STRAIGHT SPEAKING IN NICKEL DEBATE

desired to come into northern Ontario they should be regarded as desirable settlers. (Applause.) But even if they spoke the Parisian French of Toronto, that no human being could understand, or only knew what is called the "patois of Quebec" by the Toronto press, they were barred by the regulations of the minister of land, who opposed woman's suffrage. Why was the question not submitted to the women of the province? The petition of the women was the worst that could be enacted in any country. There are only a few women in the province making noise about the vote. They are the few who look for the detection of N. W. Rowell.

Mr. Richardson asks the government how many motor cars, motor trucks, and other motor vehicles are the property of the province, or kept for the use of different departments, commissions or officials? Sir Adam Beck the man who does things, and accomplishes great strides in municipal progress by his Hydro-Electrical policy, will be heard by the western farmers.

The United Farmers of Alberta asked Sir Adam to speak at their annual meeting at Calgary a short time ago. Sir Adam being unable to present at the meeting the Canadian Council of Agriculture, who held their annual meeting at Winnipeg on April 1 and 2, are making efforts to bring him present at the meeting.

He is now making his appointments for the balance of the month fit in with the date of the Winnipeg meeting. Tribute to Premier. His supporters in the legislature had passed, and presented the following resolution to Premier Hearst before the house this yesterday afternoon: "Dear Sir William: We esteem it our privilege and pleasure to present to you a copy of resolution, carried unanimously and enthusiastically at a caucus of your supporters in the Ontario legislature."

The resolution is as follows: "That the Liberal-Conservative members of the Ontario legislature, in caucus upon the first occasion since the signing of the armistice, do extend sincere congratulations and hearty thanks to our leader, Sir William Hearst, for the eminently able, conscientious and worthy discharge of the onerous duties devolving upon him since his elevation to the office of prime minister, and particularly for his war policies and war work, which have redounded to the credit of this great province, and further, that with the knowledge of his tasks and the tremendous responsibilities resting upon him, we declare ourselves to be unitedly and loyally behind him in his leadership of the great Liberal-Conservative party, and we do pledge him our unanimous support."

The premier is standing all the while of the sessional debate, and the session is becoming one attack after another. Yesterday, the storm signals were again displayed. The license department will soon be under attack again, and it has so far found no real defenders.

At the opening yesterday, Premier Hearst made an announcement of the arrival of the 4th C.M.R. The members of the legislature in turning out at the sailing point in front of the parliament buildings to participate in the right: royal welcome would be honoring brave soldiers carrying honorable wounds nobly won. (Applause.)

S. Ducharme (North Essex) acknowledged appreciative references made to the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier from all parts of the house. He called himself as a farmer willing to treat on a 50-50 basis with all other classes of the population. He concluded even to laws enacted by the Farmers have as good a right to organize as any other class of the community, provided they organize for advancement of the public interest.

With regard to the high price of bacon, he believed the government would do well to investigate whether the cause is on the side of the farmer or the packer.

He also said that the Beet Growers' Association and the sugar manufacturers have endeavored to settle the price of sugar beets on a 50-50 basis. He did not believe the Canadian tariff would be smashed down in any time, but a modification in favor of the consumer, particularly the farmer, should be made.

The legislative assembly he considered entitled to more information concerning the projected provincial highway. He made a spirited appeal for unity among all members of the house in facing and dealing with the problem of unemployment. The O.T.A. is a thorn in the side of many people, but until the referendum is submitted it is premature to discuss government intentions. Perhaps the Prudential Society may be coming back again to give them all joy. (Laughter.)

O. T. A. Maligned. J. Thompson (East Peterboro) denied that conditions throughout the province under the O.T.A. are as bad as they are painted.

W. H. Fraser (U.F.O. Liberal, North Huron) said the condition of agriculture in Ontario is such that the farmer has only a choice of one of two things—either he must turn out the powers that be to move to the city. Farmers do not say this because they are sore heads, but knowing the truth about abandoned farms and the impossibility of securing labor, there is a strong feeling in the country. He declared that a practical man must be at the head of every department of government. The practice of the government has been to put educated men in such positions. Short courses taught by practical men in agricultural college are to be commended. He criticized many appointments of men unfitted by their former occupation for such work as the government placed them in. He regarded the tariff as giving support to one industry at the expense of another and believed such a course disastrous to the country.

