

Fun and Fancy.

The editor who kicked a poet down stairs apologized to a friend who had come in to steal exchanges by saying that he couldn't help it; he had a sole for poetry.

A Waterloo infant who had been badly bitten by mosquitoes, happening to see a lightning-bug one evening, ran to its mother declaring that one of the mosquitoes was looking for him with a lantern.

A Canadian contemporary asks: "Does Goldwin Smith"—now stop right there, please. Goldwin wins a great many persons, but when you tackle the Smiths you've got a large family to purchase.—Boston Star.

He slipped quietly in at the door, but catching sight of an enquiring face, over the stair-rail, said: "Sorry to late, my dear; couldn't get a car before." "So the cars were full, too?" said the lady, and further remarks were unnecessary.

"What is that you are wearing?" asked Farmer John of his fair city boarder. "Oh! that is my red Jersey." "All right," was the reply, "but don't go near my brown Jersey over in that field, unless you are good at climbing trees."

The speaker who alluded to his candidate as "a war horse that snuffed the battle from afar," climbed up to the composition room with a club after reading it in the paper as "the war horse that snuffed the battle from a bar."

"Well," said a jaunty son-in-law, lunging in from the office with his father's mail, "you've got a postal here from me, and she says she met a cyclone." "Pity the cyclone," was the old gentleman's crusty reply, as he jabbed his pen into the inkstand.

Minnie Palmer burst into tears because the Edinburgh students insisted on joining in her songs when she sang them on the stage. No wonder. The Hawkeye man believes it would make anybody cry to hear a party of Scotch students sing a funny song.

A lawyer once said to a countryman in a smock-frock, who was undergoing an examination in the witness-box:—"You in the smock-frock, how much are you paid for telling untruths?" "Less than you are," was the reply. "For you would be in a smock-frock too."

"Any good shooting on your farm?" asked a hunter to a farmer. "Splendid!" replied the agriculturist. "There's a drive-well man down in the clover meadow, a cloth peddler at the house, a candidate out in the barn, and two tramps down in the stockyard. Climb right over the fence, young man, load both barrels and seal in."

Planes to right of us.
Planes to left of us.
Battle and thunder.

Ours not to reason why,
Ours but to list or die,
Ours not to make reply,
Ours but to fight or die.

Oh, for a moment's peace,
Oh, for a moment's ease,
Oh, will they never cease,
Sadly we wonder.

Words of Wisdom.

Better alone than in bad company.
All days are good to good men.
Cheerfulness is the sunshine of the heart.

Thanks-giving is the best thanksgiving.
It is easier losing than finding a friend.
To many words the best reply is silence.

You cannot have two mornings in the same day.
A good name is better than a sieve of gold.
A pennyweight of love is better than a ton of law.

Pride went out on horseback, but came back on foot.
Search others for their virtues—thyselves for thy vices.
A failure in a good cause is better than a triumph in a bad one.

Fame is sometimes the voice of the wise and sometimes the cackling of geese.
Habit is a cable—we weave a thread of it every day, and at last we cannot break it.

Circumstances are like skeins of silk or thread; to make the most of them we must take them by the right end.
He that has tasted the bitterness of sin will fear to commit it; he that has tasted the sweets of mercy will fear to offend it.

"I never complained of my condition but once," said an old man, "when my feet were bare; and I had no money to buy shoes; but I met a man without feet, and became contented."

Laziness grows on people. It begins in cobwebs and ends in iron chains. The more a man has to do the more he is able to accomplish, for he learns to economize his time.

Actions are holy and good; they attend the heart when it returns to its Creator, and they shine back upon the earth beneath. It may be that at the grave among the dead we, like John, can mark best the value of an active life.

LADY BEAUTIFIERS.—Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks, and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such rich blood, good health, strength and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof.

Household Hints.

SAUSAGE MEAT.—To 10 pounds of meat, allow one-fourth pound of salt, one ounce of pepper, one-half ounce of allspice, and if liked, one-half ounce of sage.

SORT MOLASSES CAKE.—One cup of molasses, one cup of butter, one cup of sugar, one cup of milk, two eggs, one teaspoonful of saleratus and four cups of flour.

CAMPION OINTMENT.—One tablespoonful of brandy, two tablespoonfuls of beeswax, three tablespoonfuls of sweet oil, one tablespoonful of strong spirits of camphor.

INDIAN BREAD.—One quart of fine Indian meal, one and one-half pint of wheat flour, three pints of milk, four eggs, two good teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one fourth pound of butter.

CURRIED BEEF.—Four gallons of water, six pounds of salt, four ounces of sugar and two ounces of saltpetre. Cut up the meat, cover with a weak brine and let stand 24 hours before covering with the above.

FRENCH CAKE.—Four tumblerfuls of flour, two and a half tumblerfuls of white sugar, one tumblerful of milk, one-half tumblerful of butter, three eggs, juice of a lemon and two tablespoonfuls of baking powder.

