

Have the FINEST GOODS in the trade for FURNISHING SUITS & OVERCOATS.

Evening Telegram, Toronto.

A GRAVE IN THE SUNSHINE.

After the attending physicians informed him on Friday that there was no hope...

He was granted to make his grave, 'neath the storied altar high.

He asked no grave in a chancel dim;

No place in the shadowed gloom.

He wanted the birds to sing their songs, And chant o'er his sunlit tomb.

He gave his life to his country's God, And he fought in that battle well.

No wonder he asked for the grassy sod, In a place where the sunshine fell.

They who knew the old man most, Were those who loved him best.

And none will wonder who knew him best, They'll take him out from the chancel.

The pillared aisles between, And lay him down in a sunlit bed,

Where the beautiful grass grows green, Pallid morn—with equal step.

At palace and cabin door, Calls forth the priest or peasant.

In the midnight hours between, And took him from his princely bed,

To a bed where the grass grows green, His armor is hung on his palace wall.

His good sword is sheathed for aye, And he sleeps the sleep of the just.

And years from now they will tell, In the shadow of death unseen,

Said, "Bury me out in the sunshine, Where the grass that I loved grows green."

The following has been furnished to the CATHOLIC RECORD as a necessary page, by the talented parish priest, Thomas:

There were words yet written in the book, More worthy to hold a place.

To the grateful priest or peasant, Of the generous heart of His God.

My blessing I give to all men, He gave my oblation life and peace.

To all who gave trouble and pain, My episcopal kiss of peace.

His lot had been cast in evil days, Opposition ran fierce and high.

But he grappled with every foe, Nor halted—till death was nigh.

And now, when he might have been crowned, When his heart beat sought relief.

In a quiet grave, but not only so, I send them a kiss of peace.

And such was the end of a great life, Of missions in distant lands.

Of noble work done year by year, Since holy Christ had touched his hand.

'Neath the peaceful shade of the loved, With his throbbing heart's throes.

Goes out to the few who had pain, A message of love and peace.

Two faithful priests knelt by his side, Till midnight's lonely hour.

And ministering angels, saintly men, Invoked the Unseen Power.

His lips are moved, and every word, To gather his latest sigh:

Tell them, he whispered—"I pardon, And bless them ere I die.

The crowded aisles and Cathedral, And organ's solemn peal.

And priests and people who were there, All showed their grief was true.

The Prelate in tears was given, But in his grief he was given.

For to heaven a saint was given, And to earth . . . a message.

THE AMERICAN CATHOLIC CITY.

Thursday, May 24, 1888, the laying of the corner-stone of our Catholic University at Washington forever a golden day in American annals.

The ceremonies, as befitting the occasion, were grand and anything yet witnessed in the history of the world.

The strength of the Church was demonstrated by the presence of four archbishops, twenty-one and hundreds of priests, all of one of the eighty dioceses in States being represented.

The friendliness of the State religious and intellectual which will infallibly promote the standard of citizenship was by the attendance of the President of the United States and the members of his cabinet.

The orator of the day, Dr. Lancaster Spalding, in his pre-entirely man of the American Union was a happy choice and a for there is none more eloquent to speak for the faith and for the American Catholics, and no one of the University owes more to Spalding.

It is a subject of just pride to a Catholic womanhood that upon condition that the Free Library Board accept a lease on these terms. The Directors of the Mechanics' Institute will assign to the Free Library Board their title to the annual government grant and will also assign to the Free Library Board all the books and furniture of the Mechanics' Institute Library, London, May 23rd, 1888.

HAMILTON MARBLE WORKS.

MARTIN O'GRADY, Dealer in New Brunswick, Red and Gray Granite Monuments, Tombstones, Mantels and Tablets.

KEEP COOL.

Lace Underwear, 25c. Balbriggan Underwear, 50c. Merino Underwear, 50c. Cashmere and Llana Wool Underwear for Summer wear.

PETHICK & M'DONALD

333 Richmond St.

HAIR STOPPED FREE

Mr. R. J. Kearney, of this city, prepares a very valuable article for the hair, which he has recently discovered.

THE IRISH

Parliamentary Party.

The undersigned wishes to announce to the Irish People, and other Patrons of Liberty, that he has for sale the only

COMPLETE GROUP PICTURE

THE IRISH PARLIAMENTARY PARTY

IN THE WORLD.

It is without doubt the finest work ever issued on this subject, and is prepared by Messrs. Wm. Notman & Son, Montreal.

PRICE $5.00 PER COPY.

Sent free to any part of the Dominion.

Correspondence solicited from Newsdealers or Instantaneous Agencies.

For further particulars apply to

C. L. MOLLOY,

27 ST. SACRAMENT STREET, MONTREAL, QUE.

CATARRH ELY'S

OREAM BALM

Gives Relief at once and Cures

Cold in Head

CATARRH

HAY FEVER

Not a Liquid, Snuff or powder. Free from injurious drugs and Offensive odors.

This is an application that is useful and is agreeable. Price 50 cents a bottle; by mail, 75 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, 20 Warren Street, New York.

THE NEW BOOT AND SHOE FIRM

TANTON & ASHLANT

(Late T. Tanton & Co.) 188 Dundas Street, opposite Reid's Crystal Hall, are offering special bargains in Ladies' and Men's Slippers and Low Shoes at the Burton Boot and Shoe Man's Fine Hand-sewed Work.

