MARCUS DALY'S PICK.

The Story of a Loan That Brought Success and Wealth.

When the outlook was the blackest and this indomitable captain of men, Marcus Daly, had exhausted his resources and his credit a fortunate accident placed in his hands a small but sufficient sum of money to transform inevitable defeat into certain victory.

Lloyd Teris, the California lawyer, and his mining partner, J. R. Haggin, who had been visiting their properties at Homestake, stopped at Butte on their way home to California to take a look at the new camp. Marcus Daly knew Messrs. Haggin and Teris well, for he had worked for them in the old California days. He visited them at their hotel, not the gorgeous palace of granite, marble, precious onyx and mahogany which adorns Butte today, but a humble wooden structure more in keeping with the squalid surroundings of the new camp. In Haggin's bedroom, the only place available for a private conversation, Daly made a clean breast of it to his friends and explained his theory fully and setting many additional facts which had developed during his mining operations in Anaconda that went to strengthen it.

It was thoroughly characteristic of the man that he did not attempt to haggle over the terms of the loan, but stated merely the facts and closed his negotiations with the words: "Now, gentlemen, that is a correct statement of the situation of my affairs and the condition of my mine. I must have $20,000, and I must have it at once to meet next Saturday's payroll and current bills and to provide for the expenses of operation for another six months or so. If I do not get it I am lost, and will have to close up."

have told you what I have got and what I think and what I think I am going to get when that shift is down another 100 feet or so. Make your own terms, but let me have the money."

They gave him the $20,000, and, of course, being astute business men, a contract was drawn up and signed then and there transferring to them the controlling interest in the property. But up to the date of his death Lloyd Teris always declared that, though he believed thoroughly in Marcus Daly's integrity, both he and Mr. Haggin thought that he was chasing a chimera, that the theory upon the elaboration of which Marcus Daly had spent so many sleepless nights and all his substance was fallacious and that no gold-copper deposit would ever be discovered in the bowels of Butte mountain. In fine, Haggin and Teris felt Daly had $20,000, because they liked him. They certainly never dreamed that Anaconda would prove a more veritable bonanza than the Comstock lode. As for Daly, he had never doubted his ultimate success, and when three months after that meeting in the hotel bedroom the main shaft of Anaconda penetrated, as he had always believed it would, the richest and most extensive gold-copper deposit in the known world he conveyed the intelligence to his partners in California. In this most matter of fact telegram: "We have reached it. Come out and look at it."—Public Opinion.

It should be used as a shield for defense rather than as a sword to wound others.

The man who does little things well is always ready to do the big things better.

A forcible argument does not always carry the weight of conviction.

THE grate of a range will get out of repair. If you let ashes accumulate in the pan until they come near the grate you are sure to burn it out or warp it. On account of the construction of ordinary ranges, repairing a grate means taking out the fire bricks and practically taking the fire-box to pieces. It is the work of a stove expert.

The Imperial Oxford Range has a patented draw-out duplex grate. By this construction the grate and frame is readily drawn out over the ash-pan without even disturbing the linings. Repairs are thus easily effected even by one without experience.

The life of the fire-box linings is thus prolonged, as they do not require to be moved to repair the grate.

This is only one of the exclusive points of the Imperial Oxford Range which make it last long and reduce the necessity and expense of repairs. Though the baking and roasting qualities of the oven are the most vitally important features of the Imperial Oxford Range, we have forgotten nothing that will make it last long and add to the ease of its operation.

Write for some of our booklets and the name of the nearest dealer who can show you an Imperial Oxford Range.

Hospitality Abroad.

Hospitality has long been reckoned among the virtues of this nation, but how very virtuous Americans are in this respect is probably not realized even by them till they go to other countries and experience the hospitality offered there. Of course, the Englishman, being our own flesh and blood, is given to hospitality almost up to the American with me. It is apt to be the extent of his invitation to a male American on the other side. The American in Paris knows that foreigners receive few invitations to breakfast or dinner from the Parisian. French people do a good deal of entertaining, but it is largely confined to the circle of their relatives, among whom a degree of devotion exists that Americans can hardly understand. In Italy a cup of afternoon tea marks the wildest flight of hospitality that the visiting American is often asked to consider. An amusing story is told of an Italian aristocrat—a very great man—inviting a German nobleman to come and drink coffee after déjeuner.

The Evil Eye.

