

PROMPT ACTION BY 10-YEAR-OLD SAVES 3 LIVES

Dinghy at Blue Rock, N. S., Upsets and Two Are Drowned

NEAR SHORE

Fatality Makes Total of 8 for Settlement, 6 Being on "Sylvia Mosher"

LUNenburg, N. S., Aug. 17.—Two young men were drowned and three others owe their lives to the prompt action of a ten-year-old boy, Elsworth Greek, who went to their assistance in a dory when their dinghy overturned at a point 50 yards from shore at Blue Rock, near here last night.

Fenton Morash had a group of four out for a trip in his motor boat, his eight-year-old nephew being one of the party. When they returned to the mooring buoy at 6 o'clock, all five entered a small dinghy being used as a tender. In some way it overturned. Fenton Weaver, 28, and Currie Greek, 28, set out at once to swim to shore, while the three others clung to the overturned boat.

SWIMMERS COLLAPSED

The two swimmers had not gone far before they collapsed in the water and disappeared. Morash's nephew and Henick, the fifth person in the party, shouted for help, and were answered by ten-year-old Elsworth who was dressing fish on a nearby wharf. He sprang into a dory and paddled to the overturned dinghy, where with great difficulty he managed to get the almost exhausted trio into the rescue boat. Morash was in a critical condition from swallowing salt water, but was said this morning to be out of danger. The bodies of the drowned men were recovered last evening.

The double drowning of last night made a total of eight young men of the Blue Rocks settlement to be lost in the past fortnight, six others having been members of the ill-fated Sylvia Mosher, Lunenburg fishing schooner, lost near Sable Island a week ago.

The death of David Conley occurred at a late hour last night after an illness extending over a period of about a year. He was for many years an employee in the C. N. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George Kearns, of this city, and Miss Bertha E., at home, and two sons, George E., of this city and Walter, of Winnipeg.

Mr. Conley was one of the outstanding rifle shots of the Dominion, winning not only on the local ranges but at Sussex and Ottawa. He joined the 62nd regiment in 1899, when only 16 years of age and continued a member of that corps until 1908, when he took his discharge. In 1908 he went with the regiment to Sussex and camped there while they were waiting for a call to go to the Northwest, which call, however, did not come.

He did his first shooting in 1871 and shot his first P. R. A. match in 1893. In 1921 he won the Governor General's medal at Sussex, and in 1924 he won the P. R. A. medal.

plants in this province, opened up a era of prosperity for his homeland, Lord Beaverbrook appealed, to his auditors to co-operate for the upbuilding of this important part in the Canadian confederation. His Lordship's remarks were made at a dinner given in his honor at the Club by Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., last night.

Others present were Sir Douglas Haas, Mayor White, W. D. Ross, Toronto, James G. Harrison, Dr. Murray McLaren, ex-M. P., John E. Moore, George McAvity, J. D. McKenna, Major General McLennan, H. P. Robinson, Hiebert Vroom, F. P. Starr, Lieut.-Col. Alex. McMillan and Harry Puddington. His Lordship also urged that immigration should be to the United Kingdom, rather than to the United States. The mother country needed the virile resourcefulness of Canadians, many of whom had achieved success in Great Britain. He emphasized his love for New Brunswick and his desire to assist in her development. His appeal to New Brunswick was that they unite to give full effect to the undertakings already under way, which cannot but influence for good the future of their province.

His Lordship's many benefactions in the foundation of scholarships and his thoughtfulness in enabling the teachers of this province to get a close up view of the Motherland were pointed out by several speakers of the evening. Lord Beaverbrook's success in Great Britain and the outstanding position he occupied as the "most prominent living New Brunswicker" was referred to with pardonable pride.

The function was a delightful one and His Lordship expressed his appreciation that Dr. Taylor's thoughtfulness had given him an opportunity of again meeting some of his former Saint John friends.

wer from the city and a spirit of co-operation.

Mayor White—"In other words you would like the city to give you the land."

Mr. Appleton—"We would like that, but hardly expect it."

Commissioner Wigmore—"The railway never gave the city any land." The Mayor said that this was a terminal point it might be regarded as obligatory on the railway to provide the necessary terminal facilities. There was no reason that he could see that the railway could not expropriate the land and proceed at once with the work.

Commissioner Frink pointed out that the city had the necessary power to sell the land if it so desired, but thought the best way would be for the railway to provide the necessary terminal facilities. There was no reason that he could see that the railway could not expropriate the land and proceed at once with the work.

AGREE TO PRICE

Commissioner Wigmore asked if the railway were still willing to pay the price never given the city any land. The Mayor said that this was a terminal point it might be regarded as obligatory on the railway to provide the necessary terminal facilities. There was no reason that he could see that the railway could not expropriate the land and proceed at once with the work.
