

WIGMORE IS ELECTED BY 4,200 VOTES

Liberal Candidate Loses His Deposit in the St. John Election.

But, as every ward in the city and every parish in the two counties returned majorities for the favored son of this city, the enthusiasm of the crowd knew no bounds and the hearty cheers that sprung from happy throats lifted the rafters.
Everybody was happy, and all had a right to feel that way. The electorate had stood solidly behind a man in whom it had confidence and respect, and gave its stamp of approval to the policy, plans and aims of the National Party, whose standard-bearer has been emphatically proclaimed by the electorate.
Mr. Wigmore All Smiles.
The smiling face of the Minister of Customs, the Hon. R. W. Wigmore, appeared in the doorway of the assembly room when the secretary was about to read the returns from Lancaster. It was the signal for a hearty demonstration which, for fervor and enthusiasm, has seldom been equalled in any public place in the city. Cheers upon cheers rang the air, hats were flying to the ceiling, and a rush was made to grab the hand of the victor. After the chairman, L. P. D. Tolley, got the tumult subsided, he led the Minister to the platform, where he could be seen and heard by all.

The Minister's Address.

He spent a few minutes reviewing the returns as they appeared on the blackboard. His face beamed with joyous satisfaction as the figures revealed his majorities in each ward and parish. "Speech" "Speech" was the cry from all corners of the hall. In response to the demands, the Minister spoke as follows:
"Ladies and Gentlemen—I can assure you I am as proud of the victory your ladies have won today. This was your day, not mine. I was only your standard-bearer, and hence I shall prove a worthy one. It will be my pleasure to see you again in your own seats on one of the next days. My confidence has been inspired. Today you have given Maclean's King the answer. He had the audacity to come here and tell the Liberals what they would do. He sends a representative who tells them what they must do, but you have shown by your votes what you can do, and Mr. King, the man without a fixed policy, can discover in your voting that his constituency has no use for a speechless man. It pleased me in looking over the returns, to see that I have led in every division in Albert County and won every poll in the city and county.
Praises His Workers.
"The organization at work today was perfect. I have never seen a better one. The work of the ladies was superb. Their organization was of such a high degree of efficiency that it would be well for the men to copy their system. I cannot speak in too high praise of their efforts, collectively and individually.
He referred briefly to his public work in this city. It had always been his desire to work for the best interests of all. "I am going back to Ottawa," he said, "and I am going with a fixed determination to secure for this constituency that which belongs to it and of which it has been too long deprived. I know the needs of this city as well as anyone, and I shall work for its interests. The development of this harbor is my first duty. I carry back in my hands a majority to show my colleagues what this city thinks of the Government, and I must do that which will benefit all of Canada."
"Another Black Eye."
He referred to the result in Colchester, and laughingly said, "Another black eye for Mr. King."
The Government had made mistakes, he added, but he had tried some tremendous problems. Every man in the Cabinet, led by a man with a fixed policy for the whole of Canada, was working diligently, regardless of politics, to solve the problems confronting the country for the best interests of the whole Dominion. Canada is safe under the leadership of the capable, broad-minded man of ability, our Honorable Premier.
In closing, he again thanked all for their support, and said he was going back fully determined to do his best because he knew all were behind him in doing his best to help make Canada bigger and better.
Some Other Speakers.
Other speakers were Col. MacLaren, C. M. G.; Dr. Campbell, F. L. Pettis, Councilor Golding, and L. P. D. Tolley. These speakers all had congratulatory words for the successful candidate, lauded the highly efficient work of the ladies, and referred briefly to the forthcoming Provincial election.
Premier Wires Congratulations
When the victory of Mr. Wigmore was certain, the telegrams began to pour in congratulating the victors. An early one was from the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, premier of Canada: "Please accept warmest congratulations. Your victory is very popular everywhere. Give my thanks to all supporters. Well done."
Another was from the Hon. P. B. McCreedy, the winner in the Colchester fight: "Congratulations on our victory. Shake."
J. P. Sherry wired from Truro: "Accept my hearty congratulations. McCurdy wins by nearly 2,000 majority here."
P. G. Maloney, of Moncton, said: "Permit me to extend to you my heartiest congratulations on your overwhelming victory."
J. H. Crockett, Fredericton, wired: "Again congratulations. Result a splendid personal tribute, as well as a magnificent endorsement of the policy of the government of which you are New Brunswick's representative."
E. O'Leary's message was:—

