

GALA DAY AT ACADIA COLLEGE

Dr. Sawyer's Jubilee Participated in by Distinguished Men

PRESENTED WITH PURSE

More Than $1,300 and Illustrated Album for Venerable Educationist

Wolville, June 7.—(Special)—The sixty-seventh anniversary of Acadia College took place today.

The following honors were conferred on the graduating class: Classics—James R. Trimble, New Brunswick.

Mathematics—Loring C. Christie, Nova Scotia. Philosophy—Elmer W. Reid, Nova Scotia.

English—Annie Peck, Victor Chittick, Nova Scotia. Milton Simpson, P. E. Island.

Chemistry and Geology—Ralph K. Strong, Nova Scotia. The prizes were distributed as follows:

Northward Lowe gold medal for highest standard in last three years of college course, James R. Trimble, New Brunswick.

Honorary degrees conferred by Acadia College: D. C. L., Frank H. Eaton, superintendent of education of schools, Victoria (B.C.).

Dr. Trotter, in speaking of the college said this had been a year of great prosperity. The work was marked with efficiency.

Dr. Sawyer's Jubilee. Dr. Sawyer's jubilee occupied the rest of the morning's proceedings.

As the proceedings were so long many speakers were then cut out, but Dr. Longley held the audience that had been seated for nearly five hours with interest.

Results from common soaps eczema, churs hands, ragged clothes, shrunk flannels.

Officials Tell Agriculture Committee That the Dominion Authorities Are More Particular Than the United States About Class of People They Pass.

Ottawa, June 9.—(Special)—W. D. Scott, immigration superintendent, and Dr. P. H. Bryce, chief medical inspector, were before the agriculture committee today and gave interesting evidence in regard to immigration and the steps taken to keep out persons affected with infectious diseases.

Canada is more particular as to the class of immigrants she receives than is the United States. Canada rejected one in 200 and the United States one in 2,000.

The official returns of the United States show that 2,000 immigrants were stopped at the border yet the facts were only 47 were detained and only 117 deported and 335 were released.

Mr. Scott said that Mrs. Sanford, of Winnipeg, who was looking for servants in Brazil, did not belong to the department. He understood that Mrs. Sanford was instructed by parties to get them girls. For those who asked for a Roman Catholic girl she tried to get one and for those who asked for Protestant girls she did the same thing.

TWO BISHOPS AT THE SUSSEX SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

Besides Heads of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick Anglicans Other Distinguished Men Spoke.

Sussex, N. B., June 6.—(Special)—The Church of England Sunday school convention opened this evening at 8 o'clock with the prayer by Rev. H. Montgomery.

The Bishop of Fredericton in his opening remarks spoke of the hall in which the meeting was held being built to the memory of a valued personal friend, the late Canon Medley, whose house was the first he entered on arriving in New Brunswick twenty-four years ago.

In a few well chosen remarks he introduced the Bishop of Nova Scotia, who held his audience spell bound as he dealt with the subject of Sunday school teachings and teachers. He spoke at some length and said that only teachers who were filled with the spirit of Christ were competent to teach the young.

Dr. Hannah, of King's College, spoke of the Anglican church adopting itself to Canada and the surrounding circumstances of the new and rich country, well adapted a bright future if wise judgment on the part of church workers would adopt themselves to its needs.

Canon Richardson, in moving a vote of thanks to the Bishop of Nova Scotia and Dr. Hannah congratulated the people of Nova Scotia in having such rare ability at the head of their church.

EPOCHS IN SEA FIGHTS

Togo's Victory Ranks High Among Deeds of Naval Captains

THE ARMADA'S FALLS

Bitter Battles Reviewed, Including Records of Heroes on Board Many Famous Ships.

Admiral Togo's victory over the Russian fleet commanded by Rojenskyvsky undoubtedly will be given a commanding position in history among the decisive naval battles of the world.

Togo has been dubbed the Japanese Nelson, because of his conquests over Stark, Makarov and Whitby, successive commanders of the Russian fleet; but he is beginning to be called the Japanese Howard, after the earlier English admiral who, with the assistance of the smaller Drake and Sir John Hawkins, destroyed the "invincible armada" which Spain sent out to subdue and convert heretic England at the cannon's mouth.

The Armada was to the sixteenth century what Rojenskyvsky's command was to the twentieth century. Philip II. of Spain, the monarch of the epoch, was a familiar figure that old story from the pages of Kingsley's "Westward, Ho!"

Every ship's hull is practically a drum. So submarines in the water miles distant, whether they be caused by the motion of a submarine boat, the action of the screws of a steamer, or the ringing of the bell, the sharpest of signals that which they go in the air under the most favorable conditions and impinge upon the skin of the ship.

Next on the roll of fame comes Trafalgar, where the conquering Nelson, mortally wounded, ordered that his last signal be: "England expects every man to do his duty." This battle between the English and the French fleets, fought on October 21, 1805, Nelson had twenty-seven ships; Villeneuve, the French admiral, eighteen, and the two Spanish commanders, fifteen.

Admiral Von Tromp, a worthy Hollander, almost succeeded in destroying the naval supremacy from Britannia in 1652. He figured in a famous series of conflicts called the battles of Dover Straits.

Blake defeated him again, February 13-20, 1653, off Portsmouth, destroying eleven men-of-war and thirty merchantmen; again off the North Foreland, June 2, driving the Dutch into Calais roads, and on July 31 took final revenge by crushing the fleets of Holland and killing their admiral.

