The Wanderers started off with a couple of nice hits off Aspell, who was bothered by a slight incline at the homeplate, but a nice double play between French and O'Donnell shattered their hopes. In their first effort at bat the Harps did great work. O'Donnell let off and poled out a two bagger, which Johnson dup-licated scoring him. He got home when Harvey dropped Delancy's third strike. In the second and third innings nothing resulted, both pitchers getting in good work, but in the fourth the Irish added another run points, and the Wanderers just trail-ing behind.
