Bricklayers and Stone Masons Win Out and Will Continue to Dress Stone "on the Job."

OTTAWA, May 9.—(Special).—A conflict between the department of public works and the International Union of Bricklayers and Stonemasons, over a clause in the contract for the extension of the house of commons, has just been terminated by the government according to the request of the labor organization.

The contract provided that the cut-stone should not be dressed on the premises, the reason being that the grounds would be disfigured by the rubble and the noise of the operations would be a serious annoyance to the legislators.

This stipulation was in direct contravention of a rule of the International Union of Bricklayers and Stonemasons, which provides that stone must be cut and shodded dressed "on the job."

After considerable discussion Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and the acting minister of public works finally came to the conclusion that the contract would have to be amended. In pursuance of this the stonemasons and dressers are permitted to perform their work on the Hill.

WORKERS WHO WHEEL AND WHAT THEY GAIN

Bicycle riders who have been getting into the game again, and who are wondering why they have delayed so long about it are apt to have a feeling of self-consciousness until they gradually realize that literally hundreds of thousands of riders have never given up the wheel at all. It puts a rather different perspective on bicycling when they come to know that there were half a million wheels made in the United States in 1906, and that every manufacturer who was forehanded enough to provide for material expects to increase his output 50 per cent. this year.

These figures, large as they are, will bear close analysis, and their correctness is unquestioned. Manufacturers who are short on essential bicycle parts at this writing are already predicting a famine in the wheel market, and the country has not heard that sort of a statement before in a good many years. One eastern manufacturer, whose sales are largely made direct to riders, has given out the statement that he had more orders on his books than he could handle, and that every order said his records include the so-called fat years.

Spring Fishing.

If you wish for trout fishing you should know that all the best fishing grounds in Ontario and Quebec are reached by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Splendid sport on main line east, and near home, Bobcaygeon and Chatsworth are good centres for a trip with rod and tackle. Ask nearest C. P. R. ticket agent for booklets and particulars.

GOING TO WINNIPEG.

The firm and employees of the Alkenhead Hardware Co. have been dined by W. G. Marston and Morean Smith, who leave to-day for Winnipeg to open up a branch there for the company. Those E. Alkenhead presided. Messrs. Marston and Smith were each presented with a handsome gold chain and locket.

Wychwood.

WYCHWOOD, May 9.—J. T. Rowell & Co. last week sold a five-acre farm on Vaughan-road to a syndicate, to be laid out in building lots. It also completed the sale of building lots, aggregating five acres of the Hendrick estate, corner Ossington and St. Clair-avenues.

The report that the twelve acres of land on the southeast corner of St. Clair-avenue and Eastburn-street has been sold for $500 an acre is denied. A syndicate offered $48,000 for the block, but it was refused. The fact that the land is only assessed at $700 is adversely commented upon by other ratepayers.

Building operations have commenced on the new annex to the Hillcrest schoolhouse.

Rev. W. A. McTaggart of the Presbyterian Church is laid up thru sickness.

Riverdale.

RIVERDALE, May 9.—The Riverdale and Broadway Lodges, L.O.O.F., will on Sunday unite in a joint church parade to First-avenue Church.

The regular meeting of Maple Leaf Lodge, L.O.L., No. 455, will take place in Dingman's Hall to-morrow (Friday) evening.

The opening of the new Simpson-avenue Methodist Church will take place on Sunday morning, and the event promises to be a memorable one in the history of the Riverdale Methodists. The church is now practically completed, and the appearance of the building is such as to reflect the greatest credit on the congregation and architects. The opening will be in charge of Rev. Dr. Burns, president of the conference, and in the afternoon Rev. George Jackson of Sherburne-street Methodist Church will speak, and in the evening Rev. Mr. Rankin of Carlton-street Methodist. The new church will seat about 1000.

The debating club of the Broadview Boys' Institute will discuss "Municipal Ownership" to-morrow (Friday) evening.

The corner-stone of St. Matthew's schoolhouse will be laid on Saturday afternoon by His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto. A number of the city clergy are expected to be present, and they, together with a number of prominent laymen, will deliver short addresses.

On Monday evening J. W. Lawrence of Eight-avenue will address the institute on "The Culture of Flowers."

The funeral of the late Richard Pollock, 84 Eastern-avenue, is fixed for Saturday afternoon to Norway Cemetery.

A line of the ships of St. Matthew's Lawn Bowling Club will be held in the clubhouse on Saturday afternoon. The tournament committee will also meet on Saturday evening, and the following days has wonderfully improved the green, and a fortnight will see the members engaged in a series of Summerhays, well-known as one of the most expert tennis players in Canada, will leave next week for a five months' trip to England. While absent, Miss Summerhays will play in some of the leading tournaments in his milk.

The union committee of the hospital board held a progressive party in Poulton-street, which was a most enjoyable event.

Deer Park.

Miss Spels, postmistress of Deer Park, emphatically denies that any carelessness on her part has caused dissatisfaction in Deer Park. In fact, she states, and The World is pleased to give it publicity, that there is no complaint concerning the delivery of mail at Deer Park. It seems, after careful enquiry by The World, that any blame that may be assessed should be put on the downtown postoffice. Miss Spels is most efficient in the discharge of her duties, and there is no one in Deer Park who is willing to testify to her carelessness.
