Thousands Look On As Stirring Scenes Mark Dedication of the United Church When 700,000 Join Hands To Worship

Three Sessions Held at Toronto On Birthday of New Church.

350 NAMES SIGNED

Speakers Representing Three Denominations Speak Before Vast Assembly.

MESSAGES POUR IN

Words of Encouragement Come From All Parts of World.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 10.—Seven hundred thousand strong, Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists today marched into the United Church of Canada and demonstrated their unity in three sessions of devotion and addresses, each of them attended by between 7,000 and 8,000 persons.

"This has been the greatest day in the history of Canada, and in some respects, of the Christian world," said Rev. James Endicott, secretary for foreign missions of the Methodist church, in addressing the gathering this afternoon. The speakers were Dr. Endicott, Rev. Dr. D. L. Ritchie, principal of the Congregational college, at Montreal, and Rev. Dr. Clarence Mackinnon, ex-moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Greetings from religious bodies in all parts of the English-speaking world were presented tonight. Some of them were presented verbally by special delegates, and others were in the form of messages read to the gathering. From all sides best wishes for the success of the church as a religious factor and the hope that it would be a profound influence on Canadian life were expressed.

Complete Dedication.

The session in the arena in the morning saw the new church dedicated and constituted, a ceremony which was completed in the afternoon when the 350 delegates to the first general council filed onto the platform and affixed their signatures to the basis of union, which the heads of the denominations already had signed.

The chairman, during the afternoon, was Dr. G. C. Pidgeon, Presbyterian moderator, and it was agreed that until permanent officials are elected, the moderator, the Methodist general superintendent, Rev. Dr.
Chown, and the Congregational general chairman, Rev. Dr. Warriner, should preside over the sessions as they agree. Secretaries and clerks of the denominations also are to carry

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 10.—The United church of Canada, which came into being yesterday, is constituted as follows:

Membership.
Methodists	414,047
Presbyterians	348,111
Congregationalists	12,200
Total	692,358
Congregations.

on in the same way.
Tonight, a third huge crowd gathered to hear representatives of the overseas churches, with which the uniting denominations have had affiliations.

Gavel Presented.
At the afternoon session Rev. Dr.
R. P. McKay, Presbyterian foreign mission secretary, presented to the chairman a gavel made of pieces of wood from the foreign mission fields, with a handle of Canadian maple.
The basis of union was signed on a table presented to the church by the publications board, and the delegates signed with a pen presented by Mrs.
Carman, widow of Rev. Dr. Albert Carman, for that purpose.
Dr. Endicott aroused great enthusiasm in his address when he referred to the leaders of the Presbyterian unitists, mentioning by name Rev.

All Churches May Carry Old Names Into the Union

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 10.—Congregations of the uniting congregations may retain their local names—such as Metropolitan Methodist church, Bloor street Presbyterian and Bond street Congregational—in the opinion of the legal committee, of which N. W. Rowell, K.C., is chairman, which will go to the council.
"Your committee," says the report, "is of the opinion that local churches have the right to retain their existing names if they desire to do so. Your committee expresses no opinion on the question of policy involved in the continued use of such local names."

Four London churches, representative of the three denominations which have formed the United church of Canada, have already changed their names. They are as follows: First Presbyterian to First Presbyterian, United church of Canada, London; Asklin street Methodist to Wesley United church of Canada; Southern Congregational to Pilgrim United church of Canada, and First Methodist to Metropolitan United church of Canada, London. Numerous other changes are pending.

Dr. Pidgeon and Rev. Dr. Gandier, principal of Knox college, "In the bitterest combat the church in Canada has ever known," he said, "the leaders stood together and pressed forward." "That applause," he added a moment later, "should go across Canada." Dr. Endicott believed the United church could not do better than follow the principle of Christian aspiration, of strong purpose, of vision and of unity. If unity were the great principle to bring them together, it also was the principle which would enable them to live in harmony.
There were tremendous difficulties in denominationalism, and whatever might have been necessary in the past, man now needed a peculiar type of mind if he prayed for divisions.
The call for unity transcended the narrowly denominationalism, but nationalism. If it were right for Knox to organize his church for the sake of Scotland, it could not be wrong for them today to organize the United church for the sake of Canada, but at the same time he wished to point out the danger of over-emphasis in nationalism.

