SOCIETY

Miss Marie Foy gave a very enjoyable large reception yesterday afternoon in the Speaker's chambers, Parliament Buildings, where an orchestra was in attendance and the mantle-pieces and tables were banked with coral, begonias and narcissi. Miss Foy looked charming and graceful in a draped gown of deep blue crepe de Chine, with white lace yoke and jabot and diamond ornaments. The tea table was centered with a magnificent large basket of daffodils, tied with ribbon of a paler shade, and smaller clusters of the same on the corners of the table. The assistants were: The Misses Foy, Mrs. Charles Murray, Mrs. O. Fennell, Miss Ethel Webster, the Misses Miller, Miss Murphy.

Mrs. W. T. Witte and Mrs. Robert Rogers will be the joint hostesses in Ottawa on Monday evening, when a musical reception will be given in the reception room of the house of commons by Miss Margaret George, Mr. Arthur George, Mr. Tom George, Mr. Von Kuntz and Mr. K. K. Kuntz. This will be one fashionable musical event of the season in Ottawa and a party from Rideau Hall will be present.

Gen. Cotton is in town from Ottawa and attended the reception at the Parliament Buildings yesterday.

At the twilight musicale in the W. A. A. Galleries this afternoon at four o'clock Mr. Peter Kennedy, director of the Canadian Academy of Music, will give a talk on form and color in art and music. Some choice musical selections will also be given by the string quartet of Miss Reid, and Mr. Capps will contribute some songs. The hostesses are Mrs. R. E. Wilson, Mrs. John A. Ross and Miss Chaplin.

Mme. Kathryn Innes-Taylor and Miss Grace Smith are giving a joint vocal and piano recital this evening at 8 o'clock in the Conservatory Music Hall.

Mrs. O. B. Sheppard gave a most successful tea yesterday afternoon at her delightful new house on Wellesley street, where all the charming rooms were duly admired by the guests, which included several hundred of Mrs. Sheppard's friends. An orchestra was in attendance and played on the landing throughout the afternoon, while all the rooms were fragrant with flowers and two tea tables bristled with due crowding. Both were polished and covered with cluny lace and embroidered with daffodils and narcissi in cut glass and silver. Mrs. Sheppard looked extremely handsome in a gown of deep blue crepe de Chine with lace and ornaments of coral and pearls, bouquet of violets. Mrs. Williams of Peterboro, who received with her, wore a becoming dress of golden brown, with oriental embroidery, diamonds, necklaces and a bouquet of pink roses; Mrs. McWilliam, Jr., wore a pretty dress of pale yellow with lace and ornaments of coral and pearls, bouquet of violets. There are several methods of utilizing electricity for the purpose of forcing crops, and in nearly all cases the success of the scheme will depend upon the price secured for early vegetables. The very latest thought in this line is the use of Canadian farmers, who apply the current to the ground in a manner that keeps the soil at a temperature at all times at the same point as when the sun shines upon it. The result is that the growth of the vegetation is very materially hastened, and the consumption of current is rather heavy, so that the margin of advantage is very small and the treatment is successful only when the best prices are obtained. This farmer has been able to market the treated crop several days in advance of his neighbors.

One of the features of the electrical show in New York was a model of the original plant on Pearl street, which was the first public service station in that city, where the current was switched on for the first time on Sept. 4, 1882. There were six 125-horsepower dynamos, and there were fifty patrons using 10-degree lamps. The work of the station is now being done by a single generator of 30,000 horsepower, consisting of 5,000,000 ampere-hours today, generating about 10,775,000 50-watt equivalents served from two gigantic central stations and 31 substations over 122 miles of underground mains and feeders.

NURSERY

CONDUCTED BY Elmer Murray

The Imperative Duty of Every Father Toward His Son

From my own experience and observation, I am almost inclined to believe that the greatest obstacle to personal purity is the tendency of parents to doubt or deny the prevalence of dangerous evils, to think their own boys will remain unscathed, and to affect to hold that plain dealing, such as I have indicated above, is, in the end, suggestive or at least uncalled for.

Such an attitude is now positively culpable. I know no severer condemnation of a father than the excuse of a youth whose life has suffered blight, when he can honestly say, "Because I did not know."

Fatherhood in our fervid urban life has new and other duties than merely to provide food, raiment and education. Distasteful to it may be, every father should sum up in a few pithy sentences the best wisdom that life has brought him to this field for the benefit of his boys.

Finally, clergymen, teachers and others who have opportunity to speak to boys should always emphasize the sentiment of honor. In its best sense this means loyalty to the unborn and to the future which is committed into the hands of young men.

Honor is a complex sentiment often perverted and now and then exploited. It exists in gamins, students, and in the most potent and best in the young. It is a little for moral improvement, but more for the prevention of the evil above described constitutes one of the best and most hopeful signs of our times.—G. Stanley Hall.

The rapid progress of educated public opinion during the last five years in the direction of more knowledge and more efforts to prevent the evils above described constitutes one of the best and most hopeful signs of our times.—G. Stanley Hall.

EATABLES THAT COME FROM IRELAND

Limerick Hams Bring High Prices on This Side of the Water.

The best endive now in market, so the dealers say, comes from Ireland, where its cultivation has become a great industry. Formerly endive came entirely from Belgium.

Not more than 200,000 pounds of Limerick hams and bacon in the past year; this against half that amount during the previous 12 months. Irish bacon brings the highest price and bacon here, says a New York Times contributor.

The Limerick hams bring from 42 to 48 cents a pound, the highest price of any except for the celebrated Westphalian and York hams. The increase in the demand has become enormous, in spite of the almost prohibitive prices.

REVIEWS IRELAND'S BRILLIANT HISTORY

J. P. Downey, Ex-M.L.A., at Loretto Abbey, Tells Story of Country's Influence.

Heralding the coming celebration of Ireland's national holiday, J. P. Downey, ex-M.L.A., gave a most interesting address on Ireland, past and present, at Loretto Abbey yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dean Harris introduced the speaker in a few graceful words. Among those present were: Rev. Fathers Coyle, Minahan, Williams, McGrand, O'Donnell and Robb. Tracing the history of the land of Erin from the days of St. Patrick to the present, Mr. Downey told of her poetry, literature and education of the life of saints. At one time there were as many as 7000 students in a single institution of the thirteen universities, which flourished when the rest of Europe was sunk in the darkest superstition. The birth of the "Young Ireland" party, with the Nation that it published, was a brilliant epoch in the story of the nation. It is connected with the names of Charles Gavan Duffy, John Mitchell, Richard O'Gorman, Thomas Francis Meagher, Thomas Davis and D'Arcy McGee. Mr. Downey hoped the time would soon come when Canada would raise a monument somewhere to Mr. McGee, who, with Sir Charles Tupper, was one of the great figures of the Confederation for Canada. A musical program was artistically rendered by the pupils of the abbey, assisted by Miss Buckle and Miss Brazil.
