Spring Trade. 1859. BEG leave to inform my friends and the public, that I have commenced the Corn, Flour, Provision,

COFR, Flour, Provision,
And Greery Business.
ON STRICTLY CASH PRINCIPLES, My past experience having led me to this conclusion. The man who buys for CASH should certainly bave an advantage over the one who buys on Credit,—for then he has not to pay the bad debts made by credit sales.
So long as I sell for CASH ONLY, I shall have no losses for my customers to make up, and I am determined to allow for every advantage this should command, making it an object for you to purchase for money.
I shall buy for cash in the most advantageous markets, either personally or through reliable agents, and shall endeavor at all times to keep well-selected and varied stock on hand By means of Rail Roads, we are now placed easy communication with other places, and am confident that it will be for the interest of Traders abroad as well as customers at home, to examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere.
With the full determination of doing all in my power to please and satisfy my customers, I would solicit a share of your patronage.

Respectfully, Yours,
ALEX. GILMOR.
