“THE VALLEY OF REGRET”

Some Press Opinions

Academy.

It is a masterpiece of characterisation, style, construction—of everything, in short, that constitutes the art of novel-writing.

Athenæum.

The book is written with a good deal of wit, and is noteworthy for the deft way in which the melodramatic threads are woven into the general fabric.

Bookman.

A fine and beautifully conceived novel of modern life.

Globe.

Reveals a perception and insight which should take the author much further in the analysis of temperament and character.

Morning Leader.

What gives Mrs. Holt strength is her genuine realism—her mixture of soul and environment.
