Among the many blessings attendant upon improvements in Among the many pressing accounting the octal condition and the advances of our race in intelligence, is the prolongation of human life. With the increase of intelligence has grown up a knowlege for the elements of health, and a regard for them, and commensurately with the strides of science have we acquired the means of arresting disease, and averting its ravages. Notwithstanding the progress, we have made, statistics above that even now, one-sixth of the whole population die annually of consumption.

DR. WISTARB BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Nunda, Livingston Co., N. Y., June 20, 1846.

Mr. S. W. Fowle, -- Dear Str.: Prompted by a sense of grati-tude for benefits received from the use of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I submit the following statement: Pre-vious to my taking the Wild Cherry, I had been obliged to give up my business in consequence of a severe affection of the lungs. In this distressed state I was ordered to try your remedy for CONSUMPTION. I did so, and is the course of a few weeks I was restored to comparative good health, so that I have since been able to attend to ordinary huminess. Indeed my present state of health far exceeds my most sanguine expectations.

Yours truly, JOHN BURNS.
