FOR BRANTS IN EIGHTHIvers' fine hitting was a feature of game—score just reverse of Thursday's—Douglas of Saints replaced by Riley in second—Kopp was again fast in base-running.

The score was just reversed from what it was on Thursday, but this time in favor of the Brants. At the end of the third innings, the score was two nothing for Brantford, but in the fourth and fifth frames the Saints tied the score. No runs were scored until the Brants' eighth, when Mullen brought in one. The Saints failed to tie in their last innings, so the score ended 3-2 for the Brants.

The game was a rather mixed up affair, as far as St. Thomas was concerned. Manager Stewart pulled Douglas out of the box in the middle of the second innings, and Riley occupied the mound for the rest of the game. Also in the second, Catcher Harris injured a finger and had to be replaced by Inker, who had been playing in right field. Then Howick was put out to take care of the position Inker had vacated.

No changes were made by the Brants during the game, although before it started, Foran was called in from right and Dunn sent out. This change was probably made because Foran could not hit a southpaw with anything like regularity. It was not thought that Douglas would be hooked in the second, though.

"Gabby" Ivers did the most hitting, for in three times at bat, he made a double and single. Both of these were very well placed, and both were rapped to the same spot, between centre and right field. He drove the ball out over the second baseman's head, right out to the fence the first time and very near the fence the next. His double in the third allowed Cooper to score, and his single in the eighth made the winning run of the game possible. It was Mullen who brought in this run, he had made the initial sack by being hit by a pitched ball, and when Cooper sacrificed, he made second. Then Gabby's single allowed him to score, but he had to beat it around from second as fast as he could go.

The innings in which the other runs were made are briefly described below.

Brants' second—Ivers walked, and on Harris' wild throw to pitcher's box made second. Dunnop sacrificed, bringing Gabby to third. Fried was thrown out at first, and Close walked. Ivers scored when Dunn went to bat. Dunn walked but was forced out by Comstock. Innings closed with two left on base.

Brants' Third—Burrill fanned, Mullen grounded to second and Cooper walked. Then it was that Ivers knocked out his double, allowing Cooper to score. The speedy catcher cutting in to fly around the base line from second, but he made home alright.

Saints' Fourth—Hadley walked. O't popped and was caught out by Cooper. Inker singled to left field, driving in Hadley, and very nearly scoring himself. It was only another of Burrill's beautiful pegs from deep centre field that saved the run. Howick failed to hit. Todd drove out a single, but to no purpose.

Saints' Fifth—Both Forgue and Riley were thrown out at first. Kopp walked, stole second and made home on Stewart's single to centre. Burrill would have returned it but the speedy Kopp was nearly home before he caught the ball.

Another of Burrill's throws from centre saved the game for the Brants in the eighth innings from St. Thomas. With two on bases, O't smashed out a long drive to centre, but Buster was on the job, with his eye ready, glove and wing, thus preventing at least two runs from being scored. Dunnop nearly spoiled the innings by dropping a high fly of Kopp's, but nothing was made by it.

The score was as follows:

Plucky Footballer Died Bravely

An English artilleryman, who before the war was a professional footballer in the North of England, has died in hospital after the amputation of both legs.

Up to the end he chatted with visitors, one of them a well-known horse trainer, and the other a scion of a noble English house famous for the part it has played in the turf life of Great Britain.

The dying man, who in his time had been a great centre forward, told them he did not care to live without his legs, while all the other "boys" were out playing, but declared he would not have missed the excitement of the last battle for anything.

He took a cigarette, and then said: "Have you any newspapers with you? I should like a glance over the football news before I pass out."

Death took place at the moment when a Belgian vocalist was singing, and almost with his last breath the footballer criticized the singer for not giving the patients "a bit of ragtime or Harry Lauder."
