A SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

The big Labor Day concert at the York Theatre last evening was a decided success. The attendance was very large and the programme a most interesting one. The programme was as follows: Solos, John T. Kelly, Miss A. Munroe, Harry Doody, Walter Pyne, Chester McCluskey; recitation, Miss Daisy Sears; quartette: Messrs. Perkins, Mayer, Ross and Wilson; solo, Miss Agnes Timony; solo, Miss Stella Pyne; solo, H. J. Campbell; character song, Joe Matthews; whistling solo, Walter Nixon; God Save the King.

Little Miss Bryson, aged about 7 years, who was not on the programme, sang a solo nicely and was accorded. Then she sang "Go God Eyes," and in acknowledging the applause which followed, remarked that she wasn't a very good singer, but she wanted to help the laboring man. This brought down the house. The concert closed with the national anthem.

BIGAMIST AND MURDERER.

George W. Cook killed his wife with a razor at their home in Halifax last night. They were married only three weeks ago. Cook says he is an Englishman, and once served a month's imprisonment for killing a man at Smyrna, Turkey. Twenty years ago he went to St. Johns, Nfld., and married Sarah Chester, who still lives there with a daughter seventeen years old. Last winter, he says, he worked in the woods at Fort Elgin, N. B., for Charles Hicks and Obadiah Godwin, and in the spring, under the name of Thomas Moss, married Margaret Grant of Cape Tormentine. Four weeks ago he went to Halifax, and a week later married the woman he has now murdered.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—A ferryboat while crossing the River Volga today at Berezhiki sank and fifty-eight harvesters were drowned.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 22, 1902.

OPEN THE DOORS.

The faces of the "secret" enquiry into the affairs of the Deaf and Dumb Institution has gone far enough. It is simply disgraceful that garbled reports of the evidence should be printed in the papers favorable to the provincial government which appointed Mr. Commissioner Barry as investigator. Why should the Telegraph be permitted to report Rev. G. M. Campbell's evidence according to its own particular bias, and the reporters of other papers not be given a chance to hear the enquiry? Why should the Gazette be permitted to declare that "disclosures of a most damaging character have been made," while other papers are told there is nothing to be given to the press? The Gazette last evening practically called for the arrest of certain persons connected with the Deaf and Dumb Institution. On whose authority or at whose suggestion was this done? Are Mr. Woodbridge and the staff of the school to be prejudiced in the public mind—are Rev. Canon Roberts and other members of the committee of management to be openly censured by the government press and the evidence withheld by the arbitrary ruling of an appointee of the government?

The Star knows nothing of the merits of the case against the institution. Charges have been made and are being investigated. The enquiry is sometimes secret and sometimes apparently open to Mr. Barry's political friends of the press. In common decency either the press should be admitted to the enquiry and its discretion relied on to decide what should and should not be published, or else the Telegraph and Gazette should be muzzled until all the evidence can be given to the public. There has never been such extraordinary conduct of an enquiry in the province, and for the credit of all concerned it is to be hoped Mr. Commissioner Barry will open the doors and let the press report the evidence. If there has been guilt it should be punished. If there has not, it is cowardly and contemptible on the part of any person to attempt to prejudice the case of the accused. Open the doors and let there be fair play all round.

THE SUCCESSFUL MAN.

To the cheerful and enlightened burglar we pay the tribute of respectful deference. He pursues his calling in this city with amiable persistence, and a degree of success that excites the envy of those who are poor but honest—and unsuccessful. Without any flourish of trumpets, with never a prospectus or advertisement of any kind, he prospers in our midst. He is a citizen of quiet and retiring disposition, who only asks to be let alone. To the credit of the people he is said, this request is invariably granted. If through some inadvertence he is mistaken for a malefactor and brought before the court, an intelligent jury usually sends him back to his work—and the profits of his profession. This is as it should be. Enterprise should be rewarded. The next step should be to leave the latch-string out, so that the industrious snapper-up of trifles will not have to remonstrate with obstinate locks when he makes his nightly rounds. He cannot afford a summer outing along the river, and it is therefore our duty to give him the run of the town. He never intrudes upon a family gathering or offers any indignity to a policeman. In this respect he is extremely regardful of the feelings of others. And his tribe appears to be increasing, which is good for the census. There is also a pleasurable feeling of suspense as to what particular store or domicile he will next honor with his attention.

