TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, June 14th, 1894.

Boots and Shoes .- Although the weather of the last week has been all that could be desired the last week has been all that could be desired, trade has not recovered from the set-back which it received by the cold weather of last month. Sales of seasonable footwear are limited, and retail merchants are carrying large stocks. The factories are now working on fall goods, but no special vigor characterives their operations izes their operations.

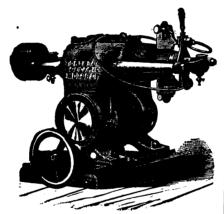

DRUGS.—At no time during the week has trade approached anything like activity. For some time values have been tending downward, some time values have been tending downward, and a reaction has not yet set in. Salicylic acid is lower. Quinine remains dull. Morphia is slow of sale. Heavy chemicals show no change. The N. Y. Bulletin and Journal of Commerce says: "Indications at times point to an improvement in the situation, but the demand as experienced comes in an irregular fashion, and cannot be depended noon for any mand as experienced comes in an irregular fashion, and cannot be depended upon for any stability. Prices are nominally unchanged, though buyers are generally regarded in the trade as having the advantage. Opium continues unsettled. Quinine is steady. Chlorate of potash is easy."

FLOUR AND MEAL. -We are pleased to note an improvement in the flour market. an improvement in the flour market. This is due to the stronger position that wheat has taken during the week. The improvement is not a very marked one, but yet is sufficient to encourage the holders in their hope of better prices. Quotations of straight rollers are at $2.70 to 2.80, slightly higher. An advance of 5c. per barrel has been made in oatmeals; broken lots are quoted at $4.30 and car-lots at $4.15 per bbl. Mill feed is quiet, with easy tendencies. This is tendencies.

Grain.—There is a decidedly better feeling in the market this week. Wheat is firmer in English and American markets, and prices in English and American markets, and prices in the local market are in sympathy higher. The advance is due to reports of damage to growing crops. These reports are generally considered well founded. Mail advices from Manitoba state that the wheat crop is at present in excellent condition, although in sections rain is badly needed. Some considerable sales have been made to millers at the advances. No export trade is doing, but from precent appearances this trade may be expected to look up soon. Oats are firm and higher at 39 to 40c. per bush. A few cars of feed barley are moving. Some limited transactions of peas for feed purposes have been made this week.
