

from the broken Land to the Westward, or Opening which Rankin saw. Hereabouts Scroggs saw many black Whales and traded with the Indians for green Bone just taken, it lies exactly in 63° .—North of this is a Headland in 63° . $20'$, near which Captain Middleton, in his Return from Wager Strait, and Repulse Bay, upon standing in close to the Head land, saw several large black Whales; and Captain Fox much about the same Place, saw many black Whales, forty sleeping together, as his Boat rowed ashore.

North East of this in 63° . $35'$, and 5° . $4'$ East Long. from Cchurchill, Scroggs made Land, and found the Current set several Ways among the Islands, North of Pistol-Bay; he calls it the Main, but says, from the Number of little craggy Islands a Mile from the Shore, he could not get near enough to discover the Coast. Here he found some small shattered Ice on the 8th of July; he next Day fell in with the South East Side of the Welcome, in 64° . $10'$, saw fourteen small Isles on that Coast he called Kelsy's Desires, and high firm Land behind them; this is the Main Land North of Cary's Swan's-Nest. After four Days beating, he fell in with Whalebone-Point in 64° . $56'$.— 9° . $6'$ East of Cchurchill; there he saw many black Whales, and several Islands North West of him, and a Headland made up of Islands South-west of him, which he called Cape Fullerton, in about 64° . $10'$; but to Westward saw no Land; here it flowed upon his Lead Line when at Anchor five Fathoms; he staid there three Days from the 9th to the 12th, sent Mr. Norton ashore in his Boat, who from the High Lands saw an open Sea to Southward