Credits Transferred.
"Today we have transcended the creeds," continued Dr. Endicott. However good the old Westminster confession might have been, for instance, it was better today in the basis of union than ever before. They had not taken out a single thing which ought to be in. If they had to choose between the past and the future they always would choose the future. Their fathers were not a bit more important than their children.
"We have made a great beginning, but no more," concluded the speaker.
"Let us see that the principles which brought us together shall keep and make this movement triumphant to the ends of the earth."
"Today we stand on the threshold of a new epoch in our Canadian life," declared Rev. Dr. Clarence Mackinnon of Halifax, former Presbyterian moderator, in addressing the assembly.

"Hitherto," he continued, "our religious institutions have been borrowed from other lands. Until now we have been formed and distinctly Canadian church. But now we stand on the verge of a new venture." Frames New Home.
"The spirit of our denomination, without cutting adrift its old moorings, will unite with the new and for the past, but with a keen sense of responsibility for the future, has framed for itself a new ecclesiastical home, through which its young, energetic life will find more ready expression, retaining all that is most glorious in our common Christian heritage, but free, we trust, from those formalities and fetters that are the property of a bygone age."
"What a living institution this United church is going to be, when there are harnessed together the strong and sturdy qualities of the Presbyterian, the fervid evangelism of the Methodist, and the wisdom and splendid qualities from each of its historic factors, the United church goes forth to its appointed task, not to make for herself a glorious name, but to serve the life of our dominion." Principal D. L. Ritchie declared that "today Canada gives leadership to divided Protestantism all the world over."

Must Keep Above World.
"The only way," he said, "by which a church can serve the world and so conquer it is by keeping its feet on the cross and its hands in prayer. If we wrestle into it on its own plane it will throw us every time. The Puritan with an easily be too much at home in the world and in these days when the idea of 'service' has become a cult it is well to remember it."
"They should grow Protestant saints, for Protestantism took religion out of the monastery and set it in the market place."
The United church must be a comprehensive church. "After all, as we have again learned, churches have little good to hope for from parliaments."
It must be a wise, progressive and courageous church which would "meet different temperaments, cul-

DEATH SENTENCE REDUCED TO IMPRISONMENT FOR LIFE
Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 10.—The death sentence imposed on William George Watkins, formerly of New Westminster, B. C., who was sentenced to be hanged at Montreal next Friday for the murder of F. Z. Beauvais, Verdun storekeeper, has been commuted to life imprisonment, it was announced today by the department of justice.
A petition was recently sent to the minister of justice containing approximately 5,000 signatures, asking that the death sentence be commuted on the ground that Watkins was not mentally responsible for his actions.

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, June 10.—The pre-assembly congress of the continuing Presbyterian church of Canada concluded tonight with two large meetings in New St. Andrew's and Cooke's churches. Tomorrow morning the assembly starts.
The continuing Presbyterians today dropped the word "continuing" and referred to themselves as Presbyterian Church in Canada. They will refer also to their assembly starting tomorrow morning as the adjourned session of the Presbyterian general assembly as reconstituted by the continuing commissioners at 1 o'clock this morning, when the assembly as previously constituted passed out of existence. The meetings of the assembly will last until Saturday noon.
Women's missionary society of the Presbyterian church will also meet during the next three days at Knox church.
Missionaries Speak.
Tonight's sessions of the congress were devoted to the missionary enterprises of the Presbyterian church.
There was a challenge made of the statement of the unitists that 95 per cent of the foreign missionaries were entering freely into the United church. Rev. Dr. Wilkie, missionary in China, who has announced himself as remaining Presbyterian, and who is at the congress, reported tonight that 44 foreign missionaries had declared their intention of remaining Presbyterian. There are ten foreign missionaries attending the congress, including two Chinese missionaries, who work among their own people in China.
Dr. Wilkie said that many more missionaries would like to remain Presbyterian, but he had been informed that they could work along just as they had been doing, but if they went into the Presbyterian church they would be cut off at the end of June without remuneration or work. This explanation threatened for a time to raise a storm of protest, particularly after Dr.
Wilkie stated he had received a letter that he should not ask the foreign mission board and gentlemen.
When he had decided to remain with the Presbyterian church.
The indignation dwindled, however, when Dr. Jonathan Goforth, a missionary from Honan, who is staying Presbyterian, stated that his treatment from the mission board had been courteous and gentlemanly.

