Poetry.

WATER.

1. The song of mine
Is a song I design
To be sung by, wise or slaughter,
When the sturdy genius
Is respiring his grace
And calls for fresh, sparkling water.

2. Why is not a song
Of the scuppernong,
Nor Madeira, nor Port, nor Sherry,
Which gentry quaff
With the hearty laugh
That tells they are "gentlemen merry,"

3. Nor is it of wine,
Nor of Catawba wine,
"That grows by the beautiful river,"
But cooler that wells
From the earth, that tells
Of God, its bountiful Giver,

4. Catawba wine
Is not, I opine,
More pure than wine made by Noah,
Or that by which Ann
Her father beguiled,
Who hastened from Sodom to Gomar.

5. The purest wine
Ever made from vine,
Catawba, be praised by Longfellow,
Madeira or Hock,
Preserved under lock
Till age has rendered it mellow.

6. Though poets extol,—
Contains alcohol,
Whoever he be taster or mixer,
And though I disclaim
Inventing the name,
Is at best but the "D vil's Elixer."

7. Not of the vine
Was that better wine
Which was drunk at Cana; 'twas water
Which blushed to wine
At the presence Divine,
As the rose to the sun yields its ottar.

8. Say not of wine,
It's taste is "Divine,"
It certainly is a misnomer,
Though poets all
The beverage thus call,
From Longfellow back to Homer.

9. A winer has said
That wine when 'tis "red,"
And "moveth itself," makes one madder.
'Tis a demon at work—
In the wine-grower's fork,
The serpent and poison-ous "adder."

10. Believe me, all wine
Is a "poison malign,"
More deadly than that of the bole;
Remember Lot
And be not forgot
How wine served the Patriarch Noah.

11. The drink I sing
Is the crystal spring
That gushes from hillside or mountain,
Like stream John beheld
From God's Throne it welled—
Of life the pure sempiern fountain.

12. Would the time were come
When not wine nor rum,
But water, like life's flowing river,
Were offered to guest
And drunk with good zest
"With a benison on the Giver" of water.

13. To God be thanks
Throughout our ranks,
For water, bright sparkling water,
May grace Divine
From strong drink and wine
Preserve every "A and T daughter."

14. May railroad and stage
On printed page
Bear this song to our farthest border,
By old and young
To be read or sung
In the halls of our widespread "Order."
HURON, Nov. 19th, 1863.

A Negro Philosopher.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from the Cumberland River, gives the following humorous colloquy with a philosophic darkey:

I noticed upon the hurricane deck to-day an elderly darkey, with a very philosophical and retrospective cast of countenance, squatted upon his bundle, toasting his shins against the chimney and apparently plunged into a state of profound meditation. Finding, upon inquiry, that he belonged to the 9th Illinois, one of the most gallantly behaved and the heavy losing regiments at the Fort Donelson battle, and a part of which was aboard, I began to interrogate him upon the subject. His philosophy was so much in the Falstaffian vein that I will give his views in his own words as near as my memory serves me:

'Were you in the fight?'

'Had a little taste of it, sa.'

'Stood your ground, did you?'

'No, sa, I runs.'

'Run at the first fire, d'ed you?'

'Yes, and would have run sooner, had I know'd it were comin'.'

'Why, that wasn't very creditable to your courage.'

'Dat isn't my line, sa—took'n's my perfession.'

'Well, but you have no regard for your reputation?'

'Reputation's nothin' to me by the side ob life.'

'Do you consider your life worth more than other people's?'

'It is worth more to me, sa.'

'Then you must value your life highly?'

'Yes, say, I does, more than all dis world, more than a million ob dollars, sa, for what would dat be worth to a man wid de bref out on him? Self-preserv'ation am de fust law wid me.'

'But why should you act upon a different rule from other men?'

'Because different men set different values upon der lives; mine is not in the market.'

'But, if you lost it, you would have the satisfaction of knowing that you died for your country.'

'What satisfaction would dat be to me when de corpse ob feelin' was gone?'

'Then patriotism and honor are nothing to you?'

'Naffin, whatever, sa; I regard dem as among de vanities.'

'If our soldiers were like you, traitors might have broken up the Government without resistance.'

'Yes, sa; dar would have been no help for it; wouldn't put my life in the scale 'gainst any gobermen dat ebber existed, for no gobermen could replace de loss to me.'

'Do you think any of your company would have missed you if you had been killed?'

'May be not, sa; a dead white man ain't much to dese parts, let alone a dead nigga; but I'd 'stissed myself, and dat was de point wid me.'

It is safe to say that the dusky corps of that African will never darken the field of carnage.

THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.—"The greatest folly of my life was the issuing of the Emancipation proclamation." Such were the words of President Lincoln to Wendell Phillips last January, according to the statement of the latter in a speech he made last week at the Music Hall in New Haven. Before the issuing of that document, Mr. Lincoln himself gave it as his opinion that it would be of no more effect than the "Pope's bull against the comet;" and after he had given it to the world he regards it as "the greatest folly of his life," and did not scruple to so inform one of the most influential leaders of the fanatical faction who had forced him into the obnoxious measure. President has made many notable remarks since he has been in office, but none that is likely to attract so much attention as the above says.—N. Y. World.

