

he left altogether without influence. Indeed, it is hinted that this provision is so ample as to have already excited no inconsiderable indignation in a noble lord who was imagined to have been unfairly deprived of the advantages he formerly possessed. Of this, however, we know nothing; it is, for the present, quite enough for us to know that two members of Sir R. Peel's late Cabinet, and a nobleman who held an appointment in the royal household under the same administration, have accepted office at the hands of Lord John Russell.

LONDON CORN EXCHANGE.
English wheat dull, and Monday's rates were with difficulty supported. In free foreign there was but little passing, but holders show no disposition to yield in price. Barley steadily maintains its position, but with a slow decline. Peas and peas unaltered in value. The oat trade is not worse than Wednesday. It is a little asked for that they cannot be sold without greater reduction.

The Bazaar in the Army.—The military bazaar, in honor of the birthday of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, was on Tuesday night's Gazette. The three oldest generals in the army have received the highest military title (that of Field Marshal) in the power of the sovereign to bestow, though at far advanced periods of their lives. The name which first catches the eye of the reader is Sir George Nugent, a gallant veteran, who has reached the advanced age of eighty-nine, and who has been connected with the service of his country for no less than seventy-three years. He was engaged in the first American war from 1777, until its termination in 1783. Field Marshal Grosvenor entered the army in 1779. The Marquis of Anglesey's services are well known. Sir George Cockburn is now the senior general in the army, having entered in 1779, and been promoted to the rank in question in 1810. Four Lieut. Generals have several staff appointments well accorded to usage, become vacant. Two of the eminent families of Napier have been promoted. Amongst those advanced from the rank of colonel to that of major general, are some officers whose names are not familiar to the public, viz. Sir H. Smith, the hero of Alwal, Sir Ed. Evans, Sir Joseph Thackwell, and the Hon. Colonel Cavendish, of the 1st Life Guards, the lieutenant colonel of which is now vacant. We cannot give the official announcement of the brevet, but the summary is as follows:—

Major Generals to be General 43
Lieutenant Colonels to be General 13
Major Generals to be Lieutenant General 44
Lieutenant Colonels to be Colonel 92
Majors to be Lieutenant Colonel 92
Colonels to be Major 181
Total number of officers promoted 490

Miss Barrett's New Church.—It might be recalled that some months since an announcement was first published, that Miss A. Barrett Coult had handed to the Lord Bishop of London a bank cheque upon the firm of Coult and Co., at the same time authorizing the rev. prelate to fill it up with such amount as he might think necessary for the erection and endowment of a new church, and the purchase of a site, the building of schools and parsonage-house, in a densely populated portion of Westminster, which city her father, Sir Francis Barrett, represented so many years in parliament. Estimates for the building were made, and calculations entered into for the necessary endowment, when it was found that a sum little less than £200,000 would be required, respecting being had to the most ample gratuitous accommodation for the poor. The announcement of this sum drew down upon the bishop severe animadversions, and those who were ignorant of the facts on which the estimate had been made, the consequence of which was that the bishop felt some delicacy in proceeding with the matter, and until a few days since the subject remained in abeyance. The munificent donor, however, determined not to be thwarted in her pious purpose, and she has had a communication with a celebrated architect, and with the bishop's consent, the new church, &c. will be forthwith commenced, the designs having been approved of, and an eligible site obtained. It will be erected in Rochester-row, and arrangements will be made for the purchase of the site, which the young benefactress, Miss Barrett Coult, has already donated to the incumency, the parsonage ever afterwards being vested in the Lord Bishop of the diocese.—John Bell.

THE REPEAL ASSOCIATION.—The usual weekly meeting of the Repeal Association was held on Monday. After the customary quantity of preliminary matter, Mr. O'Connell said the illness of his clerk would prevent his entering into the present prospects of Repeal, the state of the country, and replying to the Cork Reporter. He hoped at the next meeting to enter more fully into these subjects. A bitter attack on the young Irishmen, whom he described as more than patriots, the learned gentleman referred to the state of the country, and the destination of different parts of it, and concluded, by stating that he was to attend a meeting of the Royal Agricultural Society on Wednesday, and would be hoped that they would adopt a liberal policy with reference to her condition. The rest was announced at 8.30.