PREFERENTIAL TRADE WITHIN BRITISH EMPIRE

Subject Occupying Attention of Chambers of Congress Monday.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—Preferential trade within the British Empire was the subject that occupied the attention of the ninth Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire here this afternoon, and the discussion on it was not concluded. It will be resumed tomorrow morning. Six resolutions were presented to the congress on the subject of Chambers of Commerce in Canada, Australia and the West Indies. All the speakers favored preferential trade, but exception to present conditions was taken by some of them.
Sir James Wood, of this city, moved a resolution in favor of the preferential trade within the Empire, which resolution combined the sentiments of the Toronto and Montreal Boards of Trade.
Mr. Cockshutt deplored the fact that, while the principle of preferential trade within the Empire had been fairly well recognized in various parts of the Empire, "The Mother Country is the slowest to move in a matter of this recent importance where she should have been the leader."
Stanley Machin, London, England, while supporting the resolution, pointed out that Great Britain was a free trade country and had very little to give.
Trying the necessity of establishing a net work of high power wireless stations throughout the Empire, wireless telegraphy and wireless telephony, a resolution, moved by H. L. Symonds, London, England, was passed asking that the British and Dominion Governments take the necessary steps to this end without delay.
The Congress, on motion of Liebert G. Longford, Birmingham, England, congratulated the imperial Air Committee under the presidency of Lord Desborough in connection with the movement, initiated in 1919, for the purchase of an Imperial Air fleet and an Air Route of aeroplanes and airships round the British Empire in the interests of the development of closer relations between the United Kingdom and His Majesty's Dominions beyond the seas.

SOVIET SYSTEM TO CONTROL THE SCOTTISH MINES

London, Sept. 20.—Extraordinary rumors are in circulation throughout Lancashire to the effect that the leaders of the Scottish communist movement have planned a sensational coup to be sprung at Glasgow, eight miles southeast of Glasgow, says a despatch to the Westminster Gazette from Hamilton, Scotland. "It is asserted that the cashiers and officials have been blandly told that a seizure of the coal pits is imminent and that it is proposed to establish a soviet system of mining control," the despatch adds. "The authorities are not so much afraid of the rumors, for they are not committal of the undercurrent at work. A despatch almost similar in tone has been received by the Exchange Telegraph."
As they pray—and they never pray unless it is to ask a personal favor.
Plain, unvarnished truth is better than questionable rhetoric.

PEOPLE FLEEING WAR-TORN EUROPE

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)
London, Sept. 20.—America as still the land of promise, in spite of the $10 cost of a passport visa, said Robert Skinner, United States consulate in Great Britain, in an interview here today.
"We expected a decided decrease in the number of applications for visas after July 1, when the price was raised, but such has not been the case. Although they may express uncomplimentary private opinions, most persons recognize the increase was necessary as a revenue measure, and pay it loaded."
The same as they do two cents for a postage stamp.
Prospective tourists and residents of the United States in reality pay more than $10, for at the present rate of exchange that sum in terms of English money means £4.
"Emigration to the United States increased tremendously during the last few months and is almost two-thirds that of the period preceding the war," he continued. "At present it is limited only by the capacity of ships, all of which make the west-bound trip loaded."

Why are People So Indifferent about Sleep

To watch some of your friends, you might think sleep was the most unimportant thing in the world. Yet every man could earn more, would enjoy his work and play more, if he would make sure of a good, sound sleep every night—all his nerves and muscles relaxed, and storing up new energy for the day.
And if he wakes up tired day after day he'd better look to his sleeping equipment—the wooden bed that squeaks; the metal bed that rattles; the old-fashioned spring that sags and sways; the lumpy, unsanitary mattress and pillows.
You'll never get the right kind of sleep except in a sturdy, noiseless bed, with flat, resilient spring, a soft, even mattress and clean pillow, all inviting you to relax and go soundly to sleep.
The truly noiseless Bed is the Simmons Metal Bed—built for sleep.
Just as the sleep-inducing Spring is a Simmons "Waldorf," of specially tempered spring coils. Fine springs that fit the contour of the body