The Star has received from a correspondent who signs himself "Would-be Burglar," a number of questions to be able to reply, and publishes the information for the benefit of any other persons who desire enlightenment:

Yes, there is a vault in the police court building.

It is situated to the left of the passage leading to the guard room.

Small sums of money are kept in it.

Yes, there are usually one or two officers in the guard room.

It is impossible to state how many burglaries have been committed during the past year.

The best time to break in is when the officers are watching you, but this is at your own risk. One or two thieves have been caught.

The chances of being let go are good. Almost every criminal is set free.

Although no definite information is at hand, it is probable that most of these recent burglaries have been committed by persons who were let go.

Yes.

No.

THE HARLAW.

The steamer Harlaw is running between Halifax, eight Cape Breton and half a dozen Newfoundland ports. This is the steamer that was offered to the government for the St. John, South Shore and Halifax route, and which the government declined to accept, after the St. John Telegraph had published articles rousing Halifax business interests to fierce opposition. Meanwhile the government has not asked for tenders for the South Shore service, though they should have been asked for a year ago, and the Telegraph has not offered to provide a vessel. Between the Telegraph, the government and the preponderating influence Halifax has in the councils of the government, St. John and the South Shore ports have to submit to a gross injustice.

BRITISH CABINET.

Recent Changes Illustrate Wonderful Solidity of British Institutions.

(London Cor. New York Sun.)

It is impossible to withhold just at the present moment some expression of admiration of the wonderful solidity of British institutions. The Spectator exactly describes the situation when it says:

"Almost in silence, without a jar, with no uproar of indignation and no popular demonstration, the command of that huge barque, the British Empire, has been transferred from one hand to another. The ship moves on undisturbed. The crew are all at their stations; there is no sign of alarm, no thought that is now proceeding, or the speed decreased, or the direction changed. It is marvellous testimony to the order which reigns on board, and all the more so because the captain who has disappeared was no more than a figurehead."

THE POPE

And American Methods of Treating Church Affairs.

ROME, July 21.—The Pope received Governor Taft and the members of his party in farewell audience at noon today. The Americans drove in two carriages from their hotel to the Vatican. They were received at the great door of the Vatican by the Swiss Guards, who rendered military honors. At the foot of the state staircase the party were met by Monsignor Bisleti, master of ceremonies, who was accompanied by several other dignitaries of the papal court. At the door of the Pontifical apartments the noble guards and gentlemen rendered the customary honors. The Americans were ushered into the private library and as the door was opened the Pope went half way to meet them and greeted Governor Taft with the greatest cordiality. He commenced the interview by saying he was most satisfied and happy at the results obtained and was confident that the negotiations would be the starting point of a complete and satisfactory solution of the question under discussion. He added that the apostolic delegate soon to be appointed would be instructed most strictly and precisely regarding carrying out the ideas determined by the United States and the Vatican, saying: "I will see that orders be given him as to his work, over which I will watch personally."

Turning the conversation, the Pope expressed the highest esteem for American methods of treating church matters. In fact he had more than once pointed to the United States as setting an example well worth copying.

Governor Taft thanked the Pope for the promptness and courtesy shown during his visit and promised cooperation upon the business on the lines agreed upon at Rome. He expressed regret at the fact that the negotiations had been made the occasion for the circulation of false and even calumnious rumors in various papers and by some telegraphic agencies, which had given rise to unfavorable comments upon the business on the lines also protested against such false reports, but he philosophically declared that by this time he was accustomed to that kind of misrepresentation.

The pontiff then rose with unusual activity, walked with the Americans to the opposite side of the room and sending to President Roosevelt's return for the president's present of a box containing his (Mr. Roosevelt's) literary works.

The mosaic is a copy of Corrid's well known picture of Pope Leo sitting on the terrace of the Vatican gardens surveying Rome. It was made in the Vatican workshop of the artist.

The Pope then gave Bishop O'Gorman an autograph letter to President Roosevelt.

Members of Governor Taft's party asked the Pope to bless several boxes of rosaries and other religious mementoes, which his holiness did most willingly, adding that his benediction was extended to all their religions and friends.