Symptoms.—An order from the Board of Ordnance was promulgated at Portsmouth, on Wednesday morning, for the immediate supply of 35 rounds of cartridges, with shot for each of the 22-pounders mounted upon the fortifications of these towns. Six 68-pounder guns are to be immediately mounted on the King's Revelatory battery in this garrison. All the guns (sixteen 68's) are also to be mounted on the lower tier of Blackhouse Fort as soon as possible; and all the guns at present in this garrison are to be mounted as soon as they can be got ready.—The Resistance, just arrived from abroad, is ordered into harbour to be paid off, and re-commissioned immediately. Captain Patey was promoted from the rank of Commander on the 27th June last, by Lord Ellenborough.

The Monthly Meeting of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge was held on Tuesday. The Bishop of London in the chair. The vote of 2000 was made for religious purposes in China, and £100 for Bibles and Prayer books for the Church in Scotland. On the latter vote being put, a member inquired whether the Prayer books were to be those issued by the Society? On being told that the Society never issued any other than the English Prayer-book, the interrogator remarked, "It was glad that the Scottish Episcopal Church was returning to Protestantism!" The Sheriff of Kilkenny, a Mr. Grace, has been accused of embezzling £10,000 the property of a public charity.

Owing to the risks of the idle and disorderly persons of the County of Clare, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland has suspended for the present all public works of the Salopina Journal, has addressed a letter to the editor of that paper, stating that "Mr. John Thomas, gas proprietor, of Wem, has succeeded in producing an explosive cotton, different to all others, in being stronger and not percussive, whereby the danger of ramming is totally avoided." From experiments made by Samuel Walsley, Esq., solicitor, it is full three times stronger than gunpowder, weight for weight. This gentleman, on Saturday last, shot partridges with charges only one-fourth of that of gunpowder, and was, of course, amused and astonished at the effects of a pinch of cotton wool. No doubt that the first gun which has been brought to hand by the explosive power of this fibrous substance. The above preparation is free from smell or smoke, quicker than gunpowder, and does not soil paper when ignited upon it. There is a general impression that the fibrous invention may be improved, but with it it seems to be perfect itself, and will be much used accordingly, by way of trial, among our friends.

SPAIN.
Tranquillity was disturbed in Saragossa on the 25th ult. The authorities had been informed that a movement was contemplated, and had adopted the necessary precautions. In the evening of that day, several armed groups having made their appearance in the streets, the military force was ordered to assemble, and marched with a body of troops against the rioters, who dispersed on their approach. (Order was given to fire, but it was not done, as the rioters fired first.) Several persons were killed or wounded. The military force was ordered to assemble, and marched with a body of troops against the rioters, who dispersed on their approach. (Order was given to fire, but it was not done, as the rioters fired first.) Several persons were killed or wounded. The military force was ordered to assemble, and marched with a body of troops against the rioters, who dispersed on their approach. (Order was given to fire, but it was not done, as the rioters fired first.) Several persons were killed or wounded.

PORTUGAL.
The news from Portugal received on Monday described the military operations of the 20th ult. as a civil war appeared inevitable. Oporto has opened the standard of resistance to the Queen's authority. Coimbra, Braga, Vila Rica, Laredo, and many other towns in every province, have followed the example which the peasantry at the very commencement of the war. The King and the Queen are in the city of Oporto. The King is exhibiting much energy and activity, and has ordered the military force to be sent to Oporto. The King and the Queen are in the city of Oporto. The King is exhibiting much energy and activity, and has ordered the military force to be sent to Oporto.

THE CHRONICLE.
SAINT JOHN, DEC. 11, 1846.
Eastern News.—On Monday evening the English steamer Novus arrived at the Port Office in this city. It was brought to anchor in the harbor, 12 days from Liverpool. She brought 50 passengers, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. William Wright of this city. The following summary of news is copied from latest English papers:—

SYMPTOMS OF COALITION.
From the London Standard.
If the statements of the following paragraph may be relied upon, two of the members of the late cabinet, one an interested head, Sir James Graham, the other Lord Lincoln, joins the present ministry; to effect the job, poor Lord Campbell is to be shelled under a board:—