The meaning of the evil eye, the "phtharmos baskanos" of the Greeks, the "fasciatio" of the Romans, was probably far more than a vulgar superstition. We find traces of it in almost every country, notably to this day among the canny Scots who inhabit the western isles of the sea, of "Ulva dark and Colonsay," of Skye and the Hebrides, and among the Turks, who distrust the evil eye of the stranger. But in old classical days the power seems chiefly to have been used for the purpose of grievously afflicting the lives of stock of disagreeable neighbors. So we find to this day in Ireland, parts of Scotland and the west of England where this belief is still prevalent. Certainly, in some form or other, mesmeric fascination by the eye has always been known. But that any one person, with no matter how evil an eye, should be able to charm frightened animals to any extent or number is ridiculous and not seriously to be entertained for one moment.

Why a "Limited" Train?

The question why is a "limited train" so called has been propounded to a general passenger agent, who replies as follows:

First.—It is limited as to its time.
Second.—It is limited as to the number of cars and weight of train.
Third.—It is limited as to the class of cars.

Fourth.—It is limited as to the number and class of passengers permitted transportation thereon.
This last limit is adopted so that every passenger may have ample accommodation and not be crowded or interfered with by other passengers. The fact that an additional fare is charged on a limited train, and, further, that nothing but first class tickets are accepted for passage tends to limit the class of travel which is carried.

True in Every Language.

Tennyson once attended a dinner where G. L. Craik proposed "The Ladies." In doing so he recalled the cynical advice given by a brother Scot to his children: "Talk my advice and dinna marry for ailler. You can borrow cheaper." Some time later Tennyson at his own table repeated Mr. Craik's story, but expressed the idea without attempting dialect. His son Hallam remarked, "Surely, father, Craik did not use those words." "No, he did not. But, then, Craik is a Scotchman, and I am afraid to venture on repeating him exactly. However, it's almost as good in English as in Scotch, and it's tremendously true in both."

To Remove a Tight Ring.

If you happen to get a ring on your finger that fits so tight you cannot remove it a very easy way to get it off is as follows: Take a piece of cord or wrapping thread and push one end of it under the ring. Then, beginning just above the ring, wind the cord very tightly round and round the finger clear up to the tip of the finger. Now take hold of the end of the cord that was slipped under the ring and unwind the cord. As the string unwinds the ring will be carried along with it and removed without any difficulty.

A Bootless Attempt.

"Ma," said Tommy Twaddles, looking up from his reading of "Terry the Tenspot," "what is a bootless attempt?" "It's the sort your father makes to get in without my hearing him when he comes home late from the club," answered Ma Twaddles incisively. Pa doesn't stop to remove 'em at the foot of the stairs now. He knows it's no use.

Generous.

"Is your husband a very generous man?"
"Indeed he is. You remember those nice cigars I gave him for a birthday present? Well, he only smoked one and gave the rest to his friends."

A Long One.

"Mamma, is this the ship we're going over in?"
"Yes, Willie."
"Huh! You said it was an ocean greyhound. This ain't a greyhound. It's a dachshund."

THE SALVATION OF SHOES.

HAVE you ever yet worn out the upper part of a shoe? If you could get Soles that wore as long as Uppers wouldn't it cut down your shoe bill?

Well—here you are at last—"Quick-Oak" Sole leather, which is tough as rawhide, but almost as light as cork.

Soak it in water for four steady hours and it won't be wet through.

Put the highest priced regular Oak leather in the same vessel and it will be entirely water-soaked in one-fourth that time.

"Quick-Oak" is the safest sole leather that ever happened, because every sole of it can be relied upon for wear and water-resistance every time.

We had to sign a big contract to control "Quick-Oak" Sole for Canada, so that it can now be had only in the genuine "Slater Shoe."

These shoes are made by the Slater Shoe Company, and have stamped on the lining a slate-frame with the retail selling price, $3.50 or $5.00.

"The Slater Shoe" has always been a pretty safe thing to buy, but

"Quick-Oak" Soles now make it safer, longer-lived, more damp-proof than ever.

A Witty Diagnosis.

The object of the duel is said to be the healing of wounded honor. To try to cure a wound of the spirit, or rather, the temper, by a scratch on the skin savors of homeopathy. But may perhaps be justified by the surgical principle of relieving tension by incision.—British Medical Journal.

Homemaking.

Men do not make their homes unhappy because they have genius, but because they have not enough genius. A mind and sentiments of a higher order would render them capable of seeing and feeling all the beauty of domestic ties.—Wordsworth.

Unimportant Man.

Many a man goes away from home for a week and imagines that he is missed by the whole community, and when he comes home he finds that there isn't a person in town that knew he had been away.

So work the honeybees, creatures that by a rule in nature teach the art of order to a peopled kingdom.—Shakespeare.
