Agreed,—That this House will continue the consideration of Bill C-229, An Act respecting unemployment insurance in Canada, until 4.30 o'clock p.m., this day.

Mr. Blair, from the Standing Committee on Procedure and Organization, presented the Eighth Report of the said Committee, which is as follows:

Pursuant to its Order of Reference of Wednesday, October 28, 1970, your Committee is continuing its study of the question of radio and television broadcasting of the House and its Committees, and has yet to reach its final conclusions on this important and complex issue.

Your Committee believes, however, that an early experiment in the sound broadcasting of the proceedings of the House could profitably be undertaken.

Having heard evidence from representatives of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, your Committee recommends that the House should accept the offer of the Corporation to undertake an experiment in broadcasting the proceedings of the House over closed circuit sound radio commencing on Friday, June 18, 1971 and continuing until Wednesday, June 30, 1971 or until such time as the House shall adjourn.

Your Committee further recommends that the results of the experiment be made available only to the House and not be made available for public broadcast in any form without the express authority of the House.

Consideration was resumed at the report stage of Bill C-229, An Act respecting unemployment insurance in Canada, as reported (with amendments) from the Standing Committee on Labour, Manpower and Immigration.