After forty minutes' audience, in which the conversation was entirely carried on in French, Bishop O'Gorman and Major Porter translating, the Pope saw the Americans to the door of the library.

Governor Taft and his companions then called on the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Rampolla, with whom they exchanged somewhat similar courtesies.

Later Governor Taft, accompanied by Judge Smith and Capt. Strother, left Rome for Naples.

PREMIER BALFOUR.

LONDON, July 21.—Premier Balfour at the opening of the conservative club at Fulham on Saturday, referred to the colonies. He said if the results of the imperial conference should bring about increased prosperity or peace, or aid in times of trouble, it would be well for the empire. If, however, no formal agreement is considered necessary, it will also be well. Formal arrangements, Balfour suggested, are good and even necessary, but treaties and protocols result in nothing unless they represent the sentiments of the great populations behind the colonies. The colonies had shown their patriotism in the national emergency. "Evidences of such spirit being there, it matters relatively little," declared Balfour, "if I do not say it does not matter at all, in what particular form these great sentiments of the empire are embodied." The opinion prevails that Balfour's speech warrants slight hope of results from the imperial conference.

NEW BRUNSWICK COPPER.

Satisfactory Progress Made By the Company at Dorchester.

(Industrial Advocate, Halifax.)

Affairs at the Intercolonial copper mine, between Sackville and Dorchester, N. B., are proceeding very satisfactory—more so, in fact, than ever before. The new bearings of the roasters, which were made at St. John, N. B., are answering the purpose so well that the company propose to use them exclusively for the approaching season. The twenty-five miners are constantly at work getting out ore, which is used as fast as it comes from the mine. This ore contains from 3.1 to 3 per cent, copper—averaging about 80 pounds to the ton. The copper has been proved by the most careful chemical tests to contain but one-tenth of one per cent. of impurity and has been drawn out into wire one-thousandth of an inch in diameter. The company claims to be the only concern in Canada that carries on in one place and under one management the various processes of mining, milling and refining copper. Large expenditures of money on new buildings and new machinery are in contemplation for the approaching season. The company has bought out the Westmorland Miffling Co., whose property adjoins that of the Intercolonial Co., so that it now holds under an eighty-year lease three square miles of land, has fifteen square miles under prospecting license, and owns 300 acres in fee simple. If the company falls through, it will not be for lack of mining territory.

The Advocate has had laid upon its desks samples of the electrolytic copper as it is detached from the lead plates in the precipitating tanks and from all appearances the metal looks to be very pure and almost ready for the consumer. We have received a very neat booklet descriptive of the company's plant which is very interesting. We believe that the Intercolonial Copper Co. has an inviting future before it.

BURNS' STATUE UNVEILED.

TORONTO, July 21.—The Scotchmen of Ontario celebrated here today the 106th anniversary of Robert Burns' death by unveiling a splendid replica of the Burns' statue at Leith, Scotland. The statue unveiled in the Allen gardens today is of fine bronze, nine feet high, on a pedestal twelve feet in height, made of Canadian granite. The bronze figure was executed by D. W. Stevenson, the well known sculptor of Edinburgh. The unveiling ceremony was performed by Mrs. David Walker of this city in the absence of Lord Dundonald, from whom a letter was read expressing regret he could not come to Canada in time to perform the ceremony, as requested.

MANITOBA.

WINNIPEG, July 21.—The industrial exhibition was formally opened today by Lieut. Governor MacMillan in the presence of ten thousand people. The number of entries is the largest on record and the exhibition promises to be very successful financially and otherwise. The weather is fine and warm.

IRISH LONDONERS COMBINE.

DUBLIN, July 21.—Irish Londoners have formed a combination with a capital of $50,000 to protect themselves against the United Irish League. The prospectus of the combination makes complaint that the government has failed to afford the landowners adequate assistance and says that, therefore, united effort on their part is necessary. Among the leading members of the combination are Arthur Hugh Smith Barry and Lord Clonbrock.

CANADA'S IMMIGRATION.

OTTAWA, July 21.—The interior department has completed the immigration figures for the fiscal year ending 30th June last. British immigration totalled 17,000. The previous year was 11,510. Eleven thousand has been the average figures of British arrivals for some years.