THE DEPARTMENT OF LANCASTER.—We understand that a department of the government, hitherto carried on under a chief, is for the future, to be managed by the same chief, assisted by a board of unpaid commissioners. The department alluded to is that of the Duchy of Lancaster; and it is interesting to know that the same chief, however surprising the fact may appear to our readers, will be composed of the Earl Spencer, the Earl of Lincoln, Sir J. Graham, and the Earl of Harwicke. These Commissioners will receive no pecuniary remuneration; but we do not think that the department will be managed by virtue of the fact that the new board will not be left altogether without influence. Indeed, it is hinted that this provision is so ample as to have already excited no inconsiderable indignation in a noble lord who was imagined to have been unfairly deprived of the advantages he formerly possessed. Of this, however, we know nothing; it is, for the present, quite enough for us to know that two members of Sir R. Peel's late Cabinet, and a nobleman who held an appointment in the royal household under the same administration, have accepted office at the hands of Lord John Russell.

LONDON CORN EXCHANGE.
English wheat dull, and Monday's rates were with difficulty supported. In free foreign there was but little passing, but holders show no disposition to yield in price. Barley steadily maintains its position, but with a slow decline. Peas and peas unaltered in value. The oat trade is not worse than Wednesday. It is a little asked for that they cannot be sold without greater reduction.

The Bazaar in the Army.—The military bazaar, in honor of the birthday of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, was on Tuesday night's Gazette. The three oldest generals in the army have received the highest military title (that of Field Marshal) in the power of the sovereign to bestow, though at far advanced periods of their lives. The name which first catches the eye of the reader is Sir George Nugent, a gallant veteran, who has reached the advanced age of eighty-nine, and who has been connected with the service of his country for no less than seventy-three years. He was engaged in the first American war from 1777, until its termination in 1783. Field Marshal Grosvenor entered the army in 1779. The Marquis of Anglesey's services are well known. Sir George Cockburn is now the senior general in the army, having entered in 1779, and been promoted to the rank in question in 1810. Four Lieut. Generals have several staff appointments well accorded to usage, become vacant. Two of the eminent families of Napier have been promoted. Amongst those advanced from the rank of colonel to that of major general, are some officers whose names are not familiar to the public, viz. Sir H. Smith, the hero of Alwal, Sir Ed. Evans, Sir Joseph Thackwell, and the Hon. Colonel Cavendish, of the 1st Life Guards, the lieutenant colonel of which is now vacant. We cannot give the official announcement of the brevet, but the summary is as follows:—

Major Generals to be General 43
Lieutenant Colonels to be General 13
Major Generals to be Lieutenant General 44
Lieutenant Colonels to be Colonel 92
Majors to be Lieutenant Colonel 92
Colonels to be Major 181
Total number of officers promoted 490

Miss Barrett's New Church.—It might be recalled that some months since an announcement was first published, that Miss A. Barrett Coult had handed to the Lord Bishop of London a bank cheque upon the firm of Coult and Co., at the same time authorizing the rev. prelate to fill it up with such amount as he might think necessary for the erection and endowment of a new church, and the purchase of a site, the building of schools and parsonage-house, in a densely populated portion of Westminster, which city her father, Sir Francis Barrett, represented so many years in parliament. Estimates for the building were made, and calculations entered into for the necessary endowment, when it was found that a sum little less than £200,000 would be required, respecting being had to the most ample gratuitous accommodation for the poor. The announcement of this sum drew down upon the bishop severe animadversions, and those who were ignorant of the facts on which the estimate had been made, the consequence of which was that the bishop felt some delicacy in proceeding with the matter, and until a few days since the subject remained in abeyance. The munificent donor, however, determined not to be thwarted in her pious purpose, and she has had a communication with a celebrated architect, and with the bishop's consent, the new church, &c. will be forthwith commenced, the designs having been approved of, and an eligible site obtained. It will be erected in Rochester-row, and arrangements will be made for the purchase of the site, which the young benefactress, Miss Barrett Coult, has already donated to the incumency, the parsonage ever afterwards being vested in the Lord Bishop of the diocese.—John Bell.

THE REPEAL ASSOCIATION.—The usual weekly meeting of the Repeal Association was held on Monday. After the customary quantity of preliminary matter, Mr. O'Connell said the illness of his clerk would prevent his entering into the present prospects of Repeal, the state of the country, and replying to the Cork Reporter. He hoped at the next meeting to enter more fully into these subjects. A bitter attack on the young Irishmen, whom he described as more than patriots, the learned gentleman referred to the state of the country, and the destination of different parts of it, and concluded, by stating that he was to attend a meeting of the Royal Agricultural Society on Wednesday, and would be hoped that they would adopt a liberal policy with reference to her condition. The rest was announced at 8.30.