At the battle of Camperdown, south of the Texel, Holland, October 11, 1797, England again conquered the Dutch. The battle took place off the northwest coast of France, May 19, 1692, Russell and Rooke, being in command for the allies, and Tourville of the French, who lost twenty-one ships, thirteen of which were burned.

SUBMARINE SIGNAL FOR BAY OF FUNDY A WIRELESS WONDER

The System the Outgrowth of a Provision of Nature

How the Signals Give Warning to Ship Miles Away from Point Where Station is Established, or of Approach of Another Equipped Vessel.

It has before been reported in this paper that locations for the equipment of the Bay of Fundy with submarine signal stations have been picked. The plan is to establish about three such stations in the bay, one being at Negro Head.

It is really the working out of a natural condition and one which was first taken advantage of by the savages of the West Coast of Africa. When the natives want to communicate with one another, they beat sounding instruments near the water's edge. They have long known that water is a better sound conductor than air, but they have used the knowledge before civilized people.

Complete results in the final year in medicine at McGill were announced Tuesday night. The number of graduates totalled seventy-three, a number somewhat smaller than the average for the last few years.

The honors of the graduating class, are carried off by H. C. Merseaux, Doaktown (N.B.), and Fred J. Tees, of Montreal. The former wins the Holmes gold medal for the highest aggregate in all subjects of the medical curriculum, and the latter the final prize for the highest aggregate in the subjects of the fourth year.

Mr. Tees also wins the first prize offered by the McGill Medical Society, the second going to J. A. C. Tull. Only eight men win honors in the aggregate of the lesser subjects.

Following is the list of those from the maritime provinces who have passed for the degree of M. D. C. M.: Burgess, H. C., Sheffield Mills (N.S.); Chisholm, H. A., A. A., Lunenburg (N.S.); Cumming, A. B., A. A., Scottsburg (N.S.); Dougan, B. H., Hampstead (N.B.); Granger, R. D., St. Andrews (N.B.); King, S. E., Albert (N.B.); Leslie, H. A., Soudry (P.E.I.); Lively, D. S., B. A., St. John (N.B.); Loggie, W. S., Chatham (N.B.); McKay, M. E., Whitecourt (N.S.); McLean, J. D., Port Moresby (P.E.I.); McDonald, J. C., Peak's Station (P.E.I.); Merseaux, H. C., Doaktown (N.B.); Munroe, J. A., Pugwash (N.S.); Robertson, B. W., St. John's (N.B.); Summerside, Alma (N.B.); Sinclair, E. E., Summerside (P.E.I.).

Holmes Gold Medal, for highest aggregate in all subjects of the medical curriculum—H. C. Merseaux, Doaktown (N.B.).

Squadron Orders, B. Squadron 8th Hussars. Sussex, N. B., June 9.—No. 1.—The annual inspection of houses of "B" Squadron will be held at Collins, Kings county, at 9 a. m. on June 21st, by Capt. W. H. Simon.

No. 2.—The medical inspection of men will be at same time and place by Capt. L. R. Murray, A. M. C.

No. 3.—The men will see that horses are provided with blankets, brushes, halter and rope, as government headstall will not be used in stalls; otherwise the above will be in camp at men's expense.

G. S. KINNEAR, Major, Comd'g. "B" Spl. 8th Hussars.

Deer Island Items. Deer Island, June 5.—Chas. N. Haney returned to his home in Vancouver on Saturday last.

Inspector Carter visited the schools on the island during the past week.

Mrs. James McKenny, of Leonardville, has been the guest of Mrs. Rebecca Cumming for a few days.

No services were held in the Methodist church on the island as the pastor is at Grand Manan.

THE FARM

Indigestion, or what is sometimes called "stretches" or impaction of the stomach, is a common disease in some flocks, especially during the winter season, writes Shepherd in an exchange.

The disease is usually caused by feeding too much dry hay which was overripe when cut, or from feeding great quantities of corn fodder with no other feed of any kind.

If one will provide a few roots, cabbage or other succulent feed for his flock during winter he will seldom if ever be troubled with indigestion of this character.

It may also be of interest to some readers to know how to transfer or change a lamb from one ewe to another. The necessary procedure is as follows:

Take the lamb of the ewe you wish to transfer and while the mother is in a tight state of milk, cut the two lambs together. Then place both lambs before the ewe at once and give them a little of the milk of the ewe you wish to transfer.

Modern Beekeeping. Comparatively few understand any thing about modern methods of beekeeping.

Mr. R. F. Hottermann, Bradford (Ont.), has a building for "bees" the like of which is said to be one of the most modern and up-to-date structures for the purpose in the world.

The question is often asked, How are bees fed during the winter? Each hive should be fed before October 1 of each year.

Mr. Hottermann takes a number of students each season to learn the business.

THE FARM

Every year a larger number apply than can be accommodated. As far as can be judged the most desirable are selected.

All stock intended for the conveyance of persons must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected before such animals are placed thereon.

All cars conveying animals into Canada from the United States, or to points in Canada, must be inspected and, unless found in a clean and sanitary condition, will be returned.

Animals intended for export to the United States for purposes of quarantine regulation for transit to some other country must be inspected and, unless found in a clean and sanitary condition, will be returned.

After May 31, 1905, all cars conveying swine from the United States into Canada, whether intended for transit to some other part of the United States, or to points in Canada, must be fitted with trench boards in a manner satisfactory to the inspector of this department.

United States hogs, while in transit through Canada, must not be unloaded from cars containing them or any pretext whatever.

Any animals dying from any cause whatever in that country, must not be removed from the car in which it died while in Canadian territory.
