Tecs Maul Ham Hurlers For Easy 8 to 1 Victory

Delman Kept Seven Hits Scattered-London's Came in Bunches.

. While Delman was holding the Hams to seven rather scattered hits and one well-earned run across the river yesterday, the Tecs mauled two of Johnny Carlin's hurling staff for 13 safe swats of assorted species, negotiating the return route around the paths just eight times turn route around the paths just eight times.

A pair of Ham bingles thrown together in the third and seventh caused Del and his assistants some real cause for worry, but in both cases some fast work relieved the situation, without allowing runs. In the second Rust got on on a scratch to Getsie, and Hasty singled to center. Gray forced Hasty at second, while Rust went to third. Carlin was passed, cramming the bases. Stuz's best attempt with the willow resulted in a double play, as Delman took his bounder, cut Rust off at the plate, and Mackey's throw to Beatty beat George to the sack.

Three force-outs upset the Hams' chances to score in the seventh.

The Hams' lone tally in the fifth resulted from Gray's triple, with Rust on first, and only ground rules separated Carlin's crew from two tallies. The drive curved to the foul-line in deep right, bounced off at an angle under the ropes and rolled to Dundas street fence. Gray beat Schaeter's relayed throw to the plate by inches, but Umpire Doyle sent him back to the hot cushion under the ground rule. Carlin ended the frame swinging, in a vain attempt to rescue Gray.

When Tecs hit they hit in bunches. In the second, the fifth, sixth and eighth they combined their pokes in groups, and only in the sixth were their pokes in vain. In that frame, with one gone, Delman, who, by the way, had three hits out of four trips to the plate, and Stimpson singled, both to center. With Getsie and Beatty coming up, it looked like more scoring, but two pops, to ray and Kuhn, ended the inning.

Maybe you will recall something about Rioux. He is the giant lumberman, Trios Pistoles, up in the lumber district, who was discovered by Dr. Gadbois of Montreal while in search of a superman to build into a world's champion box fighter. For a year now Rioux has been working at the Circle Outremont, one of the leading Montreal clubs, under the eye of Emile Maupas, the club trainer. Now he is working out with Dempsey to sharpen him to fighting edge.

Dashing around and seizing his assailant, Rioux drew him from the blankets, and, using him as a batteringram, cleared his way to the door. Here he threw his human bludgeon out into the snow, picked up the Swede and tossed him out too. Then closing the door, he picked up an axe and invited the other lumberjacks to come on, but they declined. Peace reigned.

It was the news of this battle trickling out into the settlements that brought the attention of Dr. Gadbois, superintendent of the municipal division of public amusement, to this wild battler of the woods. Dempsey should gain plenty of experience of the ways of wild men in his work with Rioux. Dares Whole Camp.

KAUFMANN IS BEST

New York, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The base-ball year is far enough along to make it evident that no pitcher in the big leagues is likely to enroll himself among the mighty winners of the past. Not a man can come up to the 30 victory mark unless there are superman performances between now and October.
