of State Sherman who was interviewed n the murder of the Spanish premier said: "This deplorable event will have some effect of course on the political affairs of Spain, but to what extent I cannot say. The death of one man is not necessarily going to change the sentiment of the whole country. Spain been exhausted. But she means, evidently, to hold on to Cuba. Just how she can do it under these circumstances I cannot see. Yet she is opposed to yielding a point. Premier Canovas was a strong partisan. He was the chief exponent of the element, which was determined to keep the islands at all hazards. Seemingly, Spain is almost a unit on this. Canovas was a strong factor in the government of Spain, but it is not impossible that another will be found to replace him in that important office, having similar views and the same pronounced ideas. How it may be in this case, I am not able to say, but the effects, political, of such an event, are not essentially far-reaching, and have not always produced radical developments. As to the consequences of the conflict in Cuba, I do not care to talk, I have no official information of the assassination, and must refrain from venturing guesses as to what it may Senator Morgan, a member of the ommittee on foreign affairs, predicted in an interview last night that the assassination might be the forerunner of a complete change of government, republic replacing the monarchy. A baseball match was played between teams captained by Messrs. George Moore, N. G., and Fred Showler, jun. Six innings were played, and resulted in a score of 11 to 8 in favor of Moore's side. A feature of the game was a brilliant catch by ex-Ald. James Fitzgerald at second base. During the game Mr. L. Goodburne. Second State Description of leaders. Their poor showing at the struggle has been an arduous one, and at the first of the season the Torontos looked to be hopelessly out of it. But, by everlastingly sticking to business, playing the game in all its ramifications, the Torontos gradually crept up notch by notch, until, from last place in the league, they have gained the position advocate the suppression of anarchism of leaders. Their poor showing at the