W. C. Chambers (West Wellington) claimed the good roads idea is only in its infancy in Ontario. The farmers as owners of autos are as much interested in good roads as city people. He counseled caution with the tariff, which is a charged wire that must be handled with rubber gloves. Any radical change of tariff might put the country back 20 years. He regarded the O.T.A. as a war measure. Some people say the committee of one hundred scared the government into the tariff. Don't believe it. The government intended it, and when the time comes and the people say what they want the government will back up the people.

John Grieve (North Middlesex) declared the school system of Ontario has much to do with the farmers' sons leaving the farms.

Joseph Edgar (Parry Sound) followed and H. H. Dewar moved the adjournment of the debate.

A number of private bills got a second reading and were referred to committees of the whole house.

The house went into committee on some government measures of no special public interest. Mr. Dewar remarked that Hon. G. Howard Ferguson's bill for the better regulation of mines and mining works had only been printed within the past day or two.

Approval of All.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson said the regulations military portfolio issued last year and had the approval of all interested in mining operations, including the labor unions.

Mr. Dewar referred to the method of issuing patents to mining partnerships. His suggestion is that the patent should be issued to the syndicate, representing the parties by names and their undivided interests.

BRITISH MAJORITY EAGER FOR LEAGUE

Gen. Maurice Says There is No Other Way to Prevent Recurrence of War. New York, March 19.—Because there is some hope of making war impossible thru a league of nations, but no hope of doing it in any other way, Major-Gen. Sir Frederick Maurice, former director of military operations of the British general staff, declared here tonight that he favored the project. The general, who held his military portfolio from 1915 to the early part of 1918, added his opinion that a "great majority" of the British people were enthusiastic for the league.

Arriving in this country for a stay of several months, Gen. Maurice told interviewers that for the first time in history, the British people had been warned, "and they don't like it." Previous conflicts involving the empire, he said, had been fought "with the fleet, gold and a proportionately small army," but this time the whole nation had been engaged. For every American mother who had lost a son, he added, 15 British and 20 French mothers were in mourning for the same cause, and this had a tremendous influence on popular sentiment, at least in Great Britain, for an insurrection, offering a chance of preventing future wars.

In France, where Sir Frederick recently traveled extensively, he asserted the desire was paramount to make Germany impotent, as security for France's future safety. But he predicted that as soon as the terms of the league covenant were settled, French opinion would be more favorable than at present.

The general reported England "almost unanimously opposed to conscription," but said it would be necessary for a few months to reduce the regular army disorganized by the war.

Admitting that "you can't stop a nation from arming and fighting," he hoped that reduction of the German army to 100,000 would "get Germany and other nations out of the habit of spending money on armament."

SAYS AN UNKNOWN WOMAN TOOK BABY Story Told by Mrs. Thompson, at Kingston, Accused of Murdering Her Infant.

Kingston, March 19.—That a woman from Toronto, whose name she had forgotten, had admired her two weeks old baby girl while they were at the C.P.R. station here on Feb. 28, that she handed the infant over into this woman's care and that was the last she saw of it, was a part of the preliminary hearing in the case of the Lovice Thompson, accused of murdering her baby, told to Provincial Detective A. B. Boyd, who arrested her, on Feb. 16. The prisoner, who has four grown-up children, showed no emotion whatever when faced with the murder charge. She pleaded not guilty to the charge thru her lawyer, T. J. Rigney.

Detective Boyd told the magistrate that the prisoner had endeavored to have the baby placed in the infants' home here, but that the officials refused to take the child unless the mother stayed in the institution, owing to the fact that the child was so young.

The prisoner parted from her husband some time ago.

been healthy and that death was due to suffocation. Two trainmen on the C.P.R., running between Montreal and Toronto, told of a woman getting off the train at Kennebec Sliding on the morning of March 1. One trainman swore positively that this passenger was the accused, but the other, while admitting that the prisoner looked like the passenger, would not swear positively that she was the woman. Evidence from the General Hospital showed the accused gave birth to a baby there on Feb. 16. The prisoner, who has four grown-up children, showed no emotion whatever when faced with the murder charge. She pleaded not guilty to the charge thru her lawyer, T. J. Rigney.
