At the end of the paper we read: Ne expectet quis, ordinem hanc nullam amplius correctionem esse desideratum. Let no one suppose that this arrangement will require no farther correction. Hübner did his own printing and this leaf was for his own use and for certain of his learned friends to examine and give him their opinions upon. He gives the following account of the origin of the Tentamen in the Preface to the Verzeichniss bek. Schmett.: "Though many systematic works upon the Lepidoptera have already appeared, yet none exists wherein all the known species are properly classified. This circumstance compelled me, ten years ago, when I began to extend my works from European to exotic species, to sketch for myself a systematic Catalogue of those various species, in order to be able to begin my contemplated Sammlung Exot. Schmetterlinge. This Sketch I immediately printed under the title Tentamen, &c., in order that it might be examined and judged of by competent persons before I adopted it."

In Silbermann's Revue Ent. 1833, T. 1, p. 101, is given by M. Geyer, who was assistant to Hübner in his publishing from 1818 to 1833, and who continued the works of Hübner after the death of that author, a list of Hübner's works, as follows :

1. Geschichte Europ. Schmetterlinge.
2. Sammlung Europ. "
3. Sammlung Exot. "
