The Working Ladies' Guild.

The annual meeting of the Working Ladies' Guild was a great success. Sir Henry Cunningham, who presided, spoke of the anonymous girt of (3,000 which had been given to set the guild free of debt, and touched briefly on the special work of the guild in the aid it brings to ladies in distress. Lady Frances Balfour spoke of the training she had received at that time as one of its associates had helped her in all her life since. She recommended emigration for ladies as the best means for finding a new sphere of work.

Vice-Admiral Sir Algernon C. F. Heneage, K. C. B., Commander-in-Chief at the Nore, having officially inspected the newly-completed second-class cruisers and would fall unconscious to the ground work. The New Cruiser Apollo, and reported her fully equipped and ready in every respect for commission, on order has been issued by the Admirally directing her to be placed in the AD Division of the Fleet Reserve. The Apollo has been built under the provisions of the Nava Defence Acts at a coxylor of the Nava Defence Acts at a displacement of 3,400 tons, and is fitted with triple-expansion engines, which, at her four-hours' trial off Sheerness, proved capable of developing 9,226-horse power, and propelling her at a speed of 20 knots. The Apollo carries an equipment of two 6in. breech-loaders, six 4-7in. quick-firing guns, and nine 3-pounder quick-firing guns, besides a strong armament of torpedoes.

The Admiralty have decided to order the third-class cruiser Tourmaline, 12,2,120 tons, 2,000-horse power, Capt. John H. Rainier, to return home from the North American and West Indies Station at the conclusion of her present commission.

AN OAKVILLE MIRACLE.

THE REMARKABLE CASE OF MR. JOHN W. CONDOR.

A Helpless Cripple For Vears-Treated by the Staff of the Toronto General Hospital and Discharged as Incurable-The Story of his Miraculous Recovery as Investigated by an Empire Reporter.

Toronto Empire.

For more than a year past the readers of the Empire have been given the particulars of some of the most remarkable cures of the 19th century, all, or nearly all of them, in cases hitherto held by the most advanced medical scientists to be incurable. The particulars of these cases were vouched for by such leading newspapers as the Hamilton Spectator and Times, The Halifax Herald, Toronto Globe, LeMonde, Montreal; Detroit

Toronto Globe, LeMonde, Montreal; Detroit News, Albany, N. Y., Journal; Albany Express and others, whose reputation placed be yond question the statements made.

Recently rumors have been afloat of a re. markable case in the pretty little town of Oakville, of a young man recovering after years of helplessness and agony. The Empire determined to subject the case to the most rigid investigation, and accordingly detailed one of our best reporters to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the case. Acting upon these instructions our reporter went to Oakville, and called upon Mr. John W. Condor (who it was had so miraculously recovered) and had not long been in conversation with him when he was convinced that the statements made were not only true, but recovered) and had not long been in conversation with him when he was convinced that the statements made were not only true, but that "the half had not been told." The reporter found Mr. Condor at work in one of the heaviest departments of the Oakville Basket Factory, and was surprised, in the face of what he knew of the case, to be confronted by a strapping young fellow of good physique, ruddy countenance and buoyant bearing. This now rugged young man was he who had spent a great part of his days upon a sick-bed, suffering almost untold agony. When the Empire representative announced the Empire representative announced the purpose of his visit Mr. Condor cheerfully volunteered a statement of his case for the benefit of other sufferers. "I am," said Mr. Condor, "an Englishman by birth, and came to this country with my parents when nine years of age, and at that time was as rugged and healthy as any boy of my age. I am now 29 years of age, and it was when the benefit of other sufferers. "I am," said Mr. Condor, "an Englishman by birth, and came to this country with my parents when nine years of age, and at that time was as rugged and healthy as any boy of my age. I am now 29 years of age, and it was when about 14 years old that the first twinges of and came to this country with my parents when nine years of age, and at that time was as rugged and healthy as any boy of my age. I am now 29 years of age, and it was when about 14 years old that the first twinges of inflamatory rhuematism came upon me, and during the fifteen years that intervened between that time and my recovery a few months ago, tongue can hardly tell how much I suffered. My trouble was brought on, I think, through too frequent bathing in the cold lake water. The joints of my begs to tighten, and the muscles of my legs to tighten, and the muscles of my legs to tighten, and the muscles of my legs to tighten, and in administered preparations of iodide of potassium and other remedies without any material beneficial effect. After some months of suffering I became strong enough to leave the bed but my limbs were stiffened and it was unfitted for any active vocation. I was then hampered more or less for the following nine years, when I was again forced to take to my bed. This attack was in 1886, and was a great deal more severethan the first. My feet, ankles, knees, legs, arms, shoulders, and in fact all parts of my or frame were affected. My joints and muscles became badly swollen, and the disease even reached my head. My face swelled to a great size. I was unable to open my mouth, my jaws being fixen together. I, of course, could eat nothing. My teeth were pried apart and liquid food poured of 1891 I returned to Oakville, and made an attempt to do something toward my own support. I was given light work in the basket factory, but had to be conveyed to and from the place of labor in a buggy and carried from the rig to a table in the works carried from the rig to a table in the works on which I sat and performed my work. In August, 1891, I was again stricken down, and remained in an utterly helpless condition until January, 1892. At this time Mr. James, a local druggist, strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I was prejudiced against proprietary medicines, as I had spent nearly all I possessed on numerous highly recommended so-called remedies. I had taken into my system large quantities of different family medicines. I had exhausted the list of liniments, but all in vain, and I was therefore reluctant to take Mr. James' advice. I, howreluctant to take Mr. James' advice. I, how

I had exhausted the list of limments, but all in vain, and I was therefore reluctant to take Mr. James' advice. I, however saw several strong testimonials as to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood builder and nerve tonic, and thinking that if I could only get my blood in better condition my general state of health might be improved, I resolved to give Pink Pills a trial. With the courage born of dispair I bought a box, but there was no noticeable improvement, and I thought this was like the other remedies I had used. But urged on by friends I continued taking Pink Pills and after using seven boxes I was rewarded by noticing a decided change for the better. My appetite returned, my spirits began to rise and I had a little freer use of my muscles and limbs, the old troublesome swelling subsiding. I continued the remedy until I had used twenty-five boxes when I left off. By this time I had taken on considerable flesh, and weighed as much as 160 pounds. This was a gain of 60 pounds in a few weeks. My joints assumed their normal size, my muscles became firmer, and in fact I was a new man. By April I was able to go to work in the basket factory, and now I can work ten hours a day with any man. I often stay on duty overtime without feeling any bad effects. I play baseball in the evening and can run bases with any of the boys. Why, I feel like dancing for very joy at the relief from abject misery. I suffered so long Many a time I prayed for death to release me from my sufferings, but now that is all gone and I enjoy health as only he can who suffered agony for years. I have given who a briefoutline of my sufferings, but from what I have told you can guess the depth of my gratitude for the great remedy which has restored me to health and strength.
