Lodging House. Last night about half-past ten o'clock, in excited Englishman, very much blushed, and decidedly mad, tore into No. I station and called for a policeman right away. The grave and spectacled Inspector Stuart kept on making out his books with chareteristic coolness, and by degrees got the acteristic coolness, and by degrees got the excited person, who was none other than the manager of the model lodging house, to tell-his little story. He said that there was a man named Tom O'Connon raising particular Cain in the lodging house and he wanted a policeman to eject him A reporter accompanied the policeman to the lodging liouse, and when the front door was flung open a gust of foul and corrupt air sufficient to give a town site the cholera, swept out into the street. In the corridor a mob of ill-dressed men and women were congregated, all in the last stages of dilapidation. The proprietor pointed out Mr. Tom O'Connor, who was hustled out into the street, where he made the atmosphere lue, with an occasional streak of pea green in it. These rows take place very often, and the manager has his hands full with the class of people who go there for shel-

The Church Street Sewer.

The disgraceful way in which the contractors left Church street, after the construction of the sewer, has brought about Chas. E. Power, business manager of Siberia, Bartley Campbell's new play, is in town arranging for its production at the Grand for the week commencing April 7. The play pourtrays the prominent features of Russian life, and consists of six acts and seven tableaux, the scenery being striking and beautiful and the costumes correct to the letter. Siberia will doubtless do big business. able delay. It is quite time that the city authorities compelled the contractors to restore the road to a proper condition, as before the building of the sewer. This is one of the points of agreement made, and yet no action is taken to enforce it.

Yesterday a man wearing rubber boots, peaked cap, a shooting vest and pants undertook to cross the new channel at the outh of the Don on the ice. Several parties saw him and attempted to warn him, but he either did not hear them or paid no attention to their outcry. The newly dredged channel is 100 feet wide and some dredged channel is 100 feet wide and some 17 feet deep, and when he had taken some half dozen steps upon it he broke through and after a desperate struggle for his life was drowned. What is Catarrh

From the Mail (Canada) Dec. 15.

Catarrh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of the vegetable parasite ameba in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are: Morbid state of the blood, as the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poisons of syphilis, mercury, toxemea, from the retention of the effeted matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauees or back of the throat, causing ulceration of the throat, up the custachian tubes, causing deafness, burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease by the use of inhalants and other ingenious devices, but none of these treatments can do a particle of From the Mail (Canada) Dec. 15.
