CONSERVATIVES WILL DO SO IF THE LIBERALS BEGIN IT.

Conservatives Will do so if the Liberals Begin It.

A Seat to be Found for Mr. Foster in Ontario—A Caucus of M. P.'s.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—The Conservative members-elect and the defeated Conservative candidates at the election on Nov. 7, gathered in conference at the Marl building yesterday. Samuel Barker, M. P., elected for Hamilton, occupied the chair. Among those present were:—J. P. Whitney, John Huggart, A. H. O'Neill, R. A. Pringle, E. Kidd, George A. Clark, D. Henderson, R. Johnston, Dr. Sprouts, R. Blain, E. A. Lancaster, W. E. Brock, A. B. Kemp, E. F. Clarke, E. H. Osier, W. F. MacLean, E. Corby, Ulrich Wilson, D. Rossmond, George Taylor, James Clancy, W. H. Bennett, members-elect, and Wm. Smith, Lewis Wigle, Lieut.-Col. R. B. McLennan, Major Thos. Beattie, O. Gordon, C. Cameron, S. A. Jones and Robert McLean, defeated candidates.

The necessary material upon which to found protests in a number of constituencies will be gathered in readiness for use, but the general feeling was that action in this direction should depend largely upon the action of the Liberals. There will certainly be a petition against a Liberal for every Conservative whose election is contested. Should it be deemed advisable to enter any protests, North Grey, Kent and West Huron will be among the first.

Members who were in attendance at the caucus said after the close that an Ontario seat would almost certainly be found for Mr. Foster.

LET ALL TAKE NOTICE.

Great Britain Will Pursue Her Present South African Policy

In Spite of Everything—Lord Salisbury Makes That Clear—The War Must Proceed to Its Inevitable Issue and No Shade of Independence Will be Left the Boers.

London, Dec. 7.—A few minutes after the speaker, Wm. Court Gully, had taken his seat in the House of Commons, the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, Gen. Michael Kilduff, appeared and summoned the commons to the house of lords, where the lord chancellor, the Earl of Halsbury, read the Queen's speech.

The Earl of Latham, Conservative, in the uniform of the Royal Horse Guards, moved the address. He said he thought it could now be safely said the end of the war was in sight. The volunteers had made their mark and the colonies had shown they were united to the motherland never to be separated.

OBJECTS TO THE SPEECH.

Lord Kimberley, the Liberal leader in the house of lords, in the course of his remarks animadverted strongly upon the sudden dissolution of parliament. He objected to the brevity and abruptness of the Queen's speech and demanded a definite pronouncement of the government's policy in view of the recrudescence of hostilities in South Africa, and explanations of the alleged cruelties to the Boers, the burning of farms and similar severities, but trusted the government possessed a definite policy for speedily concluding the war. His lordship was gratified at the Anglo-German agreement, but he said an attempt to expunge the emperor and empress dowager of China would be an alarming undertaking.

Lord Salisbury, after paying a tribute to the skill of Lord Roberts and Gen. Kitchener, and to the bravery of the officers and soldiers, joyfully approved of full elections on the ground that the people objected to travelling in the winter weather, while in summer legislators were occupied with their parliamentary duties.

WAR POLICY OUTLINED.
 In regard to South Africa, the premier spoke with great solemnity. He said the Transvaalers, the Free Staters and the world should understand there could be no deviation from the policy of the government already outlined. Anything resembling independence never could be granted. The war must proceed to the inevitable issue. We must let it be felt that no one, by the loss of an insistent and audacious ultimatum, could force the British government to humble itself and abandon its rights. He could never allow that a shred of independence should be left. How soon the Free Staters and the Transvaalers would have anything like self-governing powers depended on themselves. It might be years and it might be generations.

Regarding China, Lord Salisbury said he was unable to reveal anything, as it would be betraying the secrets of other nations as well as those of the government. He was happy, however, to be able to quiet the fears of Lord Kimberley regarding the pursuit of the emperor and empress. He had never heard of such a suggestion. The concert existed and the latest intelligence showed that it possessed a very reasonable vitality. He was more doubtful of the time when a satisfactory result would be achieved than of the fact that the concert of Europe would be successful.

ATTACKS THE GOVERNMENT.

The feature of the session was Lord Rosebery's spirited attack on the government. He was unsparing in his criticism of the dissolution of parliament, the conduct of the war, and the policy of the government towards China, and everything handled by the cabinet. He sarcastically commented on the reconstruction of the cabinet, congratulating Lord Salisbury on being the chief of a family numbering so many capable administrators, the reference being to the inclusion in the cabinet of several of Lord Salisbury's relatives. Lord Rosebery's comment on the charges against Mr. Chamberlain.

Recipe

A Cheap Rubber

To make a cheap rubber or overshoe, take a small quantity of black molasses, some old fashioned tar, a small piece of black cloth, a piece of red flannel same size. Have these mixed together by cheap help, put them in the hands of dealers who do not understand their business and in this way you get the most satisfactory rubber your money can buy.

Don't throw away your money on cheap rubbers, but buy the best PURE GUM RUBBERS. Remember we will quote you the lowest price. All kinds; all sizes. Try us.
