

WOMAN'S BEST MEDICINE

Mrs. Kelly Advises all Women to Take "Fruit-a-Tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th, 1913. "I can highly recommend 'Fruit-a-Tives' because they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago, I commenced taking 'Fruit-a-Tives' for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth, but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found only pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may want taking 'Fruit-a-Tives' after reading my letter, and if they do, I am satisfied the results will be the same as in my own case."

Mrs. W. N. KELLY

"Fruit-a-Tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-Tives Limited, Ottawa.

ANOTHER LINK OF N. T. R. OPERATED BY GOVERNMENT

The Edmundston and Levis Section to Be Open for Traffic November 23rd. A Tri-Weekly Service for Present

Commencing Monday, November 23rd, the Government Railways will operate another section of the National Transcontinental, that between Edmundston and Levis, a distance of 237 miles. For the present there will be a tri-weekly service, leaving Edmundston at 5 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, arriving at Levis at 6.40 p.m. same day, and leaving Levis at 6.30 a.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, arriving at Edmundston at 8.10 p.m. same days.

Officials who have recently inspected this new section pronounce the road-bed in first class condition, and the surrounding country with excellent opportunities for the farmer, and sportsman. The Levis-Edmundston and Edmundston-Moncton division of the National Transcontinental have a total of 468 miles operated by the Canadian Government Railways.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Taick, Soft, Fluffy, and no Dandruff—Use Parisian Sage. If your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty, do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. If it is too thin make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian Sage—all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching head cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage, sold by Thos. Wran and at all drug counters, is just what you need—a large bottle costs but 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and seem twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Loggieville, N. B., Nov. 26th, 1914.

The Editor of the Graphic, Campbellton,

Dear Sir:—In your issue of the 19th inst., an editorial appeared under the heading, "Church Disruption Threatened", in which a long quotation from the Chatham World was given and a few comments by yourself. The tendency of the whole article is to cause others, who are not very deeply interested in systems of church government, to think slightly of the Presbyterian system, particularly in the matter of calling a minister. The effort seems to be to lead the public to suppose that a great injustice has been done Mr. MacDonald who was irregularly called to be minister of the St. Andrew's congregation in Campbellton.

In the first place let me say, that had the article in the Chatham World and the addition by the Editor of the Graphic been written by Presbyterians, it would have been generally regarded as more appropriate. The day has not yet come when the Presbyterian church will apply to laymen of other denominations for instruction and advice as to how she should call her ministers to fill her vacancies.

The system of the Presbyterian church, safe-guards the interests of the church members. The rules regulating the calling and settling of pastors are not the result of a night dream, but have grown in the same way that laws regulating the affairs of the State have grown. Is it unreasonable that a man who has been ministering to a Congregational Church in the United States for a period of three years, should not be counted any longer a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada? How can one man be both? Why should we give out reports from the Presbyterian church that we have a certain number of ministers, when perhaps a large number of them are not ministers of Presbyterian congregations.

Is it unreasonable further, that when a minister from another church wishes to accept work in a congregation of the Presbyterian church, that he should apply and be accepted, only after careful examination by a committee of the Assembly? Is not such a course of procedure in the interests of the people? It causes some delay, but better so.

It should be remembered that the various denominations have a right and it is their duty to safe guard the interests of the people. We are living in a democratic age. The Presbyterian church collects funds in support of her Theological colleges, and for Bursaries to aid students in preparing for the ministry. Is it not reasonable that the church should expect the men, whose education has been paid for by the church to give their strength in her own congregations? Is it justice to the people of the Presbyterian church, to ask them to pay for the education of men who go to fill the pulpits of other churches when they have graduated? It is necessary for all churches to have rules of this nature to protect themselves.

If the Presbytery of St. John gave its approval of Mr. MacDonald to become a minister of a Congregational church, it acted beyond its powers, for the moment Mr. MacDonald admitted his Richmond congregation to take up work as minister of the Congregational church, he ceased to be a minister of our church and a member of that Presbytery.

The trouble that has arisen in St. Andrew's church is very regrettable, and the main difficulty seems to be that Mr. MacDonald was not settled in spite of all rules and order which the Presbytery of Miramichi refused to do.

E. E. HOWARTH, Clerk of Miramichi Presbytery.

Matapedia, Nov. 26th, 1914.

Editor "Graphic":—

Isn't it time that some one was looking after those men who have been camped in the woods, all along between Millstream and Flatlands, for the month past? They act in a most mysterious manner, changing their camps frequently, and stealing from people, but, strangely enough, only stealing food and clothing—or, as one would suppose, only supplies to keep them going while their work is being done. If they are ONLY thieves, they should be looked after, or else our laws are worth very little. Such a state of affairs would not be tolerated in a more progressive community. Perhaps Chief Hughes thought he had fulfilled his whole duty when he came up to Flatlands, took a look at one of their camps, and went peacefully back to town. Why, in Heaven's name, don't they send out a posse, to scour the woods, find them, and try to find out what they are really doing? We are at war—that fact seems hard to impress on the Angle-Saxon mind. These men may be making a map of the country, they may be getting ready for a raid—we are very near the Maine border. Everyone seems to say, "Why doesn't some one else look after and children to protect, will take some measures to disclose who these people are. If they are ONLY thieves, they can at least stop their thieving. Surely, we are a laughing-stock for taking things easy! How long would three or four strangers camp and steal in the woods of Germany, without being looked after?"

white satin with shadow lace, and wore a white plush hat with plumes. Katie F. Cooke acted as bridesmaid, and J. J. Murphy, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The bride was given away by her brother, John A. Murphy. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the bride's home, which was decorated for the occasion with evergreen and red roses. Many useful and costly gifts, including gold, silver, cut glass, and linen were received, showing the high esteem in which the young couple were held. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and fob. The bride's parents presented her with a set of mink furs. The brides travelling suit was brown broadcloth, with hat to match. They will tour Vancouver, Winnipeg and other western cities. On their return they will reside in Truro, N. S. They were followed by showers of confetti and all good wishes for a long and happy future.

SINCLAIR-PARKER

On Nov. 26th, a very pretty wedding took place in Campbellton, when Miss Bessie B. Parker, only daughter of Richard Parker, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. John J. Sinclair of Moncton. The ceremony was witnessed only by immediate relations. Mr. Sinclair is the son of the late Rev. Gavin Sinclair, who once had charge of the Presbyterian church at Charlottetown. Mrs. Sinclair is well known in Campbellton and her many friends are unanimous in wishing her every happiness. The bride was gowned in lavender charmeuse satin. Her travelling suit was of tailored navy blue with black plush hat, trimmed with fancy blue plume. The groom's gift to the bride was a necklace set with pearls. Among the numerous gifts were cut-glass, silver, china and linen. From her Sunday school class came a set of several pieces of fancy china which gift was highly prized because coming from the members of the class. Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair will make their home in Moncton, N. B.
