CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. CHATHAM HAS MAGNIFICENT CATHEDRAL

On Sunday the 13th, the R. C. Congregation of the neighboring town, moved upstairs for worship. Services for many years had been held in the basement, but now, in the Cathedral proper, they can worship, as the 'Chatham World' says in the beautiful edifice that stands as a monument to the labor and zeal of the late Bishop Barry, and we would add, to all who liberally assisted him in his worthy work.

The cathedral has a seating capacity of about 2000, is beautifully finished interiorly and is perhaps not surpassed in this respect by any cathedral east of Quebec city. There are several large pillars of imitation marble of variegated coloring, the pulpit is of the same material, the sanctuary rail is marble, the pews and wainscoting are of oak, the ceiling and walls are in ornamental designs, the floor is of polished hardwood and has an incline so as to permit of a free view of the altar from the rear. There are no visible electric light fixtures to mar the beauty or disfigure the walls, the light being reflected from above through corrugated glass windows at either side. The building is steam heated.

SOME COY ISLANDS.

They Do Not Like to Be Seen by Mankind.

A French Antarctic explorer, Maj. Charcot, has just succeeded in landing upon the "lost" island of Rokail, 200 miles west of the Hebrides—a feat it is claimed which has been achieved by no other man.

There is, in fact, something peculiarly exclusive about islands. Jan Meyen, for instance, 300 miles east of Greenland, screens its beauty in a veil of fog so successfully that in 1910, it was seen for the first time for fifty years. The "floating island" in Lake Derwentwater, after being visible for six or seven weeks, disappears altogether. Nushima, off Japan, is sometimes there, sometimes not.

Islands are always being thrown up or sunk. One appeared in the Serpent's Mouth Strait off Mexico recently. You never know where to look for them. The balance, however, is kept even, for in 1908, three island off Mexico suddenly disappeared altogether.

Islands cater for all tastes. In Macquarie Island there are 80,000,000 penguins and no men. Pitcairn Island is reserved solely for Seventh Day Adventists, while Bardsey, off the coast of Cardigan, boasts 29,000 saints, all buried, so as not to jostle the tourists. At St. Kilda you escape from doctors altogether. "We just die a natural death," explained an inhabitant, while the Tories of Tory Island have to pay $10 to a doctor to come over to them at all. But they charge him $20 to take him away again.

You could buy "the Isle of Dreams," off Lemon Bay, ten miles from Arcadia, for $7,750 a little time ago, and the total wealth of the inhabitants of Pitcairn Island is reputed to amount to $50, so it also would probably be going quite cheap. There was an island, too, offered recently for one shilling, and the bidding for North Uist, in the Hebrides, was so slow that the only likely buyer was given a big lunch to induce him to take it.

If you want loneliness you might do worse than purchase Puka-Puka, an island in the Pacific, which is passed, not visited, by six ships in fifty years.

Learning English.

More than 100 students from all parts of the world—including Iceland, China, Austria and Lithuania—meet at University College, Gower street, W.C., London, Eng., for a course of English, according to the speech sounds. The first thing they have to be taught is how to open their mouths and work their tongues.

Mr. Lloyd James, assistant in phonetics at University College, who has organized the course, explained some of the mysteries.

"To teach them," he said, "to say 'r' as in 'ready'—half of them cannot pronounce the letter at all—we make them curve their index finger, put it between the teeth and press it hard. Then they have to say 'r' as in 'pleasure,' and then their mouth and tongue is in the correct position to say 'r'.

"The Frenchman cannot say 'this.' He says 'zees.' Learning to say 'th,' he holds a mirror in front of his face. He opens his teeth and puts his tongue through; then he can say 'th.' All the students have mirrors which they use extensively, as it helps them to remember the positions."

$200,000,000 for Religious Work.

Contributions amounting to more than $200,000,000 were made by Protestant church members of the United States during the last year, according to a statistical table given out by an interdenominational council. The two general classifications are congregational expenses and missions and it is found that keeping the wheels going at home costs much more than effort outside the congregations or in other lands. The total of $18,474,049 from the Methodist Episcopal Church (north) for missions and benevolence looks fairly formidable, but the same church spent $49,911,750 for salaries of pastors and other local expenses.