A trial is solicited on all orders.

TANTON & ASHLANT.

AUCTION SALE

Military Grounds

BUILDINGS.

R. M. MOELHERRAN HAS RECEIVED

INSTRUCTIONS from the City of London to sell by public auction on the grounds, on the remaining lots on the Military Grounds, together with the buildings thereon.

FRIDAY, JUNE 1st, AT 2 P.M.

The property will be sold in lots according to the plan which may be seen at the rooms of the auctioneer, 180 Dundas Street, and also at the City of London, 100 Queen Street, and also at the City of London, 100 Queen Street, and also at the City of London, 100 Queen Street.

the terms of the sale for land are a deposit of 10 per cent. of the purchase money to be paid down at the time of sale, and the balance to be paid in four equal consecutive annual instalments, from the day of sale, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum on the unpaid principal, to be computed from the day of sale and to be paid with each instalment. The purchaser has the privilege of paying cash, if so desired.

Conditions of sale and further information may be had on application to the Auctioneer.

The attention of the public is called to the fact that the City of London is the most desirable place to invest in the city, being in close proximity to Victoria Park. By order of the City of London.

Dated 15th day of May 1888.

ANDREW DALE, R. M. MOELHERRAN, Auctioneer.

180 Dundas St.

TO THE ELECTORS

OF THE CITY OF LONDON

FELLOW CITIZENS: At a meeting of the Free Library Board, held on the 23rd of May, instant, it was resolved to submit for your consideration the annexed statement in regard to the plan proposed for the establishment of a Free Library in this city, together with a memorandum of the agreement submitted by the Board of Management of the Mechanics' Institute, whereby their property may be used for Free Library purposes:

The Board of Aldermen has decided to ask you to vote on 11th of June next upon a by-law to repeal the by-law for the establishment of a free library, which was passed by a large majority of the electors in 1884, and which was amended in 1885, and which, being, as revised last January by the appointment of a special committee for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the Free Library Act, the Board being thus legally constituted, they have considered the most economical plan of carrying it out, and have decided in the opinion that a free library and reading room should be established in the City of London, and entered upon the consideration of the most economical plan of carrying it out. Our object is to secure a free library and reading room for the City of London, and to secure the most economical plan of carrying it out. Our object is to secure a free library and reading room for the City of London, and to secure the most economical plan of carrying it out.

After some delay on the part of the Council, the Board of Aldermen, on the 31st of May, resolved to place in the by-law for 1888 for free library purposes.

Only a few names were legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises. The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

A memorandum of agreement was finally entered into with the Mechanics' Institute Board, whereby the ownership of the property of the Mechanics' Institute would be transferred to the Free Library Board, and the annual rental of the property would be paid to the Mechanics' Institute Board.

The city would secure this valuable asset at a little more than one-third its value.

In the meantime the Board of Aldermen has decided to place in the by-law to repeal the free library by-law, which had only a few names legally voted to the credit of the Board, and advertised for suitable premises.

The only proposed premises were from the Mechanics' Institute Board, and an arrangement with them on some favorable basis seemed to us the most economical plan.

Special to the CATHOLIC RECORD.

FROM IRISHTOWN.

On the return of the writer from a prolonged trip to the Maritime Provinces, last December, he was deeply grieved to learn of the death of Mr. John Dulaney, of the township of Hibbert, in this parish.

Mr. Dulaney had been sent him, but the letter had miscarried, and he had only learned of the sad event in the latter part of December as above stated. His death took place on the 5th Aug. last. A recent visit to this place revived the memory of the happy days gone by when he enjoyed the society and friendship of the deceased, and those lines are the outcome of a desire on his part, even at this late day, to pay a last tribute to one whose memory will ever be held dear and sacred not only for the many acts of friendship and kindness received personally, but for those many good and amiable qualities that endeared him to those who came within the circle of his acquaintance.

Mr. Dulaney was born in Queen's County, Ireland, about seventy-eight years ago. Early in life he came to Canada, settling in the Township of Hibbert about forty-four years ago, within a short space of the time when the Canadian Confederation was being formed.

There he married the daughter of the late Mr. Harbor, who survives him. We all know the struggles of the early pioneers of the Huron Tract. A forest was to be cut down—homes to be built—roads to be made, etc., and as deceased Mr. Dulaney was a man of high character and of the highest integrity, he experienced all the trials and hardships which only those who were there know. Like many others, he persevered, and made a home for himself and his family, most of whom are now grown up and started in the world for themselves. Their characters reflect credit on the training they received, and the example that had been shown them by one of the most affectionate and practical Catholics. It was something extraordinary that kept him from attending to the services of the Church. He was always foremost in the parish, and his temporal welfare of the Church, and those who were his co-laborers in the early days of Irishtown parish will remember that he gave liberally both in work and money towards the building of the new large and prosperous parish, and to the purchase of the land on which the late lamented Father Schneider, whom God have in His holy keeping.

The good Sisters of St. Joseph will remember with gratitude his willingness at all times to render them every assistance in their annual tour through the parish, collecting for their dear orphans. He always supplemented his own labors by driving them around on their errands of charity, by a most liberal donation for charity was one of the noblest traits in his character, and in him the poor have lost a true and generous friend.