

work-force, more domestic content, and better conditions for technology transfer.