

Lady Principal, and hope much from her consecrated efforts.

With unabated confidence the entire mission work and all the workers are commended to the prayers, the sympathies, and the liberal support of the Church.

A Liberal Offer.

THE object of the publisher of OUTLOOK is not to make money. If it were, the price would be advanced forthwith. The object is to spread information, increase interest, and awaken enthusiasm throughout the Church on missionary lines. What we want is a large circulation—to get the paper into every Methodist family, if possible. To hasten this desirable result we offer the OUTLOOK from October, 1895, till the end of 1896 (fifteen months in all), for the regular club rate—TWENTY-FIVE CENTS. This is almost giving the paper away. Furthermore, we will also send a free copy for one year to any person sending us a club of eight NEW subscribers. These offers are open only until December. Will all our readers who are interested in Methodist missions kindly help in this matter.

STILL ANOTHER OFFER. We have a large map of Japan, four feet square, prepared by the Rev. J. W. Saunby, B.A., showing the location of all our missions. Just the thing for Missionary Auxiliaries, Sunday-schools and Epworth Leagues. For eight new subscribers we will send a copy of this map on paper. For twelve new subscribers the same map mounted on cotton. For twenty new subscribers the same map mounted on cotton with rollers. Who will be the first to claim one of these fine maps?

A Great Problem.

THE Church of to-day is confronted by a great and difficult enterprise—the evangelization of the whole world. It may be said that the Church of to-day is not singular in this respect, because the enterprise is not new. True, it is not new from the point of view of the Master's command, but new in the apprehension of the Church itself. More and more the conviction deepens that the duty of the Church to disciple all nations is imperative, and cannot be evaded or postponed without guilt. The only question for the Church to consider is, "How can this great work be most speedily accomplished?" And to this question there is one answer which is coming prominently to the front, namely, that if the work of the world's evangelization is to be done in the near future there must be a change of methods, and these new methods must be imbued with new power. We do not mean for one moment that the world needs a new Gospel—the "Old, Old Story" is amply sufficient for its needs; but we do mean that new ways must be found of spreading the Gospel more swiftly, and of bringing it to bear more powerfully upon the hearts and consciences of men.

It would be unwise and unjust to ignore or undervalue what has been accomplished in the past. The closing century has been rich in the fruits of missionary toil. The history of modern missions is a new volume of the "Acts of the Apostles," not unworthy of its great prototype. The century that has witnessed the evangelization of the Hawaiian Islands, of Madagascar, of the Friendly Islands, of Fiji, of the New Hebrides, not to speak of the opening and
