

POLICY OPTIONS

“Canadian foreign policy should identify Canada’s security interests in Asia-Pacific as those creating “a secure and stable environment, subject to the rule of law and characterized by sustainable development.” Sustainable development should include “responsible prosperity” which involves attention to issues as diverse as pay equity and the development and enforcement of child labour laws.”

Halifax Report