Symptoms.—An order from the Board of Ordnance was promulgated at Portsmouth, on Wednesday morning, for the immediate supply of 35 rounds of cartridges, with shot for each of the 22-pounders mounted upon the fortifications of these towns. Six 68-pounder guns are to be immediately mounted on the King's Revelatory battery in this garrison. All the guns (sixteen 68's) are also to be mounted on the lower tier of Blackhouse Fort as soon as possible; and all the guns at present in this garrison are to be mounted as soon as they can be got ready.—The Resistance, just arrived from abroad, is ordered into harbour to be paid off, and re-commissioned immediately. Captain Patey was promoted from the rank of Commander on the 27th June last, by Lord Ellenborough.

The Monthly Meeting of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge was held on Tuesday. The Bishop of London in the chair. The vote of 2000 was made for religious purposes in China, and £100 for Bibles and Prayer books for the Church in Scotland. On the latter vote being put, a member inquired whether the Prayer books were to be those issued by the Society? On being told that the Society never issued any other than the English Prayer-book, the interrogator remarked, "It was glad that the Scottish Episcopal Church was returning to Protestantism!" The Sheriff of Kilkenny, a Mr. Grace, has been accused of embezzling £10,000 the property of a public charity.

Owing to the risks of the idle and disorderly persons of the County of Clare, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland has suspended for the present all public works of the Salopina Journal, has addressed a letter to the editor of that paper, stating that "Mr. John Thomas, gas proprietor, of Wem, has succeeded in producing an explosive cotton, different to all others, in being stronger and not percussive, whereby the danger of ramming is totally avoided." From experiments made by Samuel Walsley, Esq., solicitor, it is full three times stronger than gunpowder, weight for weight. This gentleman, on Saturday last, shot partridges with charges only one-fourth of that of gunpowder, and was, of course, amused and astonished at the effects of a pinch of cotton wool. No doubt that the first gun which has been brought to hand by the explosive power of this fibrous substance. The above preparation is free from smell or smoke, quicker than gunpowder, and does not soil paper when ignited upon it. There is a general impression that the fibrous invention may be improved, but with it it seems to be perfect itself, and will be much used accordingly, by way of trial, among our friends.

SPAIN.
Tranquillity was disturbed in Saragossa on the 25th ult. The authorities had been informed that a movement was contemplated, and had adopted the necessary precautions. In the evening of that day, several armed groups having made their appearance in the streets, the military force was ordered to assemble, and marched with a body of troops against the rioters, who dispersed on their approach. (Order was given to fire, but it was not done, as the rioters fired first.) Several persons were killed or wounded. The military force was ordered to assemble, and marched with a body of troops against the rioters, who dispersed on their approach. (Order was given to fire, but it was not done, as the rioters fired first.) Several persons were killed or wounded.

PORTUGAL.
The news from Portugal received on Monday described the military operations of the 20th ult. as a civil war appeared inevitable. Oporto has opened the standard of resistance to the Queen's authority. Coimbra, Braga, Vila Rica, Laredo, and many other towns in every province, have followed the example which the peasantry at the very commencement of the war. The King and the Queen are in the city of Oporto. The King is exhibiting much energy and activity, and has ordered the military force to be sent to Oporto. The King and the Queen are in the city of Oporto. The King is exhibiting much energy and activity, and has ordered the military force to be sent to Oporto.