The per capita gifts show the generosity of some of the smaller denominations. The Evangelical Association members provide $20.72 each for religious matters at home and the Friends $19.38, with the larger bodies considerably behind. The Presbyterian Church (south) with $11.81 per member sets the pace in missionary givings per member.

Sewing Wood.

There has appeared in England recently a special plywood material for aircraft construction.

This new material must not be confused with ordinary plywood, which glued together. It is claimed to be a super-plywood, and is actually sewn together.

First, the layers are cemented together with waterproof material, and then stitched through in parallel rows about one and a quarter inches apart. This gives a rigidity and resistance not to be attained by any other method.

Weight for weight, it is the strongest material yet invented. It is made in sheets of any size or shape up to eight feet wide by 50 feet long, and from one-eighth inch to five-eighths inch thick, thus doing away with waste in the conversion.

No More Jokers.

An ingenious mechanic in Munich has invented a contrivance which can be fixed to public fire alarms so that whoever rings the alarm is caught by the arm and held until the arrival of the firemen.

Punch.

Punch, it is said, came from the East Indies, and the name is claimed to be derived from the Sanskrit word meaning "five," on account of its five ingredients—rum, tea, sugar, lemon and hot water.

Friendship—Yes!
But—

"The Bill will not let in Canadian wheat, but will save to the American farmer the right to raise a bushel of wheat instead of transferring that right to Canada."—Mr. Fordney, in introducing the Fordney Emergency Tariff Bill which has shut millions of dollars worth of Canadian foodstuffs out of the United States market.

"If we are to build up a self-sustaining agriculture here at home, the farmer must be protected from unfair competition from those countries where agriculture is still being exploited."—President Harding. The very spot chosen to deliver this speech—Minnesota—shows that Harding had the Canadian North-West in mind.

WHILE ties of friendship unite Canada and the United States, the attitude of Uncle Sam is that of "Business First" and Canada cannot and should not hope for any consideration from the United States where the interests of the farmers and business people of that country are involved.

Uncle Sam has built the Fordney Tariff directly against Canadian agriculture, and new additional Tariff proposals are now under consideration to shut out from the United States Canadian goods of every kind.

These measures are due to the insistence of the American farmer that the United States market shall be retained exclusively for him and that the influx of Canadian farm products into that country must cease. They are also due to a like insistence of United States manufacturers and workers, who have seen their country develop tremendously and grow rich under a Protective Tariff, and who believe that a still further increase in Tariff is the only means of assuring continued prosperity.

CONTRAST THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED STATES LEADERS WITH THAT OF CANADA'S WOULD-BE LEADERS, CRERAR AND KING

Crerar proposes to allow American goods to enter the Canadian market free of duty.

King proposes that the present reasonable Tariff on the products of the American factory and farm shall be greatly reduced, and that the home market of the Canadian farmer and manufacturer alike shall be thrown open to our Southern neighbour, in the face of the United States Emergency tariff, which practically shuts out Canadian farm products from these markets, and also in the face of the permanent tariff now under consideration at Washington, which gives every promise of being even more drastic than the Emergency Tariff so far as our products are concerned.

In view of the attitude of the United States, what folly it is for Crerar and King to propose throwing open the Canadian market to a flood of both agricultural and manufactured products of the United States when there is not the slightest possibility of any compensative advantage to Canada.

Does any sane Canadian believe that Crerar or King, hat in hand, could persuade the United States Government to completely reverse its Tariff policies and agree to reciprocal trade in face of American public demand for a high protective Tariff?

The people of the United States conduct their affairs and protect themselves by the principle that "Business is business." Why should Canada do otherwise?

Unlike Crerar or King, MEIGHEN stands firm for a reasonable Tariff to protect all our industries—those of the farm, the sea, the mine, the forest, the factory, and for the building up of a bigger and better Canada through the full development of the home market.

FRIENDSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES? YES, BY ALL MEANS!

let us defend our home market, our industries, our farms, our workmen, our homes by the same methods as are used so effectively against us.

Let us work out our own destiny—that of a strong, self-contained nation within the British Empire group of Nations, courageous, masterful, self-reliant.