Home Side, Too.
The missionary side was dealt with both from the home standpoint and the foreign, in the addresses on both chairs. Rev. Robert Johnston, of Calgary, said that Presbyterianism

Peters Wants To Be a Judge

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, June 10.—High Constable Geo. Peters will likely commence an agitation to secure amended legislation which would give a police officer power to impose a fine on a motorist whom he had stopped for speeding in a case where the offence is admitted, without having to go through the formalities of court procedure. The majority of motorists checked for speeding would prefer to settle on the spot, he contends.

was essentially a great instrument for missionary endeavor. In the spirit of world democracy, he said, the Presbyterian church would move forward with its message of faith.

Rev. Dr. Goforth said that although 95 per cent of the missionaries might be in the United church "God is not limited; we can raise up a fresh lot of missionaries."

He was afraid that during the turmoil in the church that God had not always been given first place. "If the right spirit filled all the members and leaders, I cannot conceive that there could be this wreckage. There is something wrong on the human side; it is not the Divine." He said Canadian Presbyterianism needed an ocean-to-ocean revival, and no special evangelist was required.

He said that the former of the confession of faith were 10,000 times nearer the truth than the former of the basis of union," said Dr. Goforth amid applause. "We don't have any reservation about the Presbyterian doctrine." He hoped every Presbyterian minister would teach the catechism to his flock, and deplored the fact that Sunday school leaders were replacing the Bible in Sunday schools. "The disasters in the church have never come through the laity, but through the leaders," he contended.

To Divide Property.
It was announced that a telegram had been received from the federal government at Ottawa that the federal commission for the division of the property of the church would be appointed on June 12, instead of nine months hence, as provided in the

RECOVER SIXTH BODY IN SANDSUCKER WRECK

Remains of A. Martin, Sandusky, Found On Beach Near Wheatley.

Special to The Advertiser.
Leamington, June 10.—The sixth body to be recovered from the wreck of the sandsucker Kelley Island, in which nine were drowned, was found today by Marston Campbell on the beach about seven miles from Wheatley, and four miles from the end of Point Pelee. Coroner Dr. Kendrick, of Leamington, was notified and the body was brought here by Ferguson & Son, who are now awaiting instructions from Sandusky as to disposition.

The body has been identified as that of Alvin Martin, 313 East Washington street, Sandusky, Ohio. He was a deckhand on the ill-fated boat, and was one of the four men endeavoring to place a plate over the suction-hole opening on the side of the vessel when she turned turtle. Frederick Holder and Martin were drowned, but the other two were rescued.

COUNCIL IN ELGIN SEEKS LOWER TAX

Effort Being Made To Reduce Rate This Year by
One Mill.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, June 10.—The Elgin county council is planning to reduce the tax rate from eight mills to seven mills this year, according to hints dropped by the councillors this afternoon. County Treasurer B. B. Gram reported that last year the county raised for all purposes $248,- 000, while this year he gave as a reasonable levy $221,892, which includes $75,000 as the county's share of good road expenditure. It is estimated that under the new arrangement of county roads the county will receive within $500 of the subsidy received last year, which will be nearly 44 per cent of the expenditure on county and county-provincial roads.