THE CHRONICLE.
SAINT JOHN, DEC. 11, 1846.
Eastern News.—On Monday evening the English steamer Novus arrived at the Port Office in this city. It was brought to anchor in the harbor, 12 days from Liverpool. She brought 50 passengers, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. William Wright of this city. The following summary of news is copied from latest English papers:—

SYMPTOMS OF COALITION.
From the London Standard.
If the statements of the following paragraph may be relied upon, two of the members of the late cabinet, one an interested head, Sir James Graham, the other Lord Lincoln, joins the present ministry; to effect the job, poor Lord Campbell is to be shelled under a board:—

THE DEPARTMENT OF LANCASTER.—We understand that a department of the government, hitherto carried on under a chief, is for the future, to be managed by the same chief, assisted by a board of unpaid commissioners. The department alluded to is that of the Duchy of Lancaster; and it is interesting to know that the same chief, however surprising the fact may appear to our readers, will be composed of the Earl Spencer, the Earl of Lincoln, Sir J. Graham, and the Earl of Harwicke. These Commissioners will receive no pecuniary remuneration; but we do not think that the department will be managed by virtue of the fact that the new board will not be left altogether without influence. Indeed, it is hinted that this provision is so ample as to have already excited no inconsiderable indignation in a noble lord who was imagined to have been unfairly deprived of the advantages he formerly possessed. Of this, however, we know nothing; it is, for the present, quite enough for us to know that two members of Sir R. Peel's late Cabinet, and a nobleman who held an appointment in the royal household under the same administration, have accepted office at the hands of Lord John Russell.

LONDON CORN EXCHANGE.
English wheat dull, and Monday's rates were with difficulty supported. In free foreign there was but little passing, but holders show no disposition to yield in price. Barley steadily maintains its position, but with a slow decline. Peas and peas unaltered in value. The oat trade is not worse than Wednesday. It is a little asked for that they cannot be sold without greater reduction.

The Bazaar in the Army.—The military bazaar, in honor of the birthday of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, was on Tuesday night's Gazette. The three oldest generals in the army have received the highest military title (that of Field Marshal) in the power of the sovereign to bestow, though at far advanced periods of their lives. The name which first catches the eye of the reader is Sir George Nugent, a gallant veteran, who has reached the advanced age of eighty-nine, and who has been connected with the service of his country for no less than seventy-three years. He was engaged in the first American war from 1777, until its termination in 1783. Field Marshal Grosvenor entered the army in 1779. The Marquis of Anglesey's services are well known. Sir George Cockburn is now the senior general in the army, having entered in 1779, and been promoted to the rank in question in 1810. Four Lieut. Generals have several staff appointments well accorded to usage, become vacant. Two of the eminent families of Napier have been promoted. Amongst those advanced from the rank of colonel to that of major general, are some officers whose names are not familiar to the public, viz. Sir H. Smith, the hero of Alwal, Sir Ed. Evans, Sir Joseph Thackwell, and the Hon. Colonel Cavendish, of the 1st Life Guards, the lieutenant colonel of which is now vacant. We cannot give the official announcement of the brevet, but the summary is as follows:—

Major Generals to be General 43
Lieutenant Colonels to be General 13
Major Generals to be Lieutenant General 44
Lieutenant Colonels to be Colonel 92
Majors to be Lieutenant Colonel 92
Colonels to be Major 181
Total number of officers promoted 490

Miss Barrett's New Church.—It might be recalled that some months since an announcement was first published, that Miss A. Barrett Coult had handed to the Lord Bishop of London a bank cheque upon the firm of Coult and Co., at the same time authorizing the rev. prelate to fill it up with such amount as he might think necessary for the erection and endowment of a new church, and the purchase of a site, the building of schools and parsonage-house, in a densely populated portion of Westminster, which city her father, Sir Francis Barrett, represented so many years in parliament. Estimates for the building were made, and calculations entered into for the necessary endowment, when it was found that a sum little less than £200,000 would be required, respecting being had to the most ample gratuitous accommodation for the poor. The announcement of this sum drew down upon the bishop severe animadversions, and those who were ignorant of the facts on which the estimate had been made, the consequence of which was that the bishop felt some delicacy in proceeding with the matter, and until a few days since the subject remained in abeyance. The munificent donor, however, determined not to be thwarted in her pious purpose, and she has had a communication with a celebrated architect, and with the bishop's consent, the new church, &c. will be forthwith commenced, the designs having been approved of, and an eligible site obtained. It will be erected in Rochester-row, and arrangements will be made for the purchase of the site, which the young benefactress, Miss Barrett Coult, has already donated to the incumency, the parsonage ever afterwards being vested in the Lord Bishop of the diocese.—John Bell.

