Dr. Grenfell to

Have Radio

SEVEN SETS FOR LABRADOR MIS-

with the outside world. Wilfred T Grenfell the "Labrador doctor," whose work in hehalf of natives and fishermen has received world-wide recog nization, will now have the opportui ity of trying out the value of radio in the many hospitals scattered through Labrador and Newfoundland.

Thinking first of the patients ar been spending a life of sacrifice, Dr. Grenfell is hopeful that all of the missions under the jurisdiction of the International Grenfell Association wil be equipped with the latest marvel of science, that will bring to these dreary outposts of civilization, the finest music and educational facilities.

Seven complete receiving sets of the finest grade, entirely the product of American manufacturers, are to be installed in the Grenfell missions this fall by C. A. Service, assistant secretary of the American Radio Relay League, who was assigned the work by the Grenfell Association. He left Boston Sunday, August 24, having shipped all of the radio equipment.

Much of the inspiration in behalf of the project has been furnished by Eldon Macleod, treasurer of the Mason Regulator company of Dorchester Center, and associated for some time in the work of the New England Grenfell Association. Mr. Macleod has taken a great interest in the matter and it is through his financial assistance and the co-operation of manufacturers that the expense was met.

The assistance of the American Radio Relay League was requested for the purpose of selecting the equipment and allowing its assistant secretary the necessary leave of absence in which to undertake the installing of the sets. He will also investigate the power facilities of the mission in order to determine whether it will be possible to install amateur telegraph transmitters for inter-communication.

The need for a special raio service of this kind was made evident when the middle of winter, fire destroyd one of the hospitals and the facilties were such that it was found impossible to get any word to the outside world for two months. The survivors were compelled to depend on dog teams to reach their ultimate destination and the task forms one of the interesting annals of the Grenfell As-

In winter all but the largest of the nospitals are closed and the personnel remaining are faced with eight onths of extreme cold during which communication with other missions, ing donations to the Children's Hosor base of supply, is practically impossible by the primitive means to workers in the field are forced to resort.
