LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of my lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

The Nilestown farmers have had quite a time securing their corn harvest on account of the heavy rain storms. Some who had their stocks partly completed had to haul the sheaves back into the fields. THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—a pulmonary acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claims to public confidence.

In Sweden the education of journalists is treated as a function of the State. Under this system the young journalist gains a knowledge of the world by traveling at the expense of the taxpayer. Let justice have its free course, so that the meanest persons might have the benefit of it.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—Not since Confederation has there been such a crush to witness the opening of Parliament as there was yesterday afternoon, when the Governor-General drove down in state. Thousands were unable to gain admittance to the Chamber, though some had come long distances to be present. At the ceremony in the Senate Chamber, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. R. W. Scott stood at the foot of the throne, while Sir Oliver Mowat sat in a chair beside his colleagues. They were all dressed in black frock coats, and their hats were speculation among those who noticed the absence of Windsor uniforms whether it is the inauguration of Jeffersonianism or the result of a fashion. A member of the late Government bought a second-hand uniform so it was said, but that quick way of getting a Privy Councilor's court outfit was not well thought of by his friends, and is not likely to become fashionable. The uniforms of the members of the House of Commons were Chief Justice Sir Henry Strong, in his scarlet robes and ermine, and Judge Burdidge, of the Exchequer Court.

Lady Aberdeen preceded his Excellency into the Senate Chamber by a few minutes, being accompanied by Lady Mary Gordon and her two sons, the latter being arrayed as pages of the time of Louis Quatorze.

Senate, when Sir Oliver Mowat moved that the address be considered on Monday next.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell first supported adjournment till Tuesday, and then said he had read in organs of the Government that some arrangements had been made by which a final settlement had already been reached on the "very vexed question who had agitated the people of the country for the last few years." He trusted the Government would be prepared when the question came up to tell the Senate what the arrangement was.

Sir Oliver Mowat had not the slightest objection to accede to the suggestion of Sir Mackenzie that the consideration of the speech should be postponed until Tuesday. With regard to the Manitoba school question, he was glad that Sir Mackenzie read with such care what appeared in the Reform press. In this instance he had read them more carefully than he (Sir Oliver) had, because he did not happen to read the speech of the day before. Senator Masson—Then what has appeared in the papers that the question has been settled is not the case? Sir Oliver Mowat—The question is not settled, but we have no doubt it will be finally settled. We are on the way to it, and I think if we accomplish that, the Government will consider it good work, although we may not be ready this session to report.

HONORED THEIR PROFS.

Close of the Summer Term of the Western University—A Pleasant Episode.

The summer course at the Western University closed this morning. The term was signalized by a happy gathering in the lecture hall. On behalf of the forty students assembled Mr. J. B. Campbell read an address to Prof. Burgess and Prof. James, in grateful acknowledgment of the pleasure and profit derived from their instruction and intercourse during the term. The professors responded feelingly.

The summer course, which included the classics, mathematics, French and German, was such a success that it will probably be repeated next year. Many of the students were from outside points, several being teachers, who took advantage of the holidays. The fall term of the university arts department opens on Oct. 1, and indications are bright for a large attendance.

Are You Tired

All the time? This condition is a sure indication that your blood is not rich and nourishing, as it ought to be, and that you may be taking a few bottles of the great blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Thousands write that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured them of that tired feeling by giving them rich, red blood.

HOOD'S PILLS act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

The remarkable change that has taken place in the tea consumption of the world during the past few years is one of the wonders of the holiday of the century. Very few years ago, all tea came from China and Japan; now these countries supply a very small portion of it indeed. The probability is very simple after all; it is due wholly to the much finer flavor, the more cleanly preparation and the health-giving properties of Ceylon and Indian teas. Besides this, the remarkable way the teas of Ceylon have been placed before the public by the Salada Tea Company, every newspaper, every magazine, in fact, every place that one looks they see the well-known legend, "Salada Ceylon Tea." These people have a good article, and are not afraid to let the public know it; consequently, this tea is drunk by millions today.