THE REPEAL ASSOCIATION.—The usual weekly meeting of the Repeal Association was held on Monday. After the customary quantity of preliminary matter, Mr. O'Connell said the illness of his clerk would prevent his entering into the present prospects of Repeal, the state of the country, and replying to the Cork Reporter. He hoped at the next meeting to enter more fully into these subjects. A bitter attack on the young Irishmen, whom he described as more than patriots, the learned gentleman referred to the state of the country, and the destination of different parts of it, and concluded, by stating that he was to attend a meeting of the Royal Agricultural Society on Wednesday, and would be hoped that they would adopt a liberal policy with reference to her condition. The rest was announced at 8.30.

Symptoms.—An order from the Board of Ordnance was promulgated at Portsmouth, on Wednesday morning, for the immediate supply of 35 rounds of cartridges, with shot for each of the 22-pounders mounted upon the fortifications of these towns. Six 68-pounder guns are to be immediately mounted on the King's Revelatory battery in this garrison. All the guns (sixteen 68's) are also to be mounted on the lower tier of Blackhouse Fort as soon as possible; and all the guns at present in this garrison are to be mounted as soon as they can be got ready.—The Resistance, just arrived from abroad, is ordered into harbour to be paid off, and re-commissioned immediately. Captain Patey was promoted from the rank of Commander on the 27th June last, by Lord Ellenborough.

The Monthly Meeting of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge was held on Tuesday. The Bishop of London in the chair. The vote of 2000 was made for religious purposes in China, and £100 for Bibles and Prayer books for the Church in Scotland. On the latter vote being put, a member inquired whether the Prayer books were to be those issued by the Society? On being told that the Society never issued any other than the English Prayer-book, the interrogator remarked, "It was glad that the Scottish Episcopal Church was returning to Protestantism!" The Sheriff of Kilkenny, a Mr. Grace, has been accused of embezzling £10,000 the property of a public charity.

Owing to the risks of the idle and disorderly persons of the County of Clare, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland has suspended for the present all public works of the Salopina Journal, has addressed a letter to the editor of that paper, stating that "Mr. John Thomas, gas proprietor, of Wem, has succeeded in producing an explosive cotton, different to all others, in being stronger and not percussive, whereby the danger of ramming is totally avoided." From experiments made by Samuel Walsley, Esq., solicitor, it is full three times stronger than gunpowder, weight for weight. This gentleman, on Saturday last, shot partridges with charges only one-fourth of that of gunpowder, and was, of course, amused and astonished at the effects of a pinch of cotton wool. No doubt that the first gun which has been brought to hand by the explosive power of this fibrous substance. The above preparation is free from smell or smoke, quicker than gunpowder, and does not soil paper when ignited upon it. There is a general impression that the fibrous invention may be improved, but with it it seems to be perfect itself, and will be much used accordingly, by way of trial, among our friends.

SPAIN.
Tranquillity was disturbed in Saragossa on the 25th ult. The authorities had been informed that a movement was contemplated, and had adopted the necessary precautions. In the evening of that day, several armed groups having made their appearance in the streets, the military force was ordered to assemble, and marched with a body of troops against the rioters, who dispersed on their approach. (Order was given to fire, but it was not done, as the rioters fired first.) Several persons were killed or wounded. The military force was ordered to assemble, and marched with a body of troops against the rioters, who dispersed on their approach. (Order was given to fire, but it was not done, as the rioters fired first.) Several persons were killed or wounded.

PORTUGAL.
The news from Portugal received on Monday described the military operations of the 20th ult. as a civil war appeared inevitable. Oporto has opened the standard of resistance to the Queen's authority. Coimbra, Braga, Vila Rica, Laredo, and many other towns in every province, have followed the example which the peasantry at the very commencement of the war. The King and the Queen are in the city of Oporto. The King is exhibiting much energy and activity, and has ordered the military force to be sent to Oporto. The King and the Queen are in the city of Oporto. The King is exhibiting much energy and activity, and has ordered the military force to be sent to Oporto.

