Frand Lodge of Canada A.F. and A. M. are in attendance at the fifty-firs annual communication at Massey Hall Yesterday morning Ald. J. J. Graham hairman of the civic reception com egates and W. Bro. A. E. Hagerman, W address from the city lodges to the grand master, Bro. J. H. Burritt, K.C. you as our grand master, because of our loyalty to the grand lodge ably fill, but we welcome you the more because of the genuine fraternal affecbecause of the genuine fraternal affection, which we have learned to feel towards you personally during the first year of your occupancy of the grand east. A year ago, to many of us you were more or less a stranger, to-day, we know you as a well-beloved elder brother, jealous for our welfare, tolerant of our infirmities and ever ready to give your time and to devote your ability in aid of any lodge and of any brother needing or seeking your assistance.

"You have been faithful to the sacred trust reposed in you. You have been careful to safeguard the ancient landmarks of our institution. You have required, as a master workman should that the work of required the safety of the should, that the work of your crafts-men be straight and true, but withal you have ever exhibited towards your brethren that true brotherly love, which is the foundation and capstone, the cement and glory of our ancient fra-

Steady Progress The grand master reviewed the work of the past year. The craft was in a healthy condition, the membership was increasing and the income ($24,377) was $1300 greater than last year. The total membership was now over 37,000, an increase of 2000.

Concerning the accumulation of unpaid dues, he urged every master to make this one of the important matters of the year, not by forcing payment under suspension, but to satisfy themselves of a member's ability to pay, and where this was doubtful, the teaching of masonry should be exercised to the relief of the brother.

He made reference to the deaths of R. T. Walkem, K.C., Sen, Fulford, Walter Barwick, K.C. The grand lodge of Canada had contributed $1000 to the masons in Frisco, at the time of the disaster.

of Hamilton, in the conduct of affairs, and at considerable length the proposed duties and powers of these commissioners are detailed.

In giving reasons why annexation should be sanctioned, it is declared that the beach is rapidly assuming the character of a suburban watering place, that a large portion is available for no other purpose than that of a summer resort, that many residents of Hamilton have built houses there and that the city has expended more money in improvements than the government or anyone else. It is asked that the territory be known as Hamilton Beach.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane does not think it would rest solely with the board to decide whether or not annexation should be allowed. He thought there might be a question involved allowing crown lands to pass out of the province's possession as there was no precedent of the kind so far as he was aware. He remarked also that a portion of the land belonged to the Dominion government, which would seem to further complicate negotiations.
