidated debenture stock and the per cent. preference stock is still held in Great Britain.

The Monetary Times prints the following interesting table comparing these figures with the position in January, 1911:

	Jan. 1911	Jan. 1913
Total number of common stock shareholders	24,000	27,000
Number of common stock shareholders in Canada	2,500	3,400
Percentage of common stockholders in Great Britain	60	60
Percentage of common stockholders in Germany	15	15
Percentage of common stockholders in Canada	25	25
Percentage of common stockholders in colonies	2	2

The number of shareholders has increased by 8,000 in the two years and a half. A notable gain of 900 Canadian holders is recorded. On June 20, 1911, 181,000,000 common stock of the company was outstanding. On June 2, 1912, $18,000,000 additional stock was allotted at 150, and on January 2, 1913, $60,000,000 at 175.

POWER FROM WASTE HEAT

English City Will Furnish Electricity, Using Iron Company's Exhaust.

West Hartlepool, Eng., will open its new electric generating station in the course of two or three weeks. The two generators, each of 1,200 kilowatts, will be driven by exhaust steam from the furnace-blowing engines of the Iron Company, adjacent to the station.

In return for their exhaust steam, which has hitherto been blowing to waste in the air, the Iron company will receive free of charge the electricity they need at their works.

Expenditure on coal will practically be eliminated. The coal bill for the present station was £100,000 a year, and as it is anticipated that the consumption of current will largely increase under the cheaper rate now possible, the ultimate saving by the use of waste heat will be very considerable.

Should the supply of exhaust steam not be available, either through a breakdown of the blowing engines, or through the iron works being idle, a supply of high-pressure steam will be obtainable from the iron company.

The total expenditure involved in connection with the new scheme is $185,000, the plant alone having cost $150,000. The old generating station will be maintained as a standby, and also as a town sub-station. The current from the new station will be transformed to the voltage required for distribution to the town—Consular Reports.

SWIFT IOWA JUSTICE

Forty Hours After Crime Begins 30-Year Sentence

Within forty hours after having slashed the throat of Chief of Police J. B. Watkins of Fort Madison, Ia., George Switzer began a thirty-year sentence for the crime in the penitentiary.

Switzer attacked the chief of police Thursday afternoon, Saturday he was sentenced to the penitentiary.

Switzer pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, and sentence was quickly imposed. Ten minutes later Switzer was taken down the street to the penitentiary to begin his term.

Chief Watkins found Switzer lying on the ground, apparently intoxicated. (Thursday) Switzer attempted to investigate, when the man lunged at him with a pocket knife, cutting his throat. The chief was said to be out of danger.

PHOTOGRAPHING FROM KITES

New Method Will Enable the Making of Maps Showing Relief

An Austrian army captain named Scheimpflug has invented a system of aerial photography that gives promise of making maps and captive balloons of real value.

It is a simple matter to send up a kite with a camera attached, and there is no serious difficulty in operating the camera by electricity from the ground. But the value of photographs so taken, for surveying or military purposes has been limited.

This way the photograph is a map of the ground below, but everything is flattened out so that hills and valleys all look alike.

In addition, the small field demands an enormous number of photographs to cover much ground.

Both these troubles are overcome, in part at least, by Captain Scheimpflug's invention. His camera has seven lenses, one pointing directly downward and the others surrounding it at an angle of 45 degrees.

The six indirect lenses of course take pictures showing the relief of the country at some distance from the spot underneath. By taking pictures from several points and then combining the views it is possible to make out the features of the whole territory covered.

A comparison of a map so made with one made from surveys on the earth, shows remarkable accuracy. The system being used for making maps of new country; but the use suggested at once is for military scouting.

In the first place to be accurate the camera must point directly toward the ground and not obliquely. When taken

THREE OPPOSE PROPOSAL OF MR. McLELLAN

Exmouth street is supplied from both ends by four inch mains leading from the large mains in Brussels street and the main leading up Richmond. From Brussels on which the chief drag came, is laid fifty-eight years ago. A four inch pipe with the accumulation of sediment and corrosion which occurs in that length of time will not allow very much water to pass, and while the pressure with a one inch gauge may show as strong as it would on a two foot main, it is not sufficient to do the work.

The Queen of the Belgians was not present at the meeting of the city commissioners this morning. Complaints that were made were concerned on the lot in the harbor were dealt with. In order to leave room for projected improvements several of the lots around the harbor were not offered for lease this year, and some fishermen have taken possession of these lots in competition with others who have paid substantial sums to the city for the privilege. As the result of the representations made to the commissioners and their investigation the matter, orders were given this morning that all such lots should be vacated and any works erected on them removed. The lots in question are located near the Ballast wharf, on the Carleton flats and near Sand Point.

QUEENS COULD EARN A LIVING

Norway's is Expert Typewriter, Belgium's a Physician

Appropos to Queen Mary's essay in painting on china during her tour of the Potteries, a French contemporary remarks that most present-day queens could earn their living at a pinch.

The Queen of the Belgians taken a medical degree at Leipzig, and assisted her father, Duke Charles Theodor of Bavaria in his practice as an oculist. Carline Sylva could make a good income as an author, and might obtain a post as secretary for, in addition to her knowledge of languages, she writes shorthand and is an expert typist.

Another versatile sovereign is the Queen of Norway, who paints admirably trims hats in a style that would insure her a good salary from any high-class milliner, and is a bookbinder of more than average skill.

The German Empress and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland might keep themselves going by painting miniatures—Stray Stories.

A London Sensation

London, June 23—Several prominent politicians, a Russian prince, and well known society persons are concerned in a scandalous story which is now being investigated by a police raid on a Haymarket flat, run by a woman named Queenie Gerald, detectives discovered some extremely compromising documents, implicating big names in London society.

They included letters from three Liberal and two Conservative members of parliament; also one from a relative of the Earl.

Queenie Gerald is charged with carrying on a "white slave" traffic. She threatens to make disclosures on the witness stand.

If you take a saw and hold it at right angles with the wind, teeth upward, and look along the tips of the teeth, you can see the wind streaming by and through the little notches just like a flowing stream. The explanation, says Lawrence Hodges, must be practically the same as for the little streams of wriggly air we sometimes see over our radiators, that is, that the air is broken up into currents is bent to one side and their force noted. The wind, coming with some force, is interrupted by the saw, and this compresses the dense air streams through the notches. The form of the stream is visible to us by the refraction or bending of the light that reaches our eyes from objects or particles seen through the stream.
