WALK OF 25,000 MILES

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight H. Woolf will finish it at Portland, Me. — Mr. Woolf took it to Regain Health.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight H. Woolf of Kansas City, with their little car, horse and dog were in Boston last week headed for Portland, Me., when they reached that city they will have completed a walk of 25,000 miles.

"We did not set out on any wager or to seek money or adventure," said Mr. Woolf. "My physicians gave me the choice of staying outdoors or dying, and so I took the outdoor prescription. My folks gave me some money and my wife and I began our hike."

"We left Kansas City on May 2, 1910, and on Aug. 24, 1911, we were in Boston. The papers had a story then about us. Twice we have crossed the United States and we have walked from San Diego to Seattle on the Pacific Coast, and from Tampa, Fla., to Boston, on the Atlantic coast, twice.

"During our travels we met John Shepard, the dry goods merchant, four times, at different places. Once we met him at Springfield. The next time we saw him at Boston. Later on we ran across him when he had just come down from an aeroplane trip at Syracuse, and the last time we were entertained by him at Hemet, Calif."

"When we complete the trip at Portland we shall ship the horse and baggage to Kansas City, and we will follow later on a train. Then I shall take up some outdoor occupation."

Mr. Woolf is in fine health, and he has eleven boxes filled with notes and clippings about his trip. He has also a splendid collection of pictures taken all over the country.

MRS. DAVID SEARS AND SON ARE HERE AFTER WAR EXPERIENCE

Were in Vienna When Hostilities Were Begun—People There Not Violent as in Germany

After having been kept in Vienna for about four months, finally securing their liberty through the American consulate, which took over British interests after the outbreak of war, Mrs. Sears, wife of the late David Sears, for many years a resident of St. John, accompanied by her son, Richard, arrived in the city today. They are registered at the Royal Hotel.

The Austrians, they said today, were different from the Germans in their treatment of foreigners in fact they said they had been quite civilly treated by the authorities. Foreigners were not insulted as they had been in Germany for the feelings of the populace did not seem to be so intense. The newspapers in Vienna and other parts of Austria were filled with stories of German victories and the people were buoyed up with reports of successes. The news of Serbian conquests had caused much despondency. When they left Vienna there was every evidence of the country being at war but food prices had not been very greatly advanced and every effort was being made to create a feeling of confidence among the public.