THE CHRONICLE.
SAINT JOHN, DEC. 11, 1846.
Eastern News.—On Monday evening the English steamer Novus arrived at the Port Office in this city. It was brought to anchor in the harbor, 12 days from Liverpool. She brought 50 passengers, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. William Wright of this city. The following summary of news is copied from latest English papers:—

SYMPTOMS OF COALITION.
From the London Standard.
If the statements of the following paragraph may be relied upon, two of the members of the late cabinet, one an interested head, Sir James Graham, the other Lord Lincoln, joins the present ministry; to effect the job, poor Lord Campbell is to be shelled under a board:—

THE DEPARTMENT OF LANCASTER.—We understand that a department of the government, hitherto carried on under a chief, is for the future, to be managed by the same chief, assisted by a board of unpaid commissioners. The department alluded to is that of the Duchy of Lancaster; and it is interesting to know that the same chief, however surprising the fact may appear to our readers, will be composed of the Earl Spencer, the Earl of Lincoln, Sir J. Graham, and the Earl of Harwicke. These Commissioners will receive no pecuniary remuneration; but we do not think that the department will be managed by virtue of the fact that the new board will not be left altogether without influence. Indeed, it is hinted that this provision is so ample as to have already excited no inconsiderable indignation in a noble lord who was imagined to have been unfairly deprived of the advantages he formerly possessed. Of this, however, we know nothing; it is, for the present, quite enough for us to know that two members of Sir R. Peel's late Cabinet, and a nobleman who held an appointment in the royal household under the same administration, have accepted office at the hands of Lord John Russell.

LONDON CORN EXCHANGE.
English wheat dull, and Monday's rates were with difficulty supported. In free foreign there was but little passing, but holders show no disposition to yield in price. Barley steadily maintains its position, but with a slow decline. Peas and peas unaltered in value. The oat trade is not worse than Wednesday. It is a little asked for that they cannot be sold without greater reduction.

The Bazaar in the Army.—The military bazaar, in honor of the birthday of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, was on Tuesday night's Gazette. The three oldest generals in the army have received the highest military title (that of Field Marshal) in the power of the sovereign to bestow, though at far advanced periods of their lives. The name which first catches the eye of the reader is Sir George Nugent, a gallant veteran, who has reached the advanced age of eighty-nine, and who has been connected with the service of his country for no less than seventy-three years. He was engaged in the first American war from 1777, until its termination in 1783. Field Marshal Grosvenor entered the army in 1779. The Marquis of Anglesey's services are well known. Sir George Cockburn is now the senior general in the army, having entered in 1779, and been promoted to the rank in question in 1810. Four Lieut. Generals have several staff appointments well accorded to usage, become vacant. Two of the eminent families of Napier have been promoted. Amongst those advanced from the rank of colonel to that of major general, are some officers whose names are not familiar to the public, viz. Sir H. Smith, the hero of Alwal, Sir Ed. Evans, Sir Joseph Thackwell, and the Hon. Colonel Cavendish, of the 1st Life Guards, the lieutenant colonel of which is now vacant. We cannot give the official announcement of the brevet, but the summary is as follows:—

Major Generals to be General 43
Lieutenant Colonels to be General 13
Major Generals to be Lieutenant General 44
Lieutenant Colonels to be Colonel 92
Majors to be Lieutenant Colonel 92
Colonels to be Major 181
Total number of officers promoted 490

Miss Barrett's New Church.—It might be recalled that some months since an announcement was first published, that Miss A. Barrett Coult had handed to the Lord Bishop of London a bank cheque upon the firm of Coult and Co., at the same time authorizing the rev. prelate to fill it up with such amount as he might think necessary for the erection and endowment of a new church, and the purchase of a site, the building of schools and parsonage-house, in a densely populated portion of Westminster, which city her father, Sir Francis Barrett, represented so many years in parliament. Estimates for the building were made, and calculations entered into for the necessary endowment, when it was found that a sum little less than £200,000 would be required, respecting being had to the most ample gratuitous accommodation for the poor. The announcement of this sum drew down upon the bishop severe animadversions, and those who were ignorant of the facts on which the estimate had been made, the consequence of which was that the bishop felt some delicacy in proceeding with the matter, and until a few days since the subject remained in abeyance. The munificent donor, however, determined not to be thwarted in her pious purpose, and she has had a communication with a celebrated architect, and with the bishop's consent, the new church, &c. will be forthwith commenced, the designs having been approved of, and an eligible site obtained. It will be erected in Rochester-row, and arrangements will be made for the purchase of the site, which the young benefactress, Miss Barrett Coult, has already donated to the incumency, the parsonage ever afterwards being vested in the Lord Bishop of the diocese.—John Bell.