CREAM WAFERS.—Warm a quarter of a pound of butter without oiling it; work into it five eggs, one at a time; then add a quarter of a pound of powdered sugar, quarter of a pound of sifted flour, and a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, mixing all these ingredients to a smooth paste.

OLD BACHELOR'S CAKE.—One pound of flour, half pound of sugar, quarter of a pound of butter, four wineglasses of milk, half pound of Sultana raisins, quarter of a pound of currants, the same of candied peel, quarter of a nutmeg, two teaspoonfuls of ground ginger, one of cinnamon, and one of carbonate of soda. Mix the ingredients thoroughly and bake in moderate oven for one hour and a half.

CURRIED WAFFLES (SWEET).—Six eggs, one pint of flour, two ounces of melted butter, one and one-half cups of powdered sugar, one cup of milk, one teaspoonful of nutmeg. Beat whites and yolks separately and very stiff, rub the butter and sugar together and work in first the yolks, then the milk, then the flour and whites. Bake a well-buttered wafer on waffle iron very quickly, blowing a little as possible. Roll the whole in a smooth round stick not larger than your four finger, slipping it out carefully when the cake takes the right shape. An acceptable addition to the tea-table, and looks well among fancy cakes in a basket.

FANCY TEA CAKES.—Sift one pound of flour on the pastry-board; make a hollow in the centre, put in half a pound of powdered sugar, half a teaspoonful of lemon essence, five ounces of butter, half a tablespoonful of salt and mix to a soft smooth paste, adding the yolks of three eggs and one gill of cream, after the butter has been thoroughly incorporated with the other ingredients. When well mixed, let the paste stand for one hour then roll it out a quarter of an inch thick, cut it in various small shapes with fancy cutters, put the little cakes on a buttered baking pan, brush them over with a beaten egg, strewn on the tops some chopped citron, raisins or blanched almonds. Bake in moderate oven until a light brown, and cool on a sieve.

CINNAMON CAKE.—Cut up half a pound of fresh butter, and warm it till soft to half a pint of rich milk. Sift a pound of fine flour into a broad pan, make a hole in the centre and pour into it the milk and butter, having stirred them well together. Then gradually add a large quarter of a pound of powdered sugar and a heaping teaspoonful of powdered cinnamon. Beat three eggs very smooth and thick and stir them in, also a wineglass and a half of brewer's yeast, or two glasses of fresh baker's yeast. Then mix (having sprinkled some over the top) all the flour into the hole in the centre, so as to make a soft dough.

When all is well mixed cover it and set it to rise in a round, straight-sided tin pan. Place it near the fire, and when quite light and cracked all over the surface, flour your paste board well and place the loaf upon it, and having prepared in a pint bowl a stiff mixture of ground cinnamon, fresh butter and brown sugar beaten together so as to stand alone, make numerous deep cuts or incisions all over the surface on the sides and top of the cake, fill them with the cinnamon mixture, and pinch together so as to keep the seasoning from coming out. Glaze it all over with beaten white of egg a little sweetened. Then return the loaf to the pan and bake in a moderate oven until thoroughly done. When cool, cut it down in slices like a pound cake.

"Why should a man whose blood is warm sit like his grandire cut in alabaster?" Or let his hair grow rusty, scant and thin. When CINGALESE RENEWER will make it grow the faster. For sale by J. Wilson.

Says Dryden
"She knows her man, and when you rant and swear
Can draw you to her with a single hair."

Crippled and Cured.
A household remedy that will cure Rheumatism and all ailments, such as Sciatica, Sprains, Lame Back, &c., has long been needed, and an oil has been found in Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. W. A. Freeman, Greenwood, Ont., writes of it as follows: "I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and the pain being so severe that I could not rest at night. Finally I became crippled in both knees, when I tried Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment and was cured by it."

Fashion's Fancies.

Tasteful curtains for the sitting-room windows are made of drab moccie cloth. Put them up with a cornice, and in the usual way; then, where they part, fit in a piece of the cloth on which a pretty group of flowers is embroidered in Kensington stitch; the edges may be trimmed with fringe or with lace crocheted of linen thread. Tie the draped part of the curtains back with narrow bands of the moccie cloth, on which is a vine matching the bouquet on the curtains.

Plush applique is very handsome, done either on cloth, velvet or plush, on which latter material it has the effect of mosaic. Autumn leaves cut from red and old gold plush in various shades, are especially beautiful. The leaves may be laid already cut, but the less expensive plan is to buy the plush (an eighth of a yard of each shade) and cut them out for yourself. The button-hole stitch on the edges, and the veining for the leaves may be done either with silk or with gold thread, the silk being more natural in its effect; the gold thread richer and more fashionable. The pattern for the leaves is easily obtainable from a natural leaf, oak or ivy being preferable for green leaves, maple for the autumn foliage.

Simply miraculous is all I can say of the effect of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure in my case. An elderly lady writes this from Antigonish, N. S., who had suffered from pains in the back for twenty years. Sold by J. Wilson, Goderich.

The Quickest Thing on Record.
