

Sarnia May Oppose Applications For Higher Gas Rates

Lively Discussion Is Expected At Meeting in Chatham Today—Government Legislation Will Likely Come Under Fire.

[Special to The Advertiser.] SARNIA, July 7.—Delegated by the council to represent the city, Mayor Crawford and Ald. Harry Steel go to Chatham Friday to attend a meeting of the Municipal Gas Consumers Association called to consider the report of the survey of the gas fields in Western Ontario, and also to discuss the application made by three companies to increase their rates.

Some local criticism has been offered on the survey report made, and the increase applications are also expected to receive opposition. The legislation passed by the Ontario Government at the last session respecting natural gas has also been criticised and Friday's session at the Maple City is expected to prove interesting as well as indicative of the stand to be taken by the association.

Coming in Rapidly. A total of over $100,000 in taxes has been paid in to the office of Tax Collector Nickell since July 1. Of that amount $52,000 was turned in on Monday, July 4, the second last day for the payment of the first instalment before payment of the second instalment becomes effective. Although the rush has declined, payments are still being made at a fairly rapid rate.

Mild For Forgery. Adolph Zestro, arrested recently at Windsor at the request of Sarnia police on charges of alleged forgery and theft, is to appear in the court here Friday for a hearing. Joseph Zestro, a son of the former, taken into custody at the same time, also faces similar charges it is said. They are at present at liberty on bail.

Zestro propped arrest at Windsor according to Detective McNab of the border city force, and jumped from the motor car in which he was driving, ran back to the ferry boat and defied the officer, believing that he was still in the United States. The detective soon convinced him otherwise and took him to the Windsor police station.

Can Find No Trace of Galt Merchant. Feared That Charles Campbell May Have Lost Memory. GALT, July 7.—Charles P. Campbell, proprietor of a small music store on Water street north, is missing. He disappeared on Tuesday afternoon being seen last at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and while inquiries have been made, so far no trace has been obtained of him and the case is now in the hands of the police, who are investigating.

It is said he was very ill when last seen, and it is feared he may have suffered from a loss of memory and has wandered away. He is a married man and has three children. He is over 6 feet in height, of slight build and a sandy moustache. He is about 40 years of age.

The hot spell continues here with mercury hovering around the 100 mark. While in some factories employees had to quit work on account of heat, so far there have been no serious results.

W. C. Cameron, the popular boys' secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted with regret. On September 1 he will commence his duties as boys' secretary of the Central Y. M. C. A., Toronto. The board of directors of the local institution has elected the following officers: President, D. J. Fleming; vice-president, E. M. Grove; treasurer, N. E. Palmer, recording secretary, A. L. Bennett.

If you require a messenger boy, don't put a card in your window, but use an advertisement in The London Advertiser. The only cost of fifteen words will only cost 20 cents.

NEW BATH HOUSE FOR BRANTFORD TO EXTEND CRUSADE

Big Structure To Be Erected Near Wilkes' Dam.

BRANTFORD, July 7.—Wilkes Dam, a section of the Grand River, which has been made immensely popular by the heat wave will be the site of a new bathing beach. Private enterprise will put up a big dressing-house and lockers, together with an ample cafeteria for the benefit of the hundreds of citizens who bathe in the river daily at this point.

There is little letup in the heat which has the city in its grasp. The temperature dropped slightly today, but the air became more humid and the slight breezes brought little relief. No fatalities have been brought about through the heat though a number of people have taken ill. Owing to the popularity of the bathing grounds, citizens who do not possess autos are raising the question of street railway service, it being felt by many that the new extension of Holmdale could be run up Ava road and back of the O. S. B. and the first world's convention of the Junior World's Christian Endeavor opens tomorrow.

Official convention records indicated tonight that the convention of the largest religious gathering ever held in this country, 16,000 delegates from all sections of the world being registered.

More than 1,500 were from the New England States, Massachusetts leading with 700. Pennsylvania is represented by nearly 2,000 delegates.

CHOOSE DELEGATES TO INTERVIEW KING. Six Nations Indians To Lay Case Before King George. BRANTFORD, July 7.—After an election in the Six Nations Council, which lasted nearly a week, announcement was made today that Dr. Thomas Miller and D. S. Hill, former clerk in the Indian office, had been elected as delegates from the Six Nations, who will be sent to England to interview King George in regard to the troubles which they (Indians) claim they have had with the Indian department.

It is stated that there had been some dissatisfaction at the election, because the people had only been allowed one week in which to consider the names of the delegates who might be sent to interview the king.

The delegation to go to England to interview His Majesty King George will present some difficulties which, it is claimed, exist over the enfranchisement of the Indians. There are many matters affecting their status as a nation which they claim have been disregarded by the Government authorities, and it is the final appeal to the king which the Indians propose to make.

CAYUGA PRINCIPAL IS GOING TO SIMCOE. Board May Refuse To Hire Any Members of Federation. [Special to The Advertiser.] SIMCOE, July 7.—In spite of the boycott of the Simcoe High School by the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, James E. Skeele, principal of the Cayuga High School, accepted the position of principal of the local high school at a meeting of the board of management today. Mr. Skeele will, in addition to his duties as principal, take over the department of classics, teaching Latin. His salary was set at $2,500 a year, or $300 more than the "fired" teachers demanded, but were refused.

Miss Ann Kennedy, formerly assistant to Principal Skeele, has also accepted a position as mathematical teacher at the high school. J. D. Christie, the retiring principal, who held that position for 33 years, will take charge of the English and French department in accordance with his wish that he be allowed to relinquish the principalship and lapse back to his own department.

