Paris a New and a Sadder City.

The city of Paris in many of its characteristics is not the Paris of a few years ago. The boulevards lost the touch of gaiety, and the sombre days of the early years of the seventies. The crowd of widow and sorrowing mother is everywhere in evidence. The mid-services of the great churches are no longer patronised by semi-gay and tourists; they are filled with mourners. Around Notre Dame wounded soldiers, who, although not begging, are there to be seen.

reality of the price that many Parisian lads had to pay for their country's liberation from the Prussian yoke. The same description applies to the Madeleine in the heart of the city. In the Government offices old soldiers are back in their places, minus legs, arms, and here and there some may be seen working with bandaged eyes. War has painted a death hand upon every part of Paris. In theatre, exchange, market, and store the havoc that was made upon the manhood of Paris is too eloquently portrayed. It is only when a stranger converses with the people that he makes the discovery that there is something in Paris stronger than death. An elderly lady presides at a table near the Grand Opera. She wears a medallion of three boys on her breast. A British officer, passing through the city recently pointed to the emblem, and she at once ejaculated: "Yes, monsieur, my boys. They died for France, and I will not mourn." The officer raised his hat.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen—I had my leg badly hurt, the pain was severe and a large swelling came above the knee. I expected it would be serious—I rubbed it with MINARD'S LINIMENT, which stopped the pain and reduced the swelling very quickly. I cannot speak too highly of MINARD'S LINIMENT. AMOS T. SMITH, Port Hood Island.

Coal Situation Never so Serious Declares Wholesale Dealers Who Issues Sharp Warning to Ontario.—Shortage of Ten Millions of Bituminous Exists in the United States Get Coal Where You Can is the Advice to Consumers.

TORONTO, April 8. (By Canadian Associated Press).—The coal situation never was so bad as at present according to George H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal Dealers Association, who addressed the Toronto Wholesale Coal Dealers Association at a banquet here to-day. There is a shortage of 10,000,000 tons of bituminous coal in the United States, Mr. Cushing said. Inadequate transportation facilities had caused the shortage he stated and what was needed was more motive power, rather than more railway cars. The buying of coal for consumption in the Middle Western States is just beginning and will be heavier later on, Mr. Cushing said. The Eastern operators are going to send coal to tidewater for export purposes and are going to find that only four per cent. is wanted. The result will be, in his opinion, that the people of Ontario are going to be between the blockade at tidewater and the congested area in the Western States. My advice to you, he added, is to watch for these periods and get coal when you can.

Wildly fluctuating prices between Eastern and Western American points were predicted by Mr. Cushing. Although stating that he did not think any decent man would attempt to justify the present prices of coal, Mr. Cushing held out no hope for an improvement in coal prices and said he did not think anyone would ever see the prices go down again to where they were before the recent advances. (The advice to get coal where and when you can, applies equally to Newfoundland this year.—Ed.)

Lipton Will Use

SHAMROCK IV IN CUP RACE.

London, April 17.—Regarding the statement that in the event of the Shamrock III, proving faster than the challenger, Shamrock IV in the trials, he would ask the New York Yacht Club to be allowed to substitute the boat for America's Cup. Sir Thomas Lipton declared to the Associated Press yesterday.

"I have never dreamed of suggesting such a course. I am fully aware that having challenged with the Shamrock IV, I cannot race any other boat against the American defending yacht, without issuing another challenge in accordance with the rules covering the contest."

Shamrock III Sailed.

New York, April 17.—The 21 meter yacht Shamrock which Sir Thomas Lipton will use in the trial races against his Shamrock IV preliminary to the America's cup races, sailed from Southampton April 8, for New York. Colonel Neillside, of the British sportsman announced upon his arrival here yesterday on the steamship Adriatic.

The small yacht, under Jury Rig, probably will take a month to make the journey by way of the Azores, he said.

"I expect Sir Thomas will be here in about four weeks and preparations for tuning up will soon be on in earnest," Colonel Neill added. "The mast, boom, gaff, smaller spars and rigging for the big racer were brought over on the Adriatic, when the small yacht arrives here she will be taken to the yards at City Island, where the Shamrock IV is located, and Col. Neill will begin immediately to refit her for the speed trials off Sandy Hook."

The Potency of Perfume.

The real, sure-fire potency of perfume cannot be thoroughly appreciated under ordinary circumstances. It takes surroundings that are conducive to the receptive frame of mind to permit of the genuine realization of what scent exactly means. Nowhere, of all the wide and extended ranges of the spacious sphere, will be found a spot meeting those requirements more than a moving picture theatre, where all is quiet and those who are not making love, reading aloud the titles, discussing the dresses and screen performances of the actors and actresses, telling funny stories, talking politics, commenting on the visualised story, have their eyes glued to the silver screen, and silence reigns supreme. There the philosophic minded may to their hearts content and to their fullest capacity experience the odors that permeate the night (we were going to say desert) air. Each lady, and each of the she-men, has his own particular brand of stinker, and the heterogeneous mixture of odors is such as will offend the stoutest olfactory organ. Every movement or gesture of a lady, sends waves of perfume toward you and you emerge therefrom gasping and panting for breath. Perhaps a gas mask would be useful. But how much nicer it would be for the poor, unsuspecting male if the other sex either standardised their perfume or used none at all! This is a plaintive wail of a heart that is discouraged and weary.

MAGISTERIAL ENQUIRY.—A Magisterial enquiry into the drowning of Charles Prowse will begin at the Central District Court to-day.
