chemists of the day, as to the remedial advantages and efficient tonic properties of this Ale.

FROM BARON LINING.

The specimens of your pale ale sent to me afforded me another opportunity of confirming its valuable qualities. I am myself an admirer of this beverage, and my own experience enables me to recommend it, in accordance with the opinion of the most eminent English physicians, as a very agreeable and efficient tonic, and as a general beverage, both for the invalid and the robust.

Giesen, May 4.

FROM PROFESSOR GRAHAM, F. R. S. UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, LONDON, AND PROFESSOR HOFFMANN, PH. D., F. R. S. COLLEGE OF CHEMISTRY, LONDON.

The sifting nature of the chemical examination which the beers of Messrs. Allsopp's manufacture for many months past have been subjected to, fully establishes their incontestable purity. The process of brewing pale ale is one in which nothing but water and the best malt and hops, of the first quality, are used; it is an operation of the greatest delicacy and care, which would be entirely ruined by any tampering with the materials employed.

London, April 26.

FROM THE ANALYTICAL SANITARY COMMISSIONER OF THE "LANCE," MAY 15, 1862.

From the pure and wholesome nature of the ingredients employed, the moderate proportion of alcohol present, and the very considerable quantity of aromatic and spicy bitter derived from hops contained in these beers, they tend to preserve the tone and vigor of the stomach, and conduce to the restoration of the health of that organ when in a state of weakness or debility. They resemble, indeed, from their lightness, a wine of malt rather than an ordinary fermented infusion; and it is very satisfactory to find that a beverage of such general consumption is entirely free from every kind of impurity.

FROM JAMES PETRIE, M. D.

For many years I have been in the habit of recommending the use of Allsopp's bitter beer as a beverage to invalids who required a regulated diet; and I certainly could not have done so, unless from the evidence that the liquor was perfectly fermented, and made from the best and most wholesome ingredients. Where drinks of a nutritious and stomachic character are indicated, I know of none, as yet, on which I feel I could so safely depend for doing good, as Allsopp's bitter beer.

Liverpool, May 6.

FROM J. H. FRPPER, F. C. S., A. C. E., ETC., PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY, ROYAL POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTION.

I have examined a great many samples of the bitter beer brewed by the firm of Messrs. Allsopp & Sons, and I cannot by chemical analysis discover any other matter but that procurable from malt, hops, and water. From my own experience, I consider it a most wholesome beverage, well adapted to those in health, and calculated to strengthen and invigorate the system in hot climates.

Royal Polytechnic Institution, June 17.

FROM BENJAMIN TRAYER, ESQ., F. R. S.

I do not hesitate to affirm that no deleterious substance is employed in Allsopp's pale ale, and bitter beer, and that my confidence in its wholesomeness as a beverage remains unshaken.
