

WIDEMAN WOULD CAUSE A HORSE TO LAUGH

R. E. O. Cackle At Idea of Fighting Street Railway With Busses.

THE WESTERN FAIR

Of No Value, They Say—Advice to the Grand Trunk Stockholders.

The Real Estate Owners met last night in solemn convocation, and spent much of their extremely valuable time in discussing matters of public interest. It is not known whether the members brought in any of the usual "stale" material. At any rate they passed the following resolutions in due and solemn form:

Give Him Air, Boys!

Resolved, that whereas it is said by those who profess to know, that certain things will make a horse laugh, and in the event of a prize being offered for the best equine humorist, this association thinks that the aidman who proposed the purchase of four gasoline buses and a wheeler to go out and fight the street railway should receive first consideration. What must be the opinion of the street railway directors when confronted with such childish "typical" material? They should look upon the council as a joke, and meet them with indifference akin to contempt.

Opinions Differ.

Resolved, that in the opinion of this association, the Western Fair is of no value to London, practically or financially. It is simply a relic of the past, and its place is with the spinning-wheel and spunk, and before another dollar is spent upon extension or new grounds, the question of retaining or abolishing the institution should be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers.

Listen To This!

Resolved, that all Grand Trunk stockholders need to do is sit tight, say nothing, and wait a few years for the public ownership by the minister to explode. Government management, excessive and unreasonable demands from labor, together with irregular and dismembered service to its patrons, will get the trick, and after that all they will have to do is step in and reap themselves in the clean-up, and the previous people will be poorer, and considerably wiser.

WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD

IN YORK STREET HOUSE

Mrs. F. K. Saunders Thought To Have Died In Fire.

Mrs. F. K. Saunders was found lying face downwards on the floor of her bedroom, dead, by one of her boarders yesterday at 9 o'clock at 20 York street.

Mrs. Saunders had been subject to fits and it is thought that she died in a fit. She was called, while in a fit she died. He thinks that she had been dead for a week or more when her body was found, and that death was due to natural causes. Mrs. Saunders is survived by her husband, who is a well-known business man. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

PREVENT U. S. IMPORTS.

Copenhagen, March 5.—A bill designed to prevent all American imports into Denmark unless sanctioned by the financial council was introduced today in the Folketing by the minister of commerce. He described the measure as urgently necessary to prevent further decline in exchange.

Prevent Influenza—Internal

Bathing the Best Method.

Did it ever occur to you that if the system is kept perfectly clean, both inside and out, you are less likely to catch influenza? It is a fact that you would be to keep yourself free from contagion? It is only when the blood is not so clean as it should be that you are unable to throw off disease.

The great cause of impure blood is constipation, and the best way to keep the system clean is by using a reliable laxative. There are many laxatives on the market, but the only one that is safe and effective is the one that is advertised in this advertisement.

If you want to avoid being sick or to keep your blood clean, you should use a reliable laxative. The only one that is safe and effective is the one that is advertised in this advertisement.

WEAVE CASKET FOR LONDON ON G. R. SNOWBANK

Edith Campbell Insists On Sleeping in "the Beautiful."

Undertaker Finds a Way to Beat Snowdrifts.

Because there was no express or freight service on the Huron and Bruce lines, owing to the huge snowdrifts that blocked the road, a casket for an emergency call came to this city from Lidderton. The casket was sent to London by a snowplow. The undertaker in this city to whom the request had come placed the coffin in the hands of the express company before it was known that the snowplow was scheduled to leave this city at 6 o'clock in order to fight the drifts between here and Wingham, and an order was secured from the chief dispatcher permitting forwarding of the shipment by the plow.

1885 VETERANS TO MEET ON APRIL 7

Old-Time Warriors To Hold a Reunion, Marking Anniversary.

The members of the old 7th Regiment Association, the veterans of 1885, have decided to hold a reunion on April 7, at the Hotel Marlborough, in London. The reunion will be held on the anniversary of the day that the 7th Regiment was disbanded. The ranks of the veterans are pretty slim, just about 50 members remain.

PLACED THEM ALL—For the week ending, the Government employment agency has placed all applicants in positions in the city.

WEEKLY SUPREME COURT—A number of cases were heard and disposed of at the weekly session of the supreme court, with the justice and the spinning-wheel and spunk, and before another dollar is spent upon extension or new grounds, the question of retaining or abolishing the institution should be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers.

ELECTION TO COUNCIL—Crown

Attorney J. B. McKillop was elected a member of the council of Ontario Bar Association at a recent meeting of the association in Toronto.

GIVES ORATION—Dr. C. M. Crawford of the Ontario Hospital, Whitby, gave an oration at the annual meeting of the Ontario Hospital Association, held here last night. A large attendance was present.

4,000 SIGNATURES—The statement made by Dr. J. B. McKillop, secretary of the Grand Army of Canada, that 4,000 signatures had been secured locally to the petition calling for a $2,000 gratuity.

SMALL FACTORY FIRE—The fire department made a run at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon to the premises of the Ontario Spring Bed Mattress Company, York street, where a fire had broken out in a small machine. The damage was small.

STEALS BICYCLE—Harry Chin and a juvenile pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to the theft of a bicycle belonging to William Chatterley, on September 4, and were remanded a week to answer to the charge.

AFTERNOON TRIP—A large number of the junior members of the Y. M. C. A. took a trip to the Kenilworth Hotel for a night, and returned yesterday afternoon. Snowshoeing and tobogganing will be on the program.

UNABLE TO APPEAR—At the trial of Douglas, J. V. M. of the local department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, was unable to appear in police court yesterday morning to answer to the charge of neglecting to send their children to school. The cases were adjourned for a week.

MUSICAL SERVICE—The service at the funeral of Mrs. M. H. Lewis, which was held at the Methodist church yesterday afternoon, was largely supplied by a new writer, Philip James, and "O Street" by the organist, Healey Willan. George Daniels, cornet soloist, will play.

VISITED—Dr. V. M. C. of the local department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, was unable to appear in police court yesterday morning to answer to the charge of neglecting to send their children to school. The cases were adjourned for a week.

V. M. C. A. LIBRARY GROWING—The library of the V. M. C. A. is growing steadily. The call was made for every boy in the department to bring in a book. The books will be added to the collection as soon as the bookcase arrives.
