Sorrowful Bill and the Sour Grapes and Sympathetic Sep.

was enabled to stack up something about one Chance in a Million. Ever like a Million. It looked big to his relations who lived out West, but in New York he was a cheap Piker. His Steam Yacht had only one Funnel and there were only seven Bath-Rooms in his House. in fact, he was a good deal of a Skate any way you looked at him.

The Second-Rater had a Cousin named Sep, who lived in one of our Middle States. In his own Baillwick this Sep was a very gallus Proposition He owned a General Store and a Stock Farm and had Rubber Tires on his Buggy and wore Gloves when driving. After the Corn had been laid by and the Oats thrashed, Sep had a little time for Romancing around over the Country. He bought a paper-muslin Duster, had a Lunch put up, and bought an Excursion Ticket to Morgansville. The struggling Millionaire said be was glad to see Sep. He did not shout it through a Megaphone or hang out any Bulletins. He simply said that he was glad to see Sep, and he should have been, for Seppy had slept two out around Peavey's Junction," replied Sep. "Our idee of Alliance is to stay Friendly with them as long as they "Not at all," said Bill. "Our present Policy is to skin them until they are overcome with Admiration and invite us to Dinner. You may not know it, Sep. but New York is the Home of the sive Meal-Ticket. For instance: Why have I whip-sawed the Market all these years and boned like a Turk and worn my nerves to a blithering Frazzle in this unending Wrassle for the Almighty? Is it because I wish to endow a Presbyterian College or es-tablish Ping-Pong Parlors for plain Working Girls? Not on your Brenkfast Food! Right across the Street from us there resides a large Lady who has original Knickerbocker Cor-

that some Day she will ask us over and eat on her. When that gladsome Moment arrives, it's a 50 to 1 Shot that we'll all die of Joy." "What seems to be your Handicap?"

asked Sep. "You were invited to all the Parties when you lived at Peavey's Junction."

In other words, if you make your own Money you're an Awful Thing, but if any one slips it to you and you've never done anything with it except count it and sprinkle a little Young Fellow, Now you see what I'm up against. I'm guilty of Work, and hope for is that some of my Grand children will Doctor up my Record and finally draw the Meal-Ticket." "What do you care?" asked Sep, "