Two More Needed. The board of education is now faced with the problem of obtaining two additional high school teachers, one for Junior English, and another as commercial teacher. Following the refusal of the board of education to accept the explanation of the Teachers' Federation, on its offer to arbitrate between the four teachers, who are now fired, and the school board, notices have been appearing regularly in the city papers appearing regularly in the city papers.

backing the Simcoe teachers, "notwithstanding press reports to the contrary," and "get the only reliable news from us."

May Be Barred. Chairman Grover C. Murdoch of the board of education is proposing to meet at the next meeting of the board of education to discuss the matter of the teachers who have been fired.

CHATHAM MAN IS CHARGED IN COURT WITH NON-SUPPORT. Chatham Man Is Charged in Court With Non-Support. CHATHAM, July 7.—Robert Scott, who appeared in the police court some time ago on a charge of non-support of his wife and three children, came up again today on the request of his wife, who claimed that Scott is making little effort to provide the necessities of life for his better half and his young offspring. The case was enlarged for a week, to give Scott one last chance to find a job and produce the money for the support of his home.

When he came up before, Scott claimed that he had no place to live, and no way of caring for his family. At that time the authorities pitched him with a tent, which was pitched near the post house, as a temporary quarters until he could secure a house in which to live and the children, who had been living in the tent for a week, and the young wife complained the mosquitoes were very bad, and she had no way of keeping them out, and produce the money for a regular house, and she believes that if her husband makes an honest attempt, he will be able to provide it.

"COUNT" REYNAUD AT 77 FACES A PRISON TERM FOR SWINDLE

For Thirty Years Has Been Fooling Public Into Investing Money To Him.

Paris, July 7.—"Count" Reynaud, erstwhile municipal councillor of Paris, claimed to the title of Roman count, and certainly a prince of swindlers, is again in the toils of the police. For 30 years stories of Reynaud's escapades have been told and published broadcast in Europe and America, but now at 77 he is facing another prison term, it is probable that his wild career of reckless crookery will end forever. Reynaud's first appearance in Paris was just after the Franco-Prussian war. Although he arrived home penniless, he soon developed ideas of high finance, and then years later he opened a bank in the Bois de Boulogne with another crook, who helped him to attract victims. He was prosperous for two years. But when the police closed the bank, he obtained his release and a white-washed record by one of these kinks for which French law is noted. After winning the election by which he became municipal councillor he again became involved in a shady financial transaction, and would have been lynched by an infuriated mob if he had not been rescued. And then, by taking advantage of their friendship, he disappeared, leaving the court to an empty prison cell.

Returning to Paris from Brussels in 1904, Reynaud opened another bank, promising 500 per cent profit on all investments. What the bank "busted," speculators, thousands were ruined, not one was found who would prosecute the promoter. Then came another hiatus in his activities, during which he is believed to have been in the Transvaal. But he reappeared again in England with his pockets lined with gold, silver and diamonds. After months of negotiations he was extradited. He was unable to give an accounting of what had become of the more than 2,000,000 francs that had been entrusted to him for speculation, but he was required to serve only six months.

During the war, Reynaud, taking the name of Count de Roskard, opened another get-rich-quick bank, promising 15 per cent interest per month. He again avoided an accounting by leaving Paris until the anger of his ruined clients had abated. It is estimated that he has speculated with and lost more than 40,000,000 francs of other people's money. When arrested on a charge of running a bookshop near the Folies Bergere the "count" wept and begged that he be released for another fortnight.

"I haven't done anything yet," he said, "but if you will let me alone I will have plenty of cash shortly. I have the finest deal of my life in ten million. Then you can do what you want with me." But his plea was not heeded, and so now hundreds of French investors are congratulating themselves on their narrow escape from financial loss.

HAS ENGLISH SMOKE, LOSES TROUSERS LEG. Dublin, July 7.—Sinn Fein has placed an embargo on English cigarettes and all loyal workers for Mr. De Valera's cause must carefully select their brands. The first penalty came this week when a Sinn Fein was caught smoking Virginia tobacco. He asserted it was American, but when the stand proved it to be the product of an English company he was forced to submit to the indignity of having one trouser leg cut off and thus had to make his way home as best he could.

A newspaper correspondent was impressed with the seriousness of the situation when he offered an ardent woman Sinn Fein a cigarette. She carefully examined the brand and then politely declined, saying that she did not know what the penalty might be for women, but that she wasn't taking any chances.

Sinn Feiners are trying to encourage the use of American tobacco put up by American firms, because they think that general patronage of the American product will seriously hurt English trade. It means a great personal sacrifice, because American cigarettes are scarce, but the spirit of Sinn Fein is equal to it.

SERIOUSLY HURT UNDER BIG TRACTOR. [Special to The Advertiser.] DURHAM, July 7.—A serious accident occurred today on the farm of W. H. Hunter, North Egremont, and almost ended fatally. Mr. Hunter was sitting on his farm tractor, backing it out of the shed. There is a drop of about a foot from the sill of the shed to the ground, and it appears a nut was off the steering wheel under the tractor. On cranking the tractor it jumped and the wheeling Mr. Hunter in front of the machine, luckily his knees were drawn in, as the tractor, which had a full supply of gas on, jumped ahead, the back wheel passing over his head. His spine was injured, but he was somewhat injured, but no bones are thought to be broken.