☞ A cat-a-on of Jamaica Plains, Long Island, went to answer a ring at the door, at the request of his wife, where he found nothing but a basket. On removing the cover a beautiful little child appeared, some five months old. The lady accosted the cat as the lady visitors took up the baby and found a note pinned to its dress which charged the gentlemen with being its father and inquiring him to protect it. A rich scene ensued between the injured wife and indignant husband, the latter denying all knowledge of the whole one and asserting his innocence. The friend interfered and at last the wife was induced to forgive her husband, very roguishly adding that it was their mutual offspring, which had just been taken from the cradle for the purpose of playing the joke.

THE INDIAN SUMMER.—This Indian Summer is becoming a myth in this part of Canada. It is always looked for, but now seldom comes. Since the real Summer passed away, only one or two days have had an Indian Summer appearance, and that imperfectly. The middle of November is past and gone, and the weather is wet, co d, and tempestuous. Yesterday it rained heavily all day, and that indication of an early and severe winter, the filling up of the swamps, has already taken place. The climate of Canada is changing as the country becomes settled. On this 15th day of November, navigation is quite as open now as the middle of summer, with no appearance of ice or frost. The middle of December may now be looked upon as the close of navigation in Canada.—Kingston Whig.

DAYS' HOTEL,
ON THE GRAVEL ROAD,
NEAR WROXETER,
THE subscriber, in returning thanks to the public for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon him—especially while his house was in an unfinished state—takes this opportunity of saying from many friends and the public generally, of the fact that his house now affords accommodation inferior to none in the County, and therefore trusts that a proper attention to business as he will still merit the share of patronage hitherto bestowed upon him. Let no stage-man or other interested individual persuade you into the belief that it is all the same whether you go to Wroxeter or not, because not only is the house not in that place, but is 2 miles distant by any road that is travelable, and therefore travellers going to Belmore Teeswater, Wiarton, &c., will find "Days Hotel" on the main gravel road, about a mile beyond the finger board pointing to Wroxeter, and can expect superior accommodation and a hearty welcome at any hour of day or night. Our stabling is the most commodious in the county (city hotels, perhaps, excepted.) For a view of the house see R. W. Robinson's, R. Martin and L. Bolton's New Map of the County.

IS THERE any VIRTUE in
Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S
WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER
AND ZYLOBALSAMUM ?
Convincing Testimony.
REV. C. A. BUCKBEE,
Assistant Treasurer American Bible Union, N. Y. City, writes: "I can very cheerfully add my testimony to that of numerous friends to the great value of Mrs. A. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Zylobalsamum."
REV. WM. CUTTER, N. Y. City: "My hair is changed to its natural color, and growing on bald spot."
REV. J. D. CORNELL, N. Y. City: "I proved it for a relative. The falling of the hair stopped, and a luxuriant growth of grey to its natural and beautiful color."
REV. J. WEST, Brooklyn, L. I.: "I will testify to their value in the most liberal sense. They have restored my hair when it was bald, and, what is grey, to its original color."
REV. A. WEBSTER, Boston, Mass: "I have used them with great effect. I am now neither bald nor grey. My hair was quite gone, but is now as soft as in youth."
REV. H. V. DEGEN, Boston, Mass: "That they promote the growth of the hair where baldness is, I have the evidence of my own head."

COUNTERFEITS!
HAVING, after much trouble and considerable expense, discovered the party who has been counterfeiting my Pills in the Canadas, and having received a complete list of all those to whom they were sold, and having had what remained of such counterfeits destroyed, and the proper steps taken to prevent a recurrence of such counterfeiting; and being well satisfied that none but the genuine are now in the market. I have come to the conclusion, in order to prevent annoyance to the dealers in my long established remedies, not to change the wrappers around the packages of such remedies, but have taem continue as heretofore.

LIQUID
Aromatic Physic
AN Important Family Medicine.
FOR the cure of diseases of the
LIVER AND STOMACH,
Indigestion, Bilious affections, Palpitation of the Heart, Costiveness of the Bowels, Sick-Headache, Piles, Jaundice, and all other cases where an opening gentle physic is required.
THIS MEDICINE
CONTAINS NO MERCURY,
OR ANY OTHER DELETERIOUS DRUG.
BEING VERY PALATABLE,
It will answer for delicate females or children. It is simply a helpmate to nature, helping energy and a healthy action to the System, the first spring of life wherever the body derives its succor.
This Medicine being very pleasant to the taste, must become very popular with those invalids who have been disgusted with nauseous Castor Oil, Aloes, Rhubarb, &c.
Wherever it has been introduced it has met with great success, and is likely to supersede all other medicines as a good and pleasant physic.
