The Somme Drive and Its Cost

From "Germany Strikes Roumania and Saves the Balkans," by Frank H. Simonds, in the American Review of Reviews for November, 1916. We may say, then, that the Somme offensive, now in its fourth month, is being pressed with greater vigor and more success than in the period following the first days. This is in strong contrast to the Verdun operation of the Germans, which never showed any great driving power after the first great rush in the last week of February.

"Works Both Ways"

The getting of two distinct values when purchasing one article, applies pretty generally in the field of merchandise. While most articles of this nature are intended for external use only, a notable exception is the famous Johnson's Anodyne Lintment. Powerful enough for every requirement of outside application when needed for sprains, strains, muscular rheumatism, all aches, pains, and sore throats, it is a wonderfully effective preparation for internal use in the cases of colds, coughs, sore throats, cramps, chills, etc., when necessary the lintment is rubbed on the neck and throat, and the heat of the body and healing qualities go direct to the seat of an inward trouble.

Anaemia—A case for Wincarnis

If you who are weak, anemic, nervous, or run-down could realize what a short course of Wincarnis would mean to you—you would not continue to suffer needlessly. You would get a bottle of Wincarnis at once and, from to-day, begin to derive the new health and new life that Wincarnis promotes. Remember that your health is your most valuable possession. Ill-health, apart from the misery it causes, deprives you of your rightful enjoyment and handicaps you in your daily duties. But good health—glorious, glowing health—can be yours if you take Wincarnis. Because it possesses a four-fold power in creating the health you need.

Now, turning to Austria, we have Russian official statements to show that 420,000 prisoners, almost all Austrian, have been taken in the east, while the Italians announce 80,000 prisoners since they began their Gorizia drive, all of them Austrian; and even the Roumanians count 15,000 prisoners, chiefly Austrian. We may say that Austria has lost 850,000 men by capture, her Trentino and Gorizia defeats cost her at least another 100,000, and her casualties, due to death and wounds in Gallia and Volhynia, must have amounted to 800,000. In sum Austria must have lost not fewer than 1,750,000 men since January 1. As against this stands the German statement that Russia has lost 1,000,000 in her offensive since June 1. As we set down 400,000 to the German score, we must put the remainder 600,000 against the Austrian. Italian losses in the same time must have been at least 150,000. The losses of Austria in battle with the Italians and Russians was thus 700,000, and the losses of the Russians and Italians combined equally large, but divided between two nations.

His latest Toronto speeches, criticizing the administration of the British War Office and the direction of troops on the field, caused his real friends to shake their heads in sorrow and regret. The end was not unexpected